THE CANADIAN NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND EXHIBIT CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION...

The talking book, one of the latest sensations in the world of the blind is now being demonstrated at the Exhibit of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in the Electrical and Engineering Building at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto. This year, for the first time, all the activities in which blind persons are engaged are being carried out on the premises, and every phase of the Institute's Canada-wide programme is included.

The National Library of the Institute which contains over 17,500 volumes is conducting a booth where Braille books are on view, and a Braille typewriter operated. The current issue of the monthly Braille magazine "The Courier" sent out by the National Library to all parts of Canada, is being produced, showing the process of Braille printing, followed by the stitching of leaves together.

Thirty-one blind persons are presenting some demonstration on home handicrafts, another turning out attractive dresses and aprons on one of the power driven machines used in the garment factories of the Institute located in Toronto and Winnipeg.

Rubber door mats made from old automobile tires are being manufactured in the booth representing the Western Division of the Institute (British Columbia and Alberta) and getting is one of the occupations found in the booth of the Newfoundland Division.

In between these two extremities comes the Central Western Division (Saskatchewan and Manitoba) where a blind man is carrying chairs, next a blind girl from the Quebec Division typing letters on a standard typewriter taking her dictation from the dictaphone, and a blind man in the Maritime Division booth (New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island) demonstrating the manufacture of willow signal cones used by the Dominion Meteorological Department for weather signalling on the sea coast.

The Industrial Placement Department arranged for a blind man employed in industry by a well-known sporting goods company to carry on with his regular job of stringing tennis racquets, another to fit spokes in joy cycle wheels, while a blind employee in one of the Motor Car Companies is demonstrating his job of stuffing cushions for automobiles and assembling control handles for car windows.

Games used by the blind such as Braille playing cards, checkers, etc., are on display as well as Braille watches, thermometers and other appliances. In this booth information can be obtained regarding the special privileges for blind people, such as radio services, street car passes, theatre passes, etc.

Institute factory work including the process of manufacturing Blindcraft brooms is fully demonstrated with one blind man sorting broom corn, another winding brooms and a third sewing and clipping them. Wicker furniture is being made and serviceable baskets take shape while they are being watched.

One of the special features of the Exhibit is the engaging group of dolls in the Prevention of Blindness booth portraying, with the assistance of artistically designed verses above them, the particular care that must be taken of the eyes at various stages of life.

Literature published by the Institute is available in a number of the booths, also cards for testing vision that may as well be used for telephone number memorandum, and Braille alphabet cards.

The complete structure, containing all the demonstration booths of the Institute, which is finished in red, black and cream, is constructed so that a general view of all the various activities can be seen from the main entrance, there being no high partitions between the different booths.

Members of the Toronto Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are conducting a special branch of their Blind Craft Shop and have also an Information booth most attractively furnished with wicker chairs, desk, ferns in fern pot-holders and flower baskets, all cleverly fashioned by the hands of blind workers. The furnishings of this booth are carried out in the cream, black and red of the entire Exhibit.

If you are visiting the Exhibition this year you shouldn't miss this intensely interesting and enlightening display. Remember the location, Electrical and Engineering Building, near the Prince's Gate.
