A. J. HUME, Treasurer Richmond Hill, November 14th, 1934

Municipality of the VILLAGE of RICHMOND HILL, County of York
CLERK'S NOTICE OF FIRST POSTING OF

Voters' List 1934

NOTICE is hereby given that I have complied with section 9 of the Voters' List Act and that I have posted up at my office, Richmond Hill on the 15th day of November 1934 the list of all persons entitled to vote in the said Municipality for members of Parliament (or as the case may be at Municipal elections) and that such list remains there for inspection.

And I hereby call upon all voters to take immediate proceedings to correct any errors or omissions corrected according to law, the last day for appeal being December 9th.

DATED this 15th day of November. A. J. HUME, Clerk of Richmond Hill

WHO WON THE BET?

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said steering a ship was far easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten. "Macpherson," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!" "That's all right," replied the engineer; "ye needna bother — we're a-ground."

NEWTONBROOK

Following its parade, headed by the Richmond Hill Trumpet Band, Branch 66 Canadian Legion, in a large body which filled the centre seats of Newtonbrook United Church held their Remembrance Day Service last Sunday morning, with the pastor Rev. A. H. Halbert in charge. Every available seat was taken in the church and chairs had to be placed in the aisles to accommodate the congregation. Immediately after the opening hymn and prayer a bugler sounded the last post. This was followed by a two minutes silence and the Reveille. The choir sang two anthems "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and "Lest We Forget." Mrs. Earl Bales sang a solo "In Flanders Fields." The pastors subject was "The way to Peace." He said "Armistice Day should be a day of consecration to cause of world peace and annihilation of war. Peace will only come when the religion of Jesus takes possession of heart and soul." Two beautiful bouquets of chrysanthemums were placed in loving memory under the bronze tablets of Pte. Elsworth, A. Chapman, C.E.F. who was killed in action at Passchendale, Nov. 1st, 1917; also Serg. Rev. A. Caton Jourdan (son of the late Rev. A. J. Jourdan, a former pastor at Newtonbrook) and who was killed in action in Beaucourt in Santene France in 1918. The Roll of Honor being in front of the altar. The service throughout was very impressive and at the close, the standard bearers carrying the Union Jack led the procession of the Legion.

The evening service was taken entirely by the Young People's Society. The program prepared by the Toronto Young People's Council was carried out, Miss Cora Good read the scripture lesson and Miss Gladys Sutterly offered prayer. The address was very ably given by the president Mr. W. T. New, who gave his service in the Great War. It was followed by four lantern slides showing the folly of war. The first was "The slaying of the innocent." It showed a soldier trying to pacify a tiny child whose head was injured and whose mother had been killed by a bullet. The second picture "The Brotherhood of Man in spite of War." Two German soldiers giving assistance to a Canadian soldier who was critically wounded. The third showed the Canadian cemetery in France where thousands of crosses marked the graves of our young Canadian soldiers. While this picture was on the screen, Miss Margaret Shaw recited the poem "In Flanders Fields the Poppies Grow."

The fourth slide was a Wayside Shrine near Lens "Christ on the Cross" and two Canadian soldiers viewing it. The theme of the Young People's service was "Consecration." It was carried out in a most capable manner and was the best they have conducted for a long time.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet next Tuesday at 2.30 p. m. in the Sunday School room of the United Church.

The North York Horticultural Society held a very successful banquet in Earl Haig Collegiate Institute last Friday evening and was largely attended.

Mrs. F. Summers entertained the Women's Association at her home last Thursday afternoon. It was decided to hold a Christmas Bazaar, afternoon tea and rummage sale on Thursday, December 6th. Keep this date in mind.

Miss Janet Riddell, Missionary convener, was in charge of the Y.P.S. meeting last Monday evening and which was largely attended. Miss Doris VanLoven and Miss J. Riddell gave a very splendid report of the Y.P. school at Thornhill in the department they represented. An interesting discussion followed on "Why should Young People be concerned about Canada being Christian? and why should Christianity be a World Religion?" A Missionary solo was rendered by Mr. George Street. Miss Riddell has planned a Missionary play for her next meeting on Dec. 10.

The Sunday school executive of Newtonbrook United Church met at the home of Mr. A. W. Galbraith last Wednesday evening. It was decided to hold the annual Christmas Tree and entertainment on Wednesday, December 19th.

Miss Cora Good spent last week with her sister Mrs. Leslie Oldham at Mount Albert.

The funeral of Mr. Hamilton B. Wills took place from his residence "Shadow Brook", Finches Ave. to Necropolis Cemetery last Monday afternoon. Mr. Wills was a former mining broker, sportsman and promoter of mining developments in Northern Ontario. Failing health compelled him to retire in 1924 and he has since lived retired at his country estate. He is survived by his wife and two sons, R. Dean Wills and Carroll D. Wills.

We are pleased to see Mrs. Fred Danby able to be about again after a long illness.

A number from here attended the fowl supper at Victoria Square last Wednesday evening.

The Sunday School meets at 10 a.m. every Sunday. The adults will be welcomed in the Bible Class. Worship services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Next Sunday evening the service in the United Church will take the form of a Gospel song service. There will be solos, duets, quartets, cornet solos and congregational singing. The story of some hymns will be told by the pastor.

HOW BEST TO TEACH MANNERS

Once more a leading educator deplores the lack of politeness among young people. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, speaking at the opening services of his own institution, wonders "why it is that youth can come to full adolescent years with no apparent appreciation of the difference between good manners and their opposite."

Some blame parents, who, strangely enough, may be persons of known courtesy, liked and admired for their urbanity. In another part of Dr. Butler's address may be found a parallel which may throw some light on the subject, in which he distinguishes between attending college and getting an education. It is one thing to be forced to memorize rules of courtesy and quite another to have those rules so firmly imbedded that politeness becomes an instinctive act.

Certain educators favor college courses in manners and decry the "school of discourtesy" taught by "heavy" characters in films. They may be on the right track, but a woman whose children are models of thoughtful considerations has perhaps found a better way. "I taught my boy and two girls to be unselfish," she explains. "Courtesy is only a by-product of that teaching." A wholly unselfish person could not be discourteous even if ignorant of rules.

Teacher asked her class if they could compose a rhyme using the word "Nellie." Johnnie Jones, being called upon, arose much embarrassed "There was a pretty little girl named Nellie, who fell in the water and wet her little feet." "Why, Johnnie, that doesn't rhyme." "I know it doesn't. The water wasn't deep enough."
