NEWTONBROOK

Remembrance Day services will be held in the Newtonbrook United Church next Sunday, Nov. 11th. Branch 66 Canadian Legion will parade to the church for the morning service at 11 o'clock and will occupy the centre seats. The pastor, Rev. A. H. Halbert, will be in charge of the service. Special music by the choir. A solo "In Flanders Fields" will be sung by Mrs. Earl Bales. A hearty welcome to all.

The evening service next Sunday will be in charge of the Young People's Society. There theme will be "Peace." An address will be given by the Y.P.S. President, Mr. W. T. New, who served in the Great War. A cordial invitation is extended to all the young people in the community to attend this service.

Mr. George Street returned home last week from a trip to the Canadian West and reports a splendid trip and a good time.

Miss Mary Douglas entertained her Sunday School Class of little girls last Saturday at her home.

A fine collection of vegetables was shipped last week to the needy families in Western Canada from Newtonbrook United Church.

Misses Case left here last week to spend the winter in Toronto.

Mrs. Richards of Victoria, B. C., Miss Alda Ruthven and Mrs. Williams of Alliston were guests at the parsonage last Wednesday.

Mr. W. Coombs of Otonabee Ave. was taken to Grace Hospital last week where he underwent a major operation. He is making very good recovery.

The Sunday School executive is holding a meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of the Sunday School Superintendent, Mr. A. W. Galbraith, to make plans for the annual Christmas entertainment.

Little Elise Wells returned home from St. Michael's Hospital last week and is making a fine recovery.

A number of folk from here accompanied the choir to the anniversary services at Victoria Square last Sunday.

A Missionary Rally was held in Newtonbrook United Church last Thursday with afternoon and evening sessions. Rev. A. M. Partridge of Maple conducted the devotional exercises in the afternoon. Rev. G. W. Lynd of Aurora, chairman of Toronto Centre Presbytery, presided at both sessions. Very worthwhile addresses were given by Rev. E. E. Pugsley of Thornhill, Rev. Coulter of Richmond Hill and Mr. Bassett of Aurora followed by a discussion. Rev. W. J. Johnson of Toronto also took part in the program.

Dr. T. W. Neal of Toronto addressed the supper meeting which was very much appreciated. Dr. W. S. Gilchrist of Angola, West Africa, was the special speaker at the evening session. His address was illustrated by beautiful lantern slides and was most interesting, showing the great work the United Church is doing in that district. He has among his patients a number of lepers who come for treatment and many are entirely cured of this loathsome disease after two or three years treatment. His assistants in the medical work are Africans who make very efficient nurses and helpers.

Dr. Gilchrist is home on his first furlough and expects to return to Africa next year. His former home was in Picton, Nova Scotia. The evening meeting was a most interesting one.

The Women's Association meets today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. F. Summers.

Among those who attended the Provincial Sunday School Convention in Orangeville last Tuesday from Newtonbrook United Church were, Miss Edna Street, Miss Cora Good, Miss E. Hope, Mrs. F. Summers, Rev. A. H. and Mrs. Halbert and Mr. W. T. Wells. Two conventions were held in the Province of Ontario at Blockville and Orangeville.

An afternoon tea was held under the auspices of the Red Cross Society last Friday at the home of the President, Mrs. Carson of York Mills. The proceeds amounted to $75.00.

The Y.P.S. met last Monday evening with the 1st Vice-President, Miss Irene Smith, presiding, who led in the devotional exercises assisted by Mr. Irwin Brown. The theme of the meeting was "Friendship with Jesus." A solo was sung by Mrs. A. Wiltshire which was very suitable. The Y.P.S. Study Book "Transforming Friendship" was reviewed by Miss Cora Good and Miss Margaret Shaw. The story of the hymn What a friend we have in Jesus written by Joseph Scriven was told in a most interesting way by Miss Irene Smith and afterwards sung by the young people. Each member responded with a Scripture verse to the Roll Call. The President, Mr. New, took charge of the business period. An executive meeting was held after the meeting to arrange for the young people's service next Sunday night. There was a splendid attendance present.

KING CITY

Well, Hallowe'en is over for another year. The children certainly received much candy, oranges, apples and nuts while calling on their friends.

The Village of King was again on the map on Wednesday evening when two Orillia youths with a stolen car crashed into the railing at the corner, the car landing straddle of the railway tracks. Jumping out of the car they tried to make their escape through the property of Mrs. G. H. Stone. Mr. G. S. Stone hearing a commotion in the yard and believing them to be Hallowe'en boys playing pranks, took chase, catching them in his garden but finding them to be strangers led them over to the wreck and handed them over to the justice of the peace, Mr. Frank Egan. Constable S. Barraclough was summoned and they were taken to the Langstaff jail farm for the night. The youths were both given 1 year at Guelph.

A great many attended the sale of Mr. Donald Browns on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. George S. Stone and Mr. Geo. D. Paton left on Saturday with a number from Toronto for the hunting season in the North.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crossley and family of Kapuskasing arrived in this community last week to spend the winter.

Congratulations to Mrs. Mason who celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday on Saturday. Mrs. Gey and Mrs. Wilson had a dinner for her on Sunday to celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Teho of Lefroy spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carson.

Miss Hazel Hambly has been supplying for a teacher who is ill in Newmarket the past week.

Mrs. R. Badger of Toronto has been visiting relatives and friends in the community this week.

Mr. James Cochrane spent a few days in Buffalo last week.

A dance with Art West's Orchestra in attendance is to be held in McDonald and Wells Hall on Saturday evening.

The Late Mrs. D. Blough
The funeral of the late Mrs. David Blough was conducted from the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Burns, of Beeton to King United Church on Thursday afternoon. Service was conducted by Rev. Davis. Deceased has been confined to herbed for over a year. Mrs. Blough, who was eighty six years of age, has lived mostly all her life in this community. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Thomas of Los Angeles and Mrs. J. Burns of Beeton. Her husband predeceased her twenty-three years ago and also two daughters, Mrs. W. Glass of King and Mrs. Lloyd of North Dakota. Interment was conducted to King cemetery.

The Late Mr. John Cain
The funeral of the late Mr. J. Cain of the fifth line of King took place a week Monday morning to the fifth-line Roman Catholic Church. Mr. Cain had been seriously ill the past few weeks and passed away on Saturday morning. Deepest sympathy is extended to his widow and family.

The Late Mr. Eli Hollinshead
Another of the older life long citizens passed away after a lingering illness on Thursday morning. Mr. Hollinshead, who has been suffering with cancer for the past year has lived all his life in this community. The funeral took place from his home at Kinghorn on Monday afternoon and was largely attended by friends and relatives. Rev. Wrixon had charge of the service. Interment was made in King cemetery. Surviving are his widow, one daughter of Ottawa, three sons Ernest Roy and Harold all of Kinghorn. Deepest sympathy is given to the family and relatives.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA
PNEUMOTHORAX

When tuberculosis is diagnosed, what is a patient to do? The answer to this question is REST. This is what the doctor will tell him to do, because everyone will agree that in the treatment of tuberculosis, the most important point is rest, physical and mental.

In tuberculosis, the lung is diseased and through rest the activity of the lung is diminished and so the healing forces are given a better chance to arrest the disease process, halt the progress of the disease, and bring about a cure.

At birth, air first enters the lungs when breathing begins. This air, which is at atmospheric pressure, causes the lungs to expand, filling the chest cavity. Owing to their elasticity, the lungs tend to contract against the atmospheric pressure, and this creates a slight negative pressure or suction in the chest cavity outside of the lung itself.

Between the lung and the chest wall there is the pleura, a smooth covering of two layers, the larger one of which covers the lung, and the other, the inner side of the chest wall. In the act of breathing, these two coverings glide the one over the other.

Within recent years, artificial pneumothorax has been used to place a diseased lung at complete rest, in order to increase the chance of healing. This is accomplished by introducing air into the pleural cavity, the space between the two coverings or layers of pleura. The introduction of air into the pleural cavity reduces the negative pressure that is normal in that cavity and so equalizes the pressure that is exerted on the lungs from within and without. The result is that the lung collapses and is at rest.

Not all patients require pneumothorax, nor are all cases suitable for such treatment. For those cases which are selected after proper examinations and studies, there is no doubt that this form of treatment has revolutionized the outlook. The treatment must be maintained by injections of air for months and possibly years. This does not mean that any less care is to be given as regards the other points of treatment. It does mean, however, that much can be done for cases that were considered hopeless; it speeds up recovery in many cases, lessens the chance of spread to the other lung, reduces sputum and so minimizes the chance of spreading the disease and, altogether, represents a great advance in the treatment of a disease which is still one of the most common and persistent enemies of mankind.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

O, To Be Used by the Master
O, to be used by the Master,
To help him lead some soul,
Lost in a maze of doubtings,
Straight to the Heavenly goal.

Many poor souls are drifting,
Out on life's stormy tide:
O, if I could but guide them,
To the feet of the crucified.

But if such noble service
For Him, should not be mine,
Then in my little corner,
I must let my beacon shine.

I may cheer some soul that's lonely,
Comfort some sorrowing one,
May speak some word of courage,
Where hope had nearly gone.

Thus may the Master use me,
For any task He will;
So I'll listen 'mid the silence,
And seek to know His will.

—Maude Fox.
