Bennett Tax on Sugar Is Iniquitous and Unjust Delares Bill Mulock

Immediate removal of the sugar tax, which he described as "one of the most iniquitous and unjust taxes ever perpetrated on a long-suffering and courageous people," was advocated by Col. W. P. Mulock, Liberal standard-bearer in the North York federal by-election, when he addressed a packed meeting at Stouffville Saturday night. "Premier Bennett has betrayed the trust placed in him by the Canadian people, and every vote given to a Conservative candidate is endorsement of that deception," declared Hon. Ian Mackenzie, who spoke on behalf of Col. Mulock. Decline in Canada's trade with Italy, France, Japan and other countries was charged to the policies of Mr. Bennett by Morgan Baker, M.P.P. for North York.

"We are determined to give the people honest administration and seek to bring back that day when there will be work for every man," said Col. Mulock. "When we are willing to treat the mother country as she ought to be treated, then she will treat Canada as she has treated us in the past," he continued, condemning the high tariff policies of the Conservatives. "If we are going to hold up the mailed fist and attempt to dictate to other people, we can expect what we have to-day," he added.

Need Cheaper Money

Cheaper money is an urgent necessity in Canada, Col. Mulock went on. "We are paying interest on interest. The Bennett government has added $557,000,000 to the debt of Canada." Strongly supporting a system of unemployment insurance, Col. Mulock said it was time the government paid more attention to the needs of the workingman. "Bennett only succeeded in finding employment for high-salaried officials," he charged.

Warning against the granting of "unlimited powers" to boards under the Marketing Act of the Bennett government, Hon. Ian Mackenzie said that apple growers in Nova Scotia were already protesting against the powers of the board recently set up there.

The central bank, he said, should be publicly owned. "At present there is grave danger that the bankers will take control," he declared.

Says He Deceived

"I don't blame Mr. Bennett for world conditions. I blame him for wilfully and maliciously deceiving the people of Canada with his election promises," said Morgan Baker. "Mr. Bennett showed himself in his true colors," he continued, "when he refused to see the farmers who went to him at Ottawa."

"Vote for Mr. Mulock," he urged. "In him you will have a representative of whom you can be proud."

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario

minister of agriculture, also condemned the "trade strangulation policies" of the federal government.

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Killing The Flies

Most efforts to keep clear of stable flies have been restricted to spraying the flies on the cows. The suggestion is now made that the flies be fought in the stable as well. The idea is to spray while they are settled in the walls and ceiling. If this spraying is done in the early morning it will be more effective as the flies are then sluggish in their movements. Late afternoon is also a good time. Close the stable and spray with a fine mist that fills the air. One part of formalin in 19 parts of milk or sweetened water makes a good and cheap spray. The same mixture may be left around in plates for the flies to drink. Keeping all manure cleared away from the stable and yards will remove breeding places for the flies and reduce the nuisance. Where it is not convenient to move the manure to the fields, it should be kept in a screened shed.

Apple Output Down

Early varieties of apples, which account for approximately 25 per cent of the commercial crop in Ontario, yielded almost up to normal. The production of late varieties is most severely reduced due to winter-killing of most exceptional proportions and to frost damage at blossom time. The estimated commercial output of apples in Ontario is 320,600 barrels this year as compared with 1,068,700 barrels in 1933. Exports of apples from Ontario, which attained a record volume of more than 500,000 barrels last season, are not expected to exceed 75,000 barrels this season. Early apples were in good demand and prices received were considerably higher than for a number of years. Domestic prices of certain late varieties of apples may lift some of these varieties out of the potential export category, and in this event exports from Ontario may be considerably below 75,000 barrels.

Canadian Wool Clip

Canada uses about four million pounds of wool recovered from rags every year, in addition to her own domestic clip and imported supplies. The wool grown in Canada provides only about one-third of the requirements of the Canadian textile industry, so that the Dominion imports annually about eight million pounds of clean raw wool and twelve million pounds of yarn and other semi-manufacturers of wool. On the other hand, on an average about one-third of the wool grown in Canada is exported.

Points on Hog Feeding

The big thing for the hog feeder to keep in mind, according to the Dominion Animal Husbandman, is "the feeder needs the frame but the packer wants the finish," and the ideal type which sells as the "select" bacon hog must have both. Grow the frame first. Never feed more than pigs will clean up; overfeeding, particularly of heavy or unbalanced rations, causes unthriftiness which in turn is the common cause of short, thick pigs. For the first four months the pig should clean his trough and look for more.

Good Care Essential

The properly balanced ration accomplishes wonderful results when fed to stock that is rightly bred, well managed and correctly housed. Houses and equipment, such as brooders, feed hoppers, drinking pans, etc. that are sufficient to accommodate 100 chicks will not take care of 500. Satisfactory growth cannot be made under such conditions. Growing stock needs lots of feed; provide a good grain feed and a good growing mash in hoppers so the birds can get it. The condition of a carcass when it is marketed depends almost entirely on the way the bird is cared for up to the time it is killed. This means the way in which it is grown and the way it is fattened for market. A poorly grown bird will not take on weight satisfactorily; its digestive organs have not developed sufficiently to handle the more or less concentrated feed that is fed during the fattening period, nor does the bird have the vitality to stand up under this fattening process.

Current Crop Report

Frequent showers during the past two weeks in most parts of Ontario have freshened pastures and created good growing conditions for late crops which escaped frost injury. The rain has also materially assisted plowing and many farmers have already begun this fall operation. Sowing of fall wheat is now under way. Prospects for fall feed are still below normal and dairy cattle in some districts are being fed corn and other late fodder crops to supplement pasture. Generally speaking livestock are not in as good condition as usual owing to lack of feed. The early apple crop has been moving freely to the trade, with Duchess virtually cleaned out and Wealthies selling at fairly good prices. The yield of tomatoes will be light, but quality good. Some reports of excellent yields of grain are coming in from various counties.

Cutting of corn is under way and a good general harvest will assist to offset the shortage of other winter feed. Root crops promise an average yield, except sugar beets which will be 30 to 50% under normal. The apple crop will be one-third or more below average, while peaches are estimated at only one-half an average crop. Good weather is needed to complete the harvest of flue-cured tobacco, already greatly impaired by frost and hail.

Air and Stored Potatoes

Careless storing of wet potatoes is responsible for unnecessary annual losses. Potatoes ought to be stored dry in a cool, well-ventilated cellar which is perfectly dark. Piling potatoes in heaps in warm and poorly ventilated cellars creates the most favourable conditions for rotting. Before placing the potatoes in a cellar, wooden slats slightly apart should be nailed about six inches or more from the wall, and a temporary floor with cracks between the boards should be laid about six inches above the permanent floor. This will ensure air to circulate around and under the pile of potatoes. If it should so happen that the pile has to be very large, square ventilators made of wooden slats and running from top to bottom of the pile should be put in here and there. Together with the circulation of air at the sides and at the bottom of the pile, these ventilators will keep the potatoes in a much better condition than if they were in a solid pile. Another good plan is to keep the potatoes in large crates made with slats, the ventilation between the crates assisting very much in keeping the potatoes in good condition. The temperature of the store house or cellar should be kept as nearly 33 or 35 degrees F. as possible.
