That willingness is more important than skill? Sports Review

There is no doubt that lacrosse is the most popular summer sport in this part of the country. Last Friday night a crowded rink witnessed the final game of the juvenile play-off between Thornhill and the local team. Bad weather and the new admission fee seemed to be only added attractions. The boys of the district sure deserve a lot of credit for being able to produce lacrosse of such high calibre. It took first class lacrosse to pack a rink twice a week for a whole summer. The Richmond Hill Arena has been the centre of unflinching interest for the past three months. On Friday night Richmond Hill grabbed off its first championship since the league began operation three years ago, when the local juvenile team defeated Thornhill 8-6. Both teams opened cautiously and in the first and second periods play was slower than usual. The boys seemed to have used up all the old pep the week before. Buchanan opened the scoring for Richmond Hill, and Morrison and J. Elliott got one in each period for Thornhill. The passing of both teams was away off, and several scoring chances were missed. Part of the crowd, attracted by the publicity of the previous game, was wondering what all the ballyhoo was about. However, they weren't disappointed. Half way through the third period Morrison ran in two quick goals to put Thornhill three up. Then the local team came to life and from there to the last whistle the game was a thriller. Richmond Hill opened the last quarter with a scoring spurge that put them a goal up. The rest of the game had the fans on their feet and holding their breath as one team after the other blinked the light. Finally Bill Pollard came through with his fourth goal to put the locals ahead for the last time, and Palmer clinched the victory with another to make the final score 8-6. Every man on the floor played stellar lacrosse, and it would be impossible to pick a star. However, Bill Pollard gets special mention for his four goals and also Doug Brown for his wonderful improvement. Doug is by far the youngest player on the team, and deserves a big hand for his gameness in the nets. It was the "never-say-die" spirit of the Richmond Hill team that brought them from behind several times and finally put them on top, and they are worthy champions. They will go on into the playdowns of the O.A.L.A., and the fans of the district will all be rooting for them. Line up: Richmond Hill, D. Brown, Richardson, J. Hall, Palmer, Buchanan, L. Mabley, Pollard, O. Stewart, E. Brown, Stong, B. Mabley, Sonosky, H. Stewart; Thornhill, Palmer, Trotter, Perry, Morrison, J. Ellacott, Bruce Finlay, Thwaites, C. Ellacott, MacNamara, Bill Finlay, Henderson, Carnegie and Paisley. The fans will be glad to hear that John Mabley's injuries received in the game two weeks ago were not as serious as was at first expected. "Super" was covered with severe bruises and serious complications were feared for a time, but he is now recovering nicely. The Richmond Hill Juveniles will meet Roden A.C. of Toronto in the O.A.L.A. semi-finals at the Richmond Hill Arena to-night (Thursday). The game starts at 8.30 p.m. While Joe Louis was battering Baer to defeat before 90,000 people in New York on Tuesday night, Richmond Hill was winning its second lacrosse championship when the mid-gets defeated Thornhill 11-8 in the final of the 3 out of 2 play-off series. Each team had already taken one game, and the third was a clean, fast game in which both teams extended themselves to the limit, Mabley and Pollard starred for the winners. Congratulations to both Richmond Hill's championship lacrosse teams! On Tuesday night at the Yankee Stadium Joe Louis, Hero of Harlem, proved that his meteoric rise to the pugilistic heights was no fluke. He snowed Max Baer under a shower of lefts, and at the end of the fourth round, too groggy to rise, Max took the count of ten on his knees. Louis is now in line for an attempt at the championship against Braddock and will be favoured to win it if he is given the opportunity. RICHMOND HILL WON HANDSOME TROPHY At the conclusion of Tuesday night's lacrosse game Mr. Jack Warwick of Richvale presented the Warwick Trophy representative of the league championship to the Richmond Hill team.
