CELEBRATED 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

"Happy is the bride the sun shines on" is an old adage that lost all of its meaning on Tuesday last when Mr. and Mrs. John Lunau of Unionville in spite of the April showers, held a happy celebration of their Golden Wedding. The house was tastefully decorated with lovely golden daffodils, that nodded approval on the festive occasion from every corner, as many guests called during the afternoon and evening to extend felicitations to the happy couple. Among the numerous gifts received was a delightful memento of this event presented by the Women's Institute, an artistic booklet symbolic of the occasion, designed by the President Mrs. G. R. Whaley, and lined with gold embossed paper that had been in possession of her grandmother. Accompanying the booklet was a gift. The best wishes of the organization being expressed in the following verses:

"We tried to get a gold piece,
For your Golden Wedding Day,
As that was quite impossible,
We take another way,
And send its humble relative,
Best wishes to convey,
May love and joy and happiness
Abide with you alway."

The presentation of this gift was made on behalf of the Institute by the President, Mrs. G. Whaley, and Vice-President, Mrs. E. E. Braithwaite. During the afternoon tea was served, Mrs. Jas. Galloway presiding at the tea table with Mrs. P. Lunau, Miss Cora Lunau assisted by Misses Ruby Lunau, Aileen Lunau and Audrey Lunau looking after the guests. Among the out-of-town guests were, Mrs. Maria Ogg, Locust Hill, who attended the wedding fifty years ago, Mrs. Clifford Avann, Mrs. Rachel Avann, Mrs. John Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hannan, George Bean, Mrs. Dr. Cole, Mrs. L. A. McClellan, Toronto, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. A. Duncan, Victoria Square, Mrs. W. Helmky, Stouffville, Rev. Austin E.
