King Winter seems to have arrived at last. But there is not enough snow to suit the kiddies, but skating is the order of our rather busy evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson and family of Toronto were Sunday guests of the Sanderson family.

There was a splendid attendance at the executive meeting of the Y.P.S. held at the home of the President, Miss Laura Gee. Several important items of business were dealt with and the convenors chose their helpers. At the close the hostess served a very tempting lunch.

A short set of slides on "Scenes of the birth of Christ" were an added feature at a well attended session of the Sunday School on Sunday.

Christmas concerts are again in the limelight. Miss Holden's, No. 6, on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 20th; Mr. Mortson's No. 12 on Thursday 20th at 8 p.m.; Mr. Nichols No. 7 on Friday afternoon, 21st.

A special Christmas program featured Y.P.S. on Sunday evening. A short set of Christmas slides. A carol service. A solo by Marion Smith and readings by Bessie Valliere and Dorothy Oliver were interesting items on the program. A watch night service is being planned for New Year's Eve. Watch for further notice.

Don't forget the annual Christmas Tree of the Sunday School on Christmas Eve in the Community Hall.

Christmas shopping is a popular pastime at the time of going to press. Christmas, unlike prosperity, is "just around the corner."

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. E. Caseley on Wednesday evening last. Mrs. H. F. Collard gave the address. A reading by Mrs. Murray Avison and an instrumental by Miss Laura Gee were features of the program. Rev. F. A. Gilbert presided at the election of officers. The following were elected: President, Mrs. P. Willows; Vice-President, Mrs. H. F. Collard; Secretary, Miss Mabel Sanderson; Treasurer, Mrs. G. Dennis; Convenor of Devotional Committee, Mrs. Klinck; Convenor of Flower Committee, Mrs. E. Boynton; Convenor of Visiting Committee, Laura Gee; Convenor of Grounds Committee, Miss B. Hagerman; Convenor of Social Committee, Lulu Beatty; Pianist, Mrs. R. Nichols; Assistant, Mrs. H. B. McCague; Auditors, Mrs. Murray Avison and Dorothy Valliere.

The Caroline Jubilee Singers who were well received at the United Church last February are returning again on January 7th. Appreciation of the work.

The officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Wm. Windas; Vice-President, Mrs. Elmer Hadwen; Treasurer, Mrs. Ed. Kyle; Secretary, Mrs. Lewis Hadwen; Flower and Sick Committee, Mrs. Elmer Hadwen and Mrs. Ed. Bowen; Pianist, Mrs. Wilfred Williamson.

GREETINGS

We will do our utmost to reciprocate by always supplying you with seasonable goods at real prices.

Wishing you all, our helpers, customers and competitors A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

The Young People's Society held their meeting on Sunday night in the basement, with Annie Walker in the chair. Roy Bowen read the scripture, afterwards Margaret Oliver read the worship period. Hattie Diesman sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Wilfred Williamson. The topic was taken by Hattie Diesman. After the business the meeting closed with league benediction.

A large shower of "White Gifts" were brought on Sunday. We are sure they will brighten some little children's Christmas.

Mr. George Robson of Newtonbrook spent Sunday in the vicinity of Teston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bowen attended the service at Laskay United Church on Sunday evening.

Friends of Mrs. Frank Percy, who has been ill for some time, wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. Ed. Marwood, who was operated on for appendicitis a week or so ago, is still in bed. Friends in this vicinity hope he will soon be around again. Don't forget Sunday School next Sunday commencing at 10 o'clock sharp, then Church at 11 o'clock.

CHOOSING AND CARVING THE CHRISTMAS TURKEY

One could scarcely expect to find a different kind of turkey to grace the festive board on Christmas Day, but perhaps the family will appreciate a change in the stuffing. The experienced housewife has learned that there is a difference in turkeys as far as being palatable, and many points need to be considered in the selection of the bird. It is well to choose the turkey at least a week before it is needed for consumption.

It is easy to pick out the young bird by its smooth, black legs, moist and supple feet and eyes that are clear and free of scaly surroundings. The hen bird is, as a rule, more plump and tender than the male bird. On a young bird the spurs are short and stumpy. On an old bird they are long and gain in sharpness as the age increases.

Perhaps the Christmas host whose privilege it will be to carve the turkey needs his memory freshened up a bit. It's surely an art any man may be proud of to neatly and skillfully carve a roasted bird.

The plating of the turkey on the table is important. The head should be toward the left hand of the carver. This brings the drum-sticks to the right and the side of the bird directly in front of the carver.

Insert the fork firmly over the breast bone at the highest point. Do not remove the fork until the carving is done.

First remove the whole leg, thigh and drumstick in one piece. To do this make a circular cut around the joint close to the body. With the blade of the knife press the leg and back and cut through the ligament holding the thigh bone to the back.

A quick twist of the knife easily severs the joint. However, if you want to, it's perfectly "proper" to hold the end of the drumstick covered with a paper frill firmly with the fingers of the left hand. Then a quick gash of the skin between the body and the thigh, a little tweek with the fingers and a downward cut with the knife and the leg is neatly and expeditiously carved. The two joints of the leg repose on the platter while the wing is severed and the breast carved.

Next remove the wing by making a circular cut around the joint and pressing back with the knife just as the leg was done. However, the fingers cannot be used for the wing. Care should be taken not to cut any of the white meat of the breast with the wing. Place the wing on the platter.

Now, with the fork still in position, cut thin slices lengthwise from the breast, beginning close to the place which the wing was removed and working up the ridge of the breast bone. Now remove the fork and separate the drumstick from the second joint. The dark meat on the thigh and drumstick should be divided into small inviting portions. The wing is divided in two parts. The stuffing is taken out from the tail end of the bird with a large serving spoon.
