

Old Timers Skating Revival Still Going Strong -- Next Skating Party Tuesday Night - The Committee in Charge as Seen by the Liberal Artist.

That the skating revival in this district was not just a passing fancy was proven last Thursday night when the second of the "Old Timers" parties was held and the attendance was just as good as the first night. There were several novelty and specialty numbers which provided interest and amusement for the skaters.

The third party was held Tuesday evening and the older folks were out again in force. The next one is Tuesday evening, Feb. 13th, the night before St. Valentine's day. If you haven't yet enjoyed the thrill of one of these "Old Timers Skating Parties" join the crowd at the Richmond Hill arena next Tuesday night. You will be made welcome and we can assure you that you will have a good time. The season will soon be over, so don't miss this opportunity. Take a look in the attic or cellar and get those skates out. You will be surprised how well they still glide along the ice. Meet all your old friends at the Skating Party at Richmond Hill next Tuesday evening. Good fun, good healthful exercise, good music and good fellowship.

WOODBIDGE DISTRICT NEWS

Late George Rowntree
George Rowntree, who died in Toronto last week, was born in Woodbridge fifty-nine years ago. He was a son of the late John Rowntree who for many years carried on a successful butcher business, and was a member of the first Village Council in 1882. The death of George Rowntree recalls to the mind of old residents the fact that George, as a lad, was the butcher boy who made regular calls on them and supplied them with their meat requirements. When little more than a boy he, with the rest of the family, moved to Toronto and later became associated with the Harris Abattoir Company and for many years was head buyer for the firm. Some years ago he purchased the 200 acre farm of the late Robert Somerville at Elder Mills, and later the 100 acre farm of the late John Smith also at Elder Mills which he operated successfully until his death.

Rev. J. H. Kidd, Rector of Christ Church, officiated at the burial services.

Hot coffee, sandwiches and cake were provided by the boys under the capable supervision of Messrs. Joe Weatherill, Harry Watt, Herb. Eastwood and George Kidd.

VICTORIA SQUARE

There's nothing quite to equal the frosty tang of winter air; we might add, to freeze your face and ears, eh, Harold?

There has been unusually good attendances at S. S., Church and Y.P.S. this year. Mr. Floyd Perkins gave a report of the evening session of the Sunday School convention last Sunday.

Y.P.S. was treated to an illustrated talk on the Pulp and Paper Industry in Canada last Sunday night. Owing to a misfortune with the lantern slides were shown under difficulties. Music was given by Harry Harper, Harry Lecuyer and Walter Hill and readings by Ruth Caseley and Marion Smith.

On Tuesday the J.W.I. had a special treat when Miss Eadie came out, braving the roads to visit us. Miss Reva Nichols gave an excellent two-minute talk and Miss Marion Smith sang a solo. The boys had a good attendance and we believe twenty of them decided they would like a care-free, good-natured sloop for a wife and thirteen in favour of a trim clean crank. Evidently the Square girls will have to look farther afield as we profess to strike the happy medium.

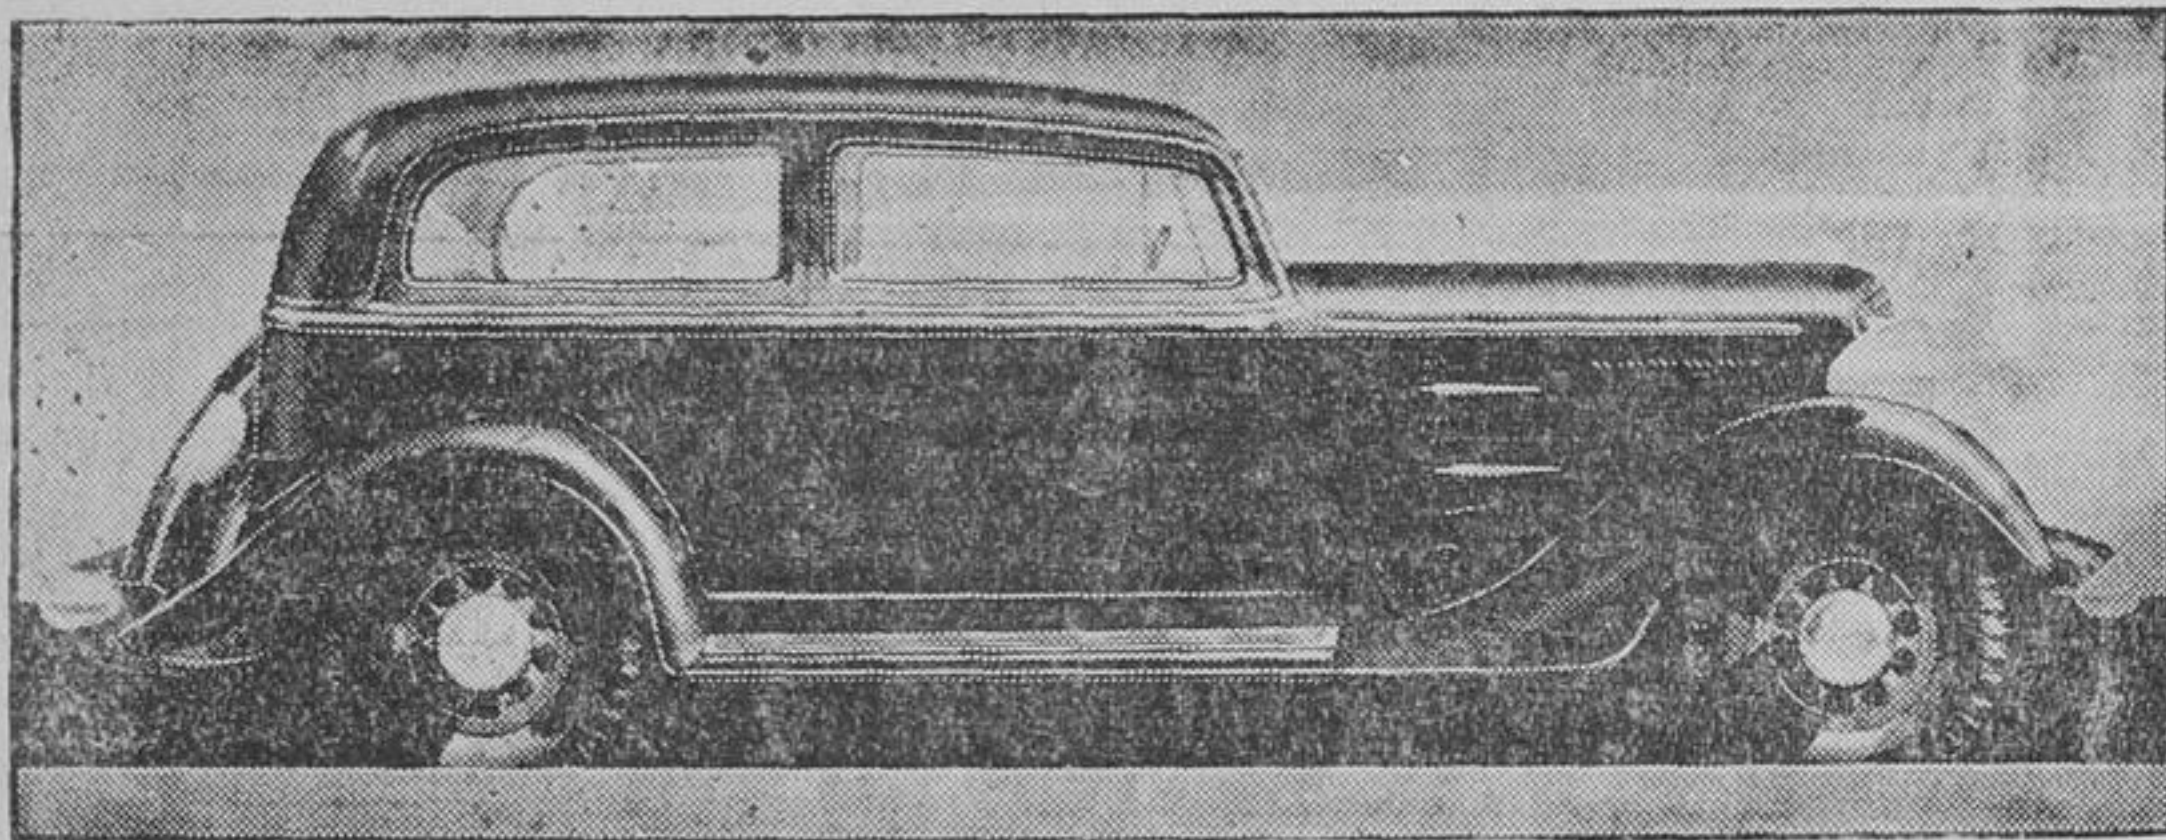

On Wednesday afternoon a good representation of the W.M.S. ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Avison. Mrs. Klinck and Miss Ethel Mortson gave reports on the Presbyterial in Toronto. Music was supplied by Mrs. R. Perkins and Mrs. H. McCague. Papers on the study book chapter were given by Reva Nichols, Mabel Sanderson, Ruby Avison and Ruth Caseley and this was in charge of Mrs. R. Boynton. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and the women emerged from the house brave in spirit to face a row of cranky cars.

On Friday night there is to be a preparatory service for the Sunday Sacramental Service. We hope to have with us Rev. G. E. Coulter and Rev. Halbert.

The Y.P.S. have planned a skating party to Richmond Hill arena on Saturday night, leaving the corner at 7:15 and returning to Mrs. Harold Mortson's for refreshments.

On Sunday evening the Y.P.S. are having their preliminary debate on the subject "Resolved that it the duty of the Christian citizen to oppose war under all circumstances." Come out and join in the discussion which is to follow the debate.

What is fame worth. It's 10 to 1 you can't recall the name of the champion corn shucker of 1933.
