People Must Not Be Fooled By Bennett Promises This Time Declares Bill Mulock

BENNETT BETRAYED PEOPLE'S TRUST WITH LAVISH PROMISES IN 1930 AND NOW HE'S PROMISING MORE

Describing the Federal Marketing Act as one of the most remarkable laws ever placed on Canada's statutes, Hon. J. C. Elliott, former of the Mackenzie King cabinet, stated at Unionville last Friday night the Bennett government was fast setting up an absolute marketing bureaucracy. He was campaigning with J. C. McRuer, K. C., and Colonel Wm. Mulock on the latter's behalf as Liberal candidate in the North York federal by-election.

"According to the act, any farmer who produces vegetables, fruits, grains or any of the numerous articles under its control, may be compelled to join that board, pay fees, and make out government returns for everything he sells. If he grows gooseberries he must join a gooseberry board; plums, a plum board; livestock, a livestock board, and so on. "This board may not be overlooked by the farmer because if a representative number of people ask for a board he is to grow, what he is to sell, and if he wishes to export, where he may sell. As if he hadn't enough work to do in the summer time when work is particularly pressing he must sit down and make out a report for the government even though he only sells a few baskets of tomatoes.

"Now the government proposes to control the amount of goods you may grow and if you wish to export, where you may sell. A more complete bureaucracy has never been invented." This condition of affairs was a general one, Mr. Elliott claimed, the direct result of a policy of high tariff which had allowed evils to flourish which had been scarcely known before. "Only one thing has flourished in the past four years, and that is the national debt. Canada's increase in debt in the past four years is greater than the present total debt of Ontario."

Exploitation of the masses in the interests of high finance was the result of "Richard Bedford Bennett's return to power in the last election, according to James C. McRuer, K.C., Toronto. "The Conservatives indignantly denied when we said last election that if they were returned to power there would be exploitation. But they refused to table the report of the investigation into coal combines. In Quebec, where the people were closer to this, they rose up in indignation and as a result the attorney-general prosecuted and secured a conviction—and still Mr. Bennett refused to allow any of the report to become public.

"The government investigated tobacco combines, which were subsequently shown to exploit growers to the last nickel for big business. But all the sympathy they showed them was to conceal the information available to them. "When Hon. Justice Sedgewick was appointed chairman of the tariff board I congratulated the party on his appointment. But we find when he commences to use his sense of justice and hand down decisions the government said, 'You've got the wrong idea. You haven't got that authority.' As a result Mr. Sedgewick is really an ornament taking orders from the government."

The by-election in North York federal riding is not a popularity nor a personality contest, but a chance for the people to repudiate the reactionary Bennett policies. Hon. Harry Nixon, provincial secretary, declared at the large Liberal rally at Vandorf the same evening in support of Col. William Mulock, who denounced the Bennett administration in no uncertain terms.

"I don't think that the people are going to fall for another flock of promises. They are cured," Col. Bill Mulock told his enthusiastic supporters, recalling Premier R. B. Bennett's pre-election promises. "Unemployment insurance is a thing that has got to come in this country and come quickly," he asserted. "Mr. Bennett now promises to call the provinces together and discuss unemployment insurance. Another promise. He has had plenty of time to do it already." "Now they come to you and ask you to endorse Bennett's farm program. I suppose Bennett's farm program is what the farmers found out when they went to Ottawa to discuss their problems. He was too busy or couldn't see them. If you want that kind of support, vote for his supporter, because you will get more of it."

Quoting figures indicating how the exports of grains had fallen since Premier Bennett started to "blast his way" into the world's markets, he declared that more markets were needed rather than the abrogation of trade agreements and raising of tariffs. "You can't turn trade off and on like a hot water tap," the candidate stated. "You can turn it off all right. When Bennett goes out we have to go out and make friends with the countries that had the door slammed in their faces. In spite of his wild, rash promises, he hasn't even hed his own."

The farmer, he maintained, is being forced to lower and lower standards of living as the present regime heaps taxes on farm implements, necessities of life and raises tariffs. The sugar tax, Col. Mulock denounced as the most unjust tax ever imposed by a government of this country because it falls most severely on those least able to pay.

Hon. Mr. Nixon declared that the Bennett reactionary policies contributed in no small way to the upheavals and throwing out of Conservative governments from the Pacific to Atlantic coasts. "It is a tariff-mad government who are certainly out to protect their privileged friends," he asserted. "Vote so you will compel them to call a general election," urged Morgan Baker, M.P.P.
