

Richmond Hill and District Emergency Relief Committee

All citizens of the district are requested to assist in sending provisions and clothing to those in need in Western Canada. Many of our fellow Canadian citizens in the dried-out areas are in dire distress and it is on their behalf that this appeal is made to you.

The citizens of this district have been asked to send a carload of vegetables and serviceable clothing. Donations of potatoes, turnips, carrots, apples, etc., and good serviceable clothing will be received at the Cities Service Garage, Yonge Street, Richmond Hill, up to and including Tuesday, October 23rd.

No donation is too small and your assistance and co-operation will be appreciated by the committee.

AN AGED PROPHECY

While visiting at the home of his sister in Natural Dam recently, William Crossmen of Halesboro, found the following copy of a prophecy written by "Mother Shipton," born at Norfolk, England, and died at Clifton, Yorkshire, England, in 1449. So many of the prophecies noted in the article have been realized during the ensuing year of progress that it makes interesting reading. The prophecy is in the form of poetry and reads as follows: A carriage without a horse shall go Disaster fill the world with woe, In London's foremost hill shall be Its untree hold a Bishop's see. Around the world men's thoughts shall fly,

Quick as the twinkling of an eye, And the waters wonders do; How strange, and yet, it shall be true. Then upside down the world shall be And gold found at the root of a tree. Through towering hill proud man shall ride. No horse or colt move by his side. Beneath the waters, men shall walk, Shall ride, shall sleep, and even talk. And in the air, men shall be seen In white and black as well as green. The great man shall come and go, For prophecy declares it so. In water then iron there shall float As easy as a wooden boat. Gold shall be found in stream and stone,

In land that is as yet unknown. Water and fire shall wonders be And England shall admit a Jew The Jew that once was held in scorn Shall of a Christian then be born. A house of years shall come to pass. In England, but alas—alas. A war shall follow with the work Where dwells the pagan and the Turk. The state shall lack fiercest strife, And seek to take each other's life. The North shall then denounce the South,

For tax and blood and cruel war Shall come to every humble door. Three times shall lovely sunny France Be led to plan a bloody dance. Before the people shall be free Three tyrant rulers shall see Three rulers in succession be Each spring from different destiny. Then when the fiercest fight is done England and France shall be as one. The British, alive, next shall turn In marriage with the German men, Men shall walk beneath and o'er the stream Fulfillment shall be strange dream, All England's sons that plow the land Shall oft be seen with book in hand. The poor shall now most wisdom know And water winds when corn doth grow Great houses stand in far flung vale All covered over with snow and hail. And now a word in uncouth rhyme Of what shall be in future time. For in those far off wondrous days The women shall adopt a craze, To dress like men and trousers wear And cut off all their locks of hair. Then ride astride with brazen brow, As witches do a broomstick now. Then love shall die and marriage cease And nations move as babies decrease. The women shall fondle cats and dogs. In nineteen hundred and thirty-six, Build houses of light straw and bricks For then shall mighty war be planned And fire and sword shall sweep the land.

But those who live the century through In fear and trembling this shall do. Flee to the mountains and the den, To bogs and forests and wild pens, For storms shall rage and cannon roar, When Gabriel stands on sea and shore And as he blows his wondrous horn, The old world shall die and a new be born.

TIME TO LAUGH

An Englishman, according to legend gets three laughs from a joke—first, when the joke is told, second, when it is explained to him, and third, when he understands it.

The Frenchman gets only the first two—he never sees the point.

The American man gets one—he won't wait for the point.

And the American girl, of course, gets none at all, because she's heard the joke before.—Sour Owl.

See you at the Horticultural Banquet, Wednesday, Oct. 24th.

Man—My case has got the doctors guessing.

Friend—Why I thought you had a simple case of appendicitis?

THE IMPORTANCE OF CARING FOR YOUR FEET

YOUR FEET ARE THE FOUNDATION OF YOUR HEALTH

Neglect in the proper care of the feet, and wearing misfitted and poorly constructed footwear, has resulted in an alarming prevalence of foot troubles. Few people realize that, in addition to foot discomfort, many of the ailments from the hips up can be attributed to cramped and misplaced bones of the feet, causing undue pressure on blood vessels, stopping the free circulation of blood, and also on the nerve centres of the feet, which react throughout the entire nerve system of the body.
