NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Healthy Pigs
 In an address at the outset of the Swine Demonstration Train, Dr. Lionel Stevenson, provincial zoologist, emphasized the importance of health in growing pigs. Healthy pigs, if properly fed, should be ready for market at from six to seven months of age. Pigs that did not reach market weight at this age were either improperly fed or were not healthy. Internal parasites were one of the common causes of unthrifty hogs, and the farmer should always be on the lookout for possible infection from internal parasites. Sanitation and cleanliness were essential in the hog industry. Common treatments were recommended which may be secured by writing the provincial zoologist, Dr. Lionel Stevenson, Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, Ont.

Time to Improve
 An appeal to farmers to improve their farms and livestock at this time, instead of simply marking time was made by E. K. Hampson, past president of the Ontario Experimental Union in a recent address: "The present is not a time for a negative type of farming. No progress can be made by that method. Probably never has there been a finer opportunity for improving herds with pure-bred foundation stock and field crops with pure seed. Labour is more plentiful and cheap than it has been for years. May not these factors be taken advantage of in making some improvements? Farming in Ontario will be the major industry for many years to come and we must adopt the long-term vision of it with faith and hope that better times will return."

Current Reports
 Fourteen young sows were sold from the Swine Demonstration Train at Shelbourne in Dufferin County.
 Many farmers in Halton County are endeavouring to secure men at this season of the year with the idea of employing them through the summer months if satisfied.
 More interest is being shown in Peel County in horses, owing to the low prices of farm products, and bidding at auction sales on horses is reported brisk.

Eggs have been selling on the Hagersville market in Haldimand County at 11c., 13c. and 15c. according to grade. Egg dealers report difficulty in disposing of the grade "extra," as there is apparently a 'cheap' complex in the mind of the consumer, causing him to buy a cheaper product.

Lincoln County reports that vegetable growers are getting their early cash crops started in greenhouses and there would appear to be at least the usual acreage of cabbage, lettuce and early tomatoes grown.
 Livestock in Middlesex are in better than average condition, most feeders having ample feed to carry them through the winter.
 There is increased interest manifest in the eradication of tuberculosis in Norfolk County judging by the number of enquiries and new entries under the accredited herd system.

In Wentworth there is a brisk demand for good work horses on farms at present and they are commanding an excellent price, first-class young horses selling from $100 to $175 each. Custom hatcheries look for an increased business in chicks for 1933.

There has been a movement in purebred livestock in Peterborough County, nine good young bulls having been purchased by farmers at prices around $50 each.

Livestock generally is thinner in Glenora than usual due to scarcity of feeds as most farmers have been feeding carefully.

In order to give service to the farmers of Renfrew County, custom seed-cleaning prices at the Renfrew plant are only about half what they were last year.

SALT
 A Canadian Industry
 By C. McEown

In 1866 a well was being drilled for oil at Goderich. Salt was incidentally discovered at a little less than a thousand feet down. This opened up a new industry in Canada. Successful wells were drilled at Seaforth, Clinton and Exeter. At the present time salt is being produced from wells at Kincardine, Goderich, Exeter, Sarnia, Courtright and Sandwich, the last well being the chief producer, with one of the most modern plants in the world. They produce such by-products as caustic soda, chlorine, ammonia and bleaching powder. The Ontario wells are the principal source of supply for Canada.
 The only other supply of importance is from the salt mine at Malaga, N. S., which was opened in 1918 and has steadily grown ever since. Some deposits in this neighborhood are known to be nearly 500 feet in thickness. Salt deposits exist at intervals between Moncton, N. B. and Sydney, C. B., following around the north coast of Nova Scotia. These deposits are especially needed in the Maritime Provinces on account of the great quantity used in the curing of fish.

Another deposit exists at Fort McMurray in Alberta, about 200 miles north of Edmonton. Some successful wells have been sunk there and salt actually distributed from that point, which is near the end of the railway. It seems strange that in this district and further north in the Mackenzie River basin salt was first discovered in Canada more than 100 years ago.

The Prairie Provinces are much in need of the development of this industry on account of the high freight rates through Canada on a low priced article. Salt springs are present in Manitoba west of Portage La Prairie and farther north along Winnipegosis and Dauphin Lakes. Also salt deposits exist in British Columbia about forty-five miles inland from Prince Rupert and at a number of places on Vancouver Island. At the present time the best point of distribution of undeveloped deposits would be from those in Manitoba to supply the western Provinces.

The methods of producing commercial salt are quite simple. The natural products are almost entirely free from foreign substances and settling and evaporation methods produce a good product from the brine that is pumped from the wells. The more speedy methods of evaporation produce finer salt, and it is graded by sifting it through different mesh screens. Rock salt from the mines is crushed and graded in a similar way.

In Canada we use about 100 bls. per capita per year. In 1928 Canadian manufacturers supplied a little over 60% of our total consumption. It is probable that less is being imported now than four years ago.

THE W.M.S. PLANS WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

Friday, March 3rd, chosen as the day when groups of women throughout the world will unite for prayer and meditation. The Interboard Committee of the Women's Missionary Societies have charge of the arrangements in Canada. The program which will be used in some form, by the Christian women of the world, was prepared by Mrs. C. C. Chen, who attended the Jerusalem Conference. She is a member of the executive committee of the National Christian Council of China. The theme of our service of worship, is found in the words of Jesus, if any man will come after me, let him take up his cross and "Follow Me." Arrangements are being made for gatherings throughout the County of York, and it is the earnest wish of the committee, that the women of the County will seek the House of God for worship in numbers greater than has ever been. There are also programs arranged for young women and girls. Mrs. J. S. Honey of Milliken is the convener for York County. Miss Bessie McMurchy, 122 South Drive, Toronto, is the treasurer to whom offerings are to be sent. These offerings are used to help interdenominational work.

Mr. Ford says money in future will be no more useful than stamps. Enough stamps, as you know, make an ysorry thing first class and take it anywhere.

A man isn't old until he begins to talk about the great ones who did their stuff after 45.
