GENERAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Richmond Hill annual Street Dance
Wednesday, August 21st.

This is an annual event which has steadily grown in popularity from year to year and attracts record crowds Richmond Hill Street Dance is known throughout central Ontario as one of the biggest events of its kind. A larger crowd than ever is expected this year as street dances are not as numerous as a few years ago.

"Rusty" White was a visitor in town over the week end. "Rusty" says that the Fergus Thistles are now out of the slump and from now on are going places and going to do things in the senior lacrosse race. Two new recruits have been signed up and the team considerably strengthened, he said.

At the annual convention of the C. W.N.A. in Toronto last week we met and talked with newspaper publishers from all parts of Canada, and the general consensus of opinion is that there is no doubt about the outcome of the coming federal elections. It is generally conceded that Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King will be Canada's next Prime Minister with a very substantial majority. The reception of the Stevens branch of the conservative party has not been as enthusiastic as was at first expected according to our fellow editors.

A campaign for a metropolitan area comprising the city of Toronto and the suburban municipalities has been launched this week by York board of trade, which is seeking to consolidate all the forces in the various suburban municipalities which favor such an area.

James P. Andrews, secretary-manager of the York board of trade, yesterday sent out invitations to all municipalities concerned to support the scheme actively and to join in a united appeal to the provincial government to take action now.

Possibility that a campaign against slot machines will be waged by the City Council was seen when a move to have such equipment licensed received momentum through recommendation of some members of Council. Not long ago the Ministerial Association protested to Council regarding the prevalence of slot machines, and the question was referred to a committee. A plan of licensing the machines, with a stiff fee, has been suggested.

Motorists in Woodstock are chuckling over a sign intended by the city for tourists. The sign was placed at the outskirts of the city, but is located on the wrong side of the road, directly at the entrance of Woodstock cemetery. It reads, "Goodbye and good luck."

Thanksgiving Day in Canada has been set for Monday, October 14. A proclamation has been issued declaring the date. This follows the practice, since Remembrance Day was created a holiday separate from Thanksgiving Day, of having the national thanksgiving on the second Monday of October.

A Guelph woman, only 32 years of age, is now a grandmother. She is Mrs. D. Ferraro and lives at 87 Elizabeth street in that city. Her daughter, Mrs. G. Ferraro, aged 17, gave birth to a son the other day. The grandmother was married at the age of 15.

Supplementary estimates at Ottawa included a grant of $13,000 for "public buildings" at Powassan. Mr. Lake, the publisher of The Powassan News, who is also Mayor, confesses he does not know what the type of building is, but is "glad Col. Arthurs has secured this concession." Unnecessary government expenditures, such as this appears to be, are responsible for no small portion of Canada's debt, says the Barrie Examiner.

A well-known insurance man was telling us the other day that there have been more deaths from heart trouble during the past six years than at any other period known in this country. The cause of the trouble appears to be fear and worry. "If people would quit living in the future and attend to their affairs of the present, there would be less worrying and therefore less strain on the most vital organ in the human system," he said. And he is quite right. We all do a lot of unnecessary worrying.

Just so that he should not catch pneumonia, John William Scaife, a Sheffield lime merchant, has stayed at home for the past thirty years.

In 1905 he caught a severe cold and since then he has not even been to his front door, so afraid is he of a draught.

Mr. Scaife, who lives in Abbeyfield Road, Pitsmoor, Sheffield, has refused to see any visitors except the manager of his business.

Daily the books are brought to him and he examines them in consultation with his daughter. But there is no telephone in the house and Mr. Scaife has never been to the cinema or travelled in a car or bus.

All he has known of the outside world during these 30 years—years of wars, revolutions, great scientific discoveries—is what he has gleaned from newspapers and conversation. He watches the traffic from the window of his house and is quite satisfied with his life.

"He misses a lot of excitement, but," said one of the family, "he avoids a lot of worry."

Way Back in Liberal Files

FORTY YEARS AGO
From Our Issue of Aug. 1st, 1895.
The Committee of Management of the Board of Education are having new plank sidewalk laid from Yonge Street up to the High School steps. Also along the south side of the buildings as far as the west Public School building. Mr. C. E. Sheppard is doing the work.

A joint meeting of the Village Council and the Board of Management of the Public Library will be held in the Council Chambers on Friday evening, Aug. 2nd, 1895. The object of the meeting is to consider the advisability of the council assuming the responsibility of the Public Library. This seems to be the only way to ensure its future success.

Another Citizen Gone
It is our painful duty to record this week the death of one of our most useful, respected and esteemed citizens in the person of Benjamin Redditt. Although deceased had been ailing for the past three or four months, yet until a few days before he died, his family and friends had hopes of his recovery. For several years Mr. Redditt sat as a useful member in the Village Council, and since the organization of the Fire Brigade, 25 years ago, he was one of its most prominent and useful members. Deceased leaves a wife and nine sons and daughters to mourn the loss and to these sincere sympathy is extended.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
From Our Issue of July 27th, 1905
Rev. Thos. Fenwick, Presbyterian minister of Woodbridge, died on Friday last. Deceased was 75 years of age, and had been Pastor of the Church at Woodbridge since the year 1884.

The Toronto and York Radial Railway Company are installing a telephone along the line of the Metropolitan. Wires have been run into the station here and it is hoped the receiver will be ready for business in a few days.

Mr. Blanchard and Mr. Startup are finishing up the asphalt for this season. The last sections of pavement laid down are in front of the Waiting Room, J. Eyer & Son's premises, Glass Bros. butcher shop, Ludford's store, the parsonage, and a patch at the Public School.

D. M. Boyle and son of Langstaff, have ordered from the Waterloo Manufacturing Company, through their agent, Mr. J. H. Prentice, Unionville, one of the most up-to-date cleaner and chaff-blowers, with all the latest improvements. The harvest is heavy in this section of county, and by all accounts Mr. Boyle will have a large run during the present season.

North York Conservatives held a monster picnic in the Agricultural Grounds, Newmarket, yesterday. The chairman was Major Allan; the speakers were Hon. W. J. Hanna and J. P. Downey, M.L.A., and the local member for the riding, Mr. T. H. Lennox. In the sporting contest, The Talagoos defeated the Sunnyside lacrosse team by 8 to 3, the North sides beat the South sides by 12 to 3 in baseball, and in football Holt won from Bogart Town.

Last Saturday the Young Canadians of Woodbridge defeated the Brampton Excelsiors by 5 goals to 2 in one of the most exciting lacrosse matches ever played in Woodbridge. The winners in last Saturday's match will play the Shamrocks of Toronto Junction on the grounds of the latter next Saturday, and this match will practically decide the championship of the district.

The Windsor Hotel at Mimico, a brick building, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning about 1 o'clock, which is believed to be the work of an incendiary. Fire horses and a coach dog were burned to a crisp. Sixteen people were sleeping in the hotel at the time and these narrowly escaped in their night clothes.

A PSALM OF THE GOOD TEACHER

The Lord is my teacher,
I shall not lose the way to wisdom.
He leadeth me in the lowly paths of learning;
He prepareth a lesson for me every day;
He findeth the clear fountains of instruction.
Little by little He showeth me the beauty of the truth.
The world is a great book that He hath written.
He turneth the leaves for me slowly.
They are all inscribed with images and letters.
His face poureth light on the pictures and words.
Then am I glad when I perceive His meaning.
He taketh me by the hand to the hilltop of vision.
In the valley also He walketh beside me,
And in the dark places He whispereth to my heart.
Yea, though my lesson be hard it is not hopeless.
For the Lord is very patient with His slow scholar.
He will wait awhile for my weakness
He will help me to read the truth through tears.

—Henry Vandyke.

"When Liberty is lacking, authority becomes tyranny."—Andre Maurios.

"The only method of creating sex appeal is by clothes."—George Bernard Shaw.

"A worthy discontent is an essential element of social well-being."—Havelock Ellis.

"I am satisfied it is a much better world than it was fifty years ago."—William Allen White.

"Morals, like laws, were invented for our neighbors, and it is our secret conviction that we ourselves could get along very well without them."—Will Durant.
