

WEEKLY NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIONVILLE DISTRICT

Servant of Providence - Bless statesman he, whose mind's selfish will Leaves him at ease among grand thoughts: whose eye Sees that, apart from magnanimity wisdom exists not, nor the humbler skill of Prudence, disentangling good and ill With patient care. What though assaults run high, they daunt not him who holds his ministry Resolute at all hazards, to fulfil his duties: Prompt to move but firm to wait, Servant of Providence, not slave of Fate.

Announcement is made of the annual Fall Show of the local Horticultural Society to be held on grounds of the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Harrington on Thursday next, Aug. 22nd. Mr. F. Grange of Toronto will judge the exhibits and will also give an address during the evening. Musical selections will also be an added attraction. Admission free. A cordial invitation is given to attend this event. Come and bring your friends. Exhibitors are asked to have their exhibits in place not later than 4 p.m. A Flower Naming contest open to children will be conducted during the evening with special prizes awarded. It is desired that as many as possible will participate in this contest. With rinks from Port Perry, Aurora Markham, Stouffville, Uxbridge, Agincourt, Oshawa, Balmy Beach, Whitrow, Vermont Park, Toronto and Unionville participating, the tournament held on the local green last Friday night was a decided success. Twenty rinks of players enjoyed the game and the green pronounced in perfect condition. Gordon Brown of Markham carried off first honors with three wins and a score of 38:1. Phil Dixon's rink was second with 3 wins and a score of 31. P. Ingram of Port Perry was third with 2 wins and a score of 37:1, with W. T. Wilson of Oshawa fourth with 1 win and a score of 35:2. A similar tournament is scheduled in two weeks time and a large than ever patronage is anticipated. P. J. Dixon's rink has been winning fame, not only at home, but in far away places, when recently first honors were won at the Aurora tournament. The personal of the rink was, P. J. Dixon, S. M. Hutchison, Miss Edith Empringham, Miss Cora Lunau. The prizes being lovely electric lamps. It was Missionary night at Central Y.P.S. on Monday evening. Miss Mae Stonehouse in charge. The study or "Trinidad" was continued, Alf. Dyke leading the discussion. In the devotional period Marjorie Wheatley read the Scripture lesson and Marion Warne led in prayer. On next Sunday morning this organization will have charge of the service, Rev. Large being the special speaker. There will be no evening service. An English woman gives us a recipe, "How to be Happy." "Don't lose your temper lightly, but when you do lose it, let it rip." "Look every man in the eyes. That is the quickest and surest way to mutual understanding." "Never be ashamed of your own opinions simply because you are in the minority." "Look on marriage as the beginning, not the end of an adventure." "Never use the words 'settle down' until you are at least 80 years of age. To settle down is to stagnate." "Get out into the fresh air. When depressed, summon the body to help the mind." "Never admit you are beaten until you are battered to bits. Then go away, heal your wounds, and fight again." "Rise every day like a man going to battle." "Don't be ashamed of being an idealist." "Think and dream on a grand scale." "If every shred is aken from you, keep your honor." "Keep the Golden Rule." The August meeting of the Central United W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Miller on Thursday afternoon last, with twenty in attendance. The president, Mrs. C. Crawford, was in charge of the meeting. A helpful and inspirational Bible lesson on "Gardens declaring to us practical lessons of life" and taken from St. John, Chap. 15, was given by Mrs. J. A. Gibson, and a scripture verse containing the word "Hope" was the response to the roll call. The Study Book period on "India" was in charge of Mrs. W. Young, and a delightful solo "Beautiful land on high" by Miss Thyne was appreciated. Interpretations of Hymns by Wm. Cowper and John Fawcett by Mrs. A. Coulson and Miss M. Miller were also interesting items on this program. Mrs. Crawford closed the meeting with prayer.

URGES ACTION TO SAVE RADIALS Editor of "The Liberal," Richmond Hill, Ontario. Dear Sir:-

With pleasure I read the decision of the Richvale taxpayers, regarding the North Yonge Radial line. I trust the taxpayers of the other districts will show such good common sense, for a good radial service is essential to property value.

Have the "Local Municipal Officials" checked over the books showing this deficit? What is the amount levied on each taxpayer to cover the loss? Has there been a careful check up of passenger fares? Waste and loss in the management? What is the cost of running each car? A few cars could be cut out of the service, if necessary, but the whole service discontinued never.

Living west of here, with only a buss service, a gentleman would gladly sell his home and buy here on account of our Radial line. Do not let us fall into the clutches of Buss profiteers, but get together and solve our Radial problem, if a serious one really exists. Yours truly, A SAFE RIDER.

WELLWOOD RE-UNION

A gathering of the descendants of John Wellwood and Jane Caswell was held at Kincardine on Aug. 5th, with an attendance of sixty-eight, visitors being present from many parts of the United States and Canada. The guest of honor was Miss Caroline Wellwood, recently home on furlough from missionary work in Chengtee, West China.

John Wellwood and Jane Caswell came to Canada from Ireland as children in 1820 with their respective parents who settled on farms a few miles apart in the county of Lanark, Ontario. After their marriage they continued to reside in Lanark County until 1859 when they, with their seven children, moved to the Township of West Wawanosh, Huron County. The youngest child was born in the new home and is now Mrs. J. A. Milne of Orillia, the only survivor of her generation. Unfortunately, owing to illness, Mrs. Milne was unable to be present at the gathering.

Noon dinner was served at Bruce Inn, Kincardine, and was followed by speeches by representative members of the different branches of the family and greetings from many who were unable to attend. A display of beautiful Chinese goods, brought home by Miss Caroline Wellwood, added greatly to the interest of the afternoon. A picnic supper was enjoyed on the lawn of "Wellwood Cottage," Kincardine Beach.

Mrs. J. A. Milne, Orillia, was appointed Honorary President; Miss Elizabeth Wellwood, New York City, President; and Mrs. George Gee, Richmond Hill, Secretary.
