

WEEKLY NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIONVILLE DISTRICT

Annual meetings of the various organizations seem to be the order of events of this week, the Junior Farmers Boys and Girls Clubs leading off on Monday night, with the usual large attendance. Regret was expressed at the absence of the president, Kenneth Deacon, who is attending the Chicago Fair.

The Girls meeting assumed a Christmas aspect with special Christmas items on the program. The roll call was responded to by suggestions for suitable Christmas gifts for young girls, Eileen McIntosh telling of the origin of Christmas and Lou McCutcheon demonstrating the wrapping of a Christmas parcel.

Dancing followed by refreshments concluded the last meeting in a successful year of the Junior Farmers Boys and Girls Clubs, and already plans are being formulated for a bigger and better year in 1936.

The popularity of the Carolina Jubilee Singers was evidenced by the capacity house that greeted them on their return concert to Unionville under the auspices of the local Library Board.

Fifteen members and six visitors attended the special meeting of the W.A. of Central United Church when the election of officers was the order of business. During the devotional period Mrs. A. E. Milner read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. A. Coulson gave the Bible talk and led in prayer.

Tea was served following the program by the hostesses, Mrs. Weatherill, Mrs. Dole and Miss Millie Miller. This organization has many successful activities to report which reflect great credit upon the executive that so ably conducted the year's work.

The sudden fall of temperature promises the opening of winter sports at Crosby Memorial Rink under the new management. New decorations, better music, better lighting, good clean surroundings and a varied program to suit everybody are a few of the attractions offered. It is anticipated that all citizens will co-operate to make this venture a success.

Success in Missionary endeavour was reported at the close of the twenty-seventh year of Browns Corners W.M.S. Auxiliary at the annual meeting held on Wednesday last. Mrs. R. L. Stiver, who has been president since organization, was again honored with the office. Other members of the staff are, 1st Vice-President, Mrs. W. nual White Gift service to be held by Central United Church Sunday School and congregation on Sunday next commencing at 10.30 a.m. It is hoped that the splendid response of former years will be repeated at this worth while service, bringing Christmas cheer to many folk that otherwise would not be remembered, especially the little folks. A similar service will be held in Browns Corners United Church on Sunday, Dec. 15th.

"If brotherhood were understood, If we but knew, would but believe, It is to live, It is to give, Not caring what we shall receive, 'Twould touch all lands, 'Twould clasp all hands, In common hope for common good. A world made new, God's dream come true.

Letters From The People

THINKS POLICE OFFICERS NEED HELP, NOT CRITICISM

Maple, Ontario Editor, The Liberal

Sir: I ask space in your paper to correct a rumor that is abroad that constables in this district are not as zealous as they should be in securing prosecutions against those alleged to be in the bootlegging business. I know that any of these rumors which impute unworthy motives to the members of our police force are absolutely false and unjust. I might point out as a former constable that I know the difficulties in securing convictions. Those engaged in the illegal business of bootlegging are resourceful and crafty. If citizens generally would lend their help to the police force rather than handing out criticism the evils of bootlegging would be stamped out sooner and such a blot removed from our fair community.

Thanking you for the space, I am, EX-CONSTABLE.
