VICTORIA SQUARE

The fine open weather of the last two weeks has speeded up farm work and fall plowing and other tasks are all well in hand.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Collard, Mrs. Ida Nichols and Rev. F. A. Gilbert were Sunday evening guests of Mrs. Chas. Smith.

We can hear the tinkle of wedding bells in the very near future.

The male quartette assisted at the anniversary services at Mt. Pisgah on Sunday evening.

There was a good attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the W.A. last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Chas. Smith. The address of the evening was given by Mrs. A. E. Buchanan. A reading by Miss Ruth Casely and a solo by Mrs. H. D. McCague completed a splendid program.

Several of the men and women of our community spent a busy day on Saturday. Several attractive flower beds were planted and a cistern installed.

Pleased to report little Evelyn Barber now out of danger and making favorable progress in the hospital in Toronto. Jerrold Freeland is also recovering in a satisfactory manner.

Several from here attended the fowl supper and concert at Mr. Pisgah last Friday night.

The ladies are busy preparing for the annual fowl supper which takes place on Nov. 7th. Program by Elsie McCluhan and other artists. Anniversary services on Sunday, Nov. 4th, at 2.30 and 7.30 p.m. See further details advertised elsewhere in this issue.

Don't forget the Hallowe'en party on Friday, Nov. 2nd, in the Community Hall. Progressive crokinola and euchre. Lunch served. Under the auspices of the Junior Farmers.

Parenthood

By A. Lead

Seems like this here business of bein' a parent is becomin' just a little more complicated every day.

Time was when dad was high priest of the whole household, when his word was law and he backed up the law with a birch rod; and when he had occasion to use this here rod on an offender it left welts on a guy's backside that showed up like the wrinkles on a prize bull's neck.

But it's gettin' to be different now-a-days. Dad is just the old boy who drags in the groceries and hands out the dole.

About the only time that Willie condescends to ask dad anything these here days is when he comes down all dolled up and asks, "Did you condition the car, dad, and fill her up with gas and oil?" And then he holds out his hand horizontal—a indication for dad's blessing in coin.

And how about sister Jane? Dad gets a fletin' glance at her as she glides past and concludes from what he sees that Jane must have been in a awful hurry and just couldn't spare the time to dress.

She bangs the door as she flits out, steps into a waitin' fliver and roars away without even a backward look at mother who stands wonderin', "Will Jane be back in time to wash for breakfast?"

In does beat all the advice a youngster can give a old feller these days.

Wisdom used to come to a guy through a long, tedious and sometimes painful experience, but now a days youngsters cut their wisdom teeth before they are born.

They know more about the things that's none of their business than the old folks did at fifty, when they should have known 'em, but didn't.

When a feller gets to thinkin' about dad's recent flop from high priest to jester, he can't help but wonder how old was this here guy Methuselah before he knew what made a egg hatch.

Times do change and that's the heck of it. The old folks made their home inside the shelter belt and took root, while the kids want to grow up out in the wind, the rain and the sunshine, live on skids and slide with the times. The old folks, like the Republicans, believe in stickin' to the rut of experience, while the kids take to experimentin' like the Democrats, and you can't expect oldsters and youngsters to play in G any more than you expect these old parties to gee.

Anyhow, the kids of to-day will be the old folks of to-morrow, and when they do finally sit down to thumb over the pages of their past, they're goin' to wonder just the same why their kids are different from 'em, cause by that time our grandchildren will all be nudist.

But no matter what they think or how they feel, they're goin' to express one great truth when they say, "After all, dad's greatest sin was bein' too good."

Why make the rich pay all the taxes? Well, nobody has yet found a way to get money except from those who have some.

So punishment reforms men? Well, when was a vagrant less a vagrant after serving a week in jail?

Correct this sentence: "All I ask," said the co-ed, "is the kind of husband an imperfect girl deserves."

When a girl finds that she is not the only pebble on the beach, she becomes a little bolder.

"The only time I've had any peace since my marriage," she said, "was the interm between when I murdered my husband and the police arrived."

NEWTONBROOK

Despite the inclement weather last Sunday the anniversary services of the United Church were very successful. Very inspiring sermons were preached at both services. Rev. A. M. Dallas, B.A. of Dentonia Park United Church, Toronto, was the special speaker at the morning service assisted by the pastor, Rev. A. H. Halbert. The evening service was in charge of Rev. C. W. Follett of Riverdale United Church, Toronto. The church decorations were beautiful golden and bronze mums arranged very artistically in two standards at each side of the altar. The choir under the leadership of Mr. N. McMullen sang very suitable anthems.

A Mission Band Rally will be held in Newtonbrook United Church next Saturday at 2.30 p.m., taking in all Mission Bands in this district. A splendid program is to be given followed by refreshments.

A sad gloom was cast over this community last Monday morning when it was known that Mrs. A. W. Galbraith had passed away after a lingering illness. Deepest sympathy is extended to the sorrowing husband and friends. An only son, Gordon, predeceased her five years ago.

Elise, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wells, was rushed to St. Michaels Hospital last Monday morning for an operation for appendicitis. She is doing as well as can be expected.

Miss Dorothy Cochrane of Toronto and Rev. C. W. and Mrs. Follett were guests at the parsonage last Sunday.

Miss Hazel Carson, Miss Velma Carson and Mr. G. Mortson attended the anniversary services last Sunday and were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith.

Miss Mabel Gospel of Pemberton Ave. has returned home from Victoria Memorial Hospital and is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

The Young People's Society will meet next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The president, Mr. W. T. New, has made extensive plans for the winter's activities. An invitation is extended to the young people of the community to attend the regular meetings of the Y.P.S. every Monday evening.

The Missionary and Maintenance Institute of this part of the Toronto Centre Presbytery will meet in the Newtonbrook United Church next Thursday, Nov. 1st. The afternoon session to commence at 3 o'clock. There will be a supper meeting followed by an evening session.

Newtonbrook United Church choir is invited to sing at Oriole Harvest Home Service next Sunday.

Rev. A. H. and Mrs. Halbert attended the funeral of Mr. R. B. Richards at King City last Tuesday afternoon.

The Provincial Sunday School Convention will be held in St. Andrew's United Church, Orangeville, on Tuesday, Nov. 6th. Sunday School representatives from this district are requested to attend.

Mrs. Snapper—How did you know I was here?

Mrs. Rapper—I saw my umbrella in the hall.

MIGHTY MONARCH OF THE AIR

Majestic RADIO

THE finest short-wave reception at a minimum of cost, in this new, long and short-wave Majestic—truly a Mighty Monarch of the Air. London, Berlin, Melbourne, Petrograd, all the new places you've wanted to see—all the new entertainment you've wanted to hear—are within the range of this powerful globe-girdler—plus the beauty of Majestic's rare, colorful tone. The famous, guaranteed Spray Shield tubes mean new enjoyment, either at home or abroad, for Spray Shielding has eliminated the metal shielding can. Eight-tube performance in a six-tube radio. Tuning is simplified with the aeroplane type dial—visual wave band selector—two speed tuning—the visual volume and tone controls. The new auditorium type speaker is a perfect medium for the finer reproduction of Majestic's colorful tone. Don't fail to see and hear this great Mighty Monarch of the Air.
