The Ottawa Spotlight

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, July 21.—Of chief interest at the moment are the departure last Thursday of five ships carrying about 6,000 Canadian veterans of the Great War to France to take part in the unveiling ceremony by His Majesty King Edward VIII of the Dominion's war memorial at Vimy Ridge on Sunday next; lifting of sanctions against Italy, in common with other countries of the League of Nations, on Wednesday last; and continued speculation on the possible size of this year's wheat crop on the Prairies and the current prices for wheat and the sales of the Wheat Board.

The Canadian Legion Vimy Pilgrimage constitutes the largest single exodus to Europe since the war, 17 years ago. France is spending upwards of $130,000 on an entertainment program for the representatives of her war time Allies, all of whom were invited to spend five days in France at the expense of government of that country. The ceremony will be broadcast by radio in Canada and sound pictures will also be taken for showing later throughout the Dominion. From Ottawa, Prime Minister Mackenzie King, C.M.G., will radio a brief message as part of the Vimy ceremony, at which also President Lebrun of France will speak. Many other Canadians are travelling abroad this summer since passports to the number of 4,000 were issued in May and over 5,000 were issued in June, the largest number incidentally in any month for the past five years.

The United States loss on wheat due to terrible drought conditions there has been estimated as high as a billion dollars. The American government has appropriated $1,500,000 for immediate relief in 12 arid states and an additional $3,000,000 for long term relief measures. Blistering heat in the West, and also in Ontario, has wrought great damage to the Canadian crops. It is still too early yet for any official estimate as to the size or quality of the corn to be harvested.

Directors of the Western Stock Growers' Association have asked the federal government to set up a $5,000,000 stabilization fund to purchase all cattle forced to market from drought conditions at a fair price for quality offered. It is doubtful, however, how the request can be granted because the government has no money available for such a purpose and it divested itself voluntarily from the wide powers under "peace, order and good government" taken for itself by the Bennett government. Some assistance of some kind will have to be forthcoming, however.

Prime Minister King officiated at the corner stone laying of the new $400,000 legation and residence being erected by the French government in Ottawa. The British and United States governments already have fine residences and offices for their representatives so that Japan is the only country with a minister here without permanent accommodation for its representative. Mr. King, in a timely speech, seized the opportunity to comment on the significance of such a little bit of French soil in the heart of Canada and the little bit of Canadian soil at Vimy in France. "Thus Canada speaks to the world asking it to behold what a world may become which buries deep the feuds of past generations and forgets forever its enmities of race," Mr. King observed.

Lifting of the sanctions against Italy apparently came in time to avoid a shortage of lemons in Canada, the use of them having risen sharply during the torrid heat wave across the Dominion in recent weeks. Ordinarily Canada's lemon supply comes partly from the States and partly from Italy. It will likely take some months for the normal trade between Canada and Italy to be resumed with the lifting of sanctions which were imposed last November because of Italy's invasion of Ethiopia.

The Canadian government, as far as is known, has not become as excited about the German airship Hindenburg flying over parts of eastern Canada as have sections of the British public and Parliament over sections over England on her recent flights from Germany to New York. Meanwhile, Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transport, has been inspecting sections of the proposed trans-Canada air mail route from Ottawa as far west as Winnipeg. The objective is to have such service right across Canada in operation by 1938.

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, and honorary colonel of the Calgary Highlanders, has been awarded the Canadian efficiency decoration, according to a recent announcement of the National Defence Department. Mr. Bennett recently celebrated his 66th birthday in Vancouver.

Death of a guard in the Kingston penitentiary following an attack by an inmate will likely be investigated by the royal commission on penitentiaries when it begins its inquiry in the fall.

Lord Tweedsmuir, Canada's governor-general, has been indisposed at Quebec lately. Whether his illness will prevent his scheduled trip to Western Canada early next month remains to be seen.

TESTON

Wheat and barley are being cut and the sample is good for the year. Alsike yield is well. E. Castator threshed about 80 bushels. Berwick Weldrick also has a good yield. While speaking of alsike we would like to cover an item of last week. Witherpoon's yield was 16 1/2 bags for the afternoon instead of 16 1/2 bus., as printed.

The old saying "How in the heck can I wash my neck if it ain't goin' to rain no more" may not be so far wrong if rain does not come soon.

Wednesday evening, July 15th brought out a good crowd of young and old to celebrate the charivari of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cooper. A very jolly evening was spent. Happy Walker, Eddie Cooper, Jim McCluskey and George Taggart provided lilting music and with Happy Walker as floor manager those who wished tripped the light fantastic nuite merrily. After a session of dancing order was called and Miss Jean Hadwin read an address to the guests of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, and Roy Bowen presented the silverware. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper responded to the presentation. Lunch and a few more dances brought a happy evening to a close.

The address is as follows: To Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cooper:—

Once again it is our pleasure to come together and celebrate as it were "The Hanging of the Crane" in the new home. This is an event of interest to us all as the setting up of a new home ought to be. It represents a union sacred since the world began and still is and to it every husband and wife subscribe. You have been brought up among us and we, your companions and friends, join in wishing you both a long and happy life together.

To you, Hazel and Roy, may there come the choicest blessings and good luck. Of course life has its vicissitudes in many ways but we hope you will surmount them and be forward in good works in this neighborhood. As a token of our sincerest regard please accept this silverware as a remembrance of your Teston friends.

The S. S. picnic will be held on July 29th under the auspices of the W. A.

Services as usual at 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. next Sunday.

LATE MRS. WILLIAM DIESMAN

One by one the older generation is passing. On Friday evening about 6.30 there entered into rest Mrs. William Diesman after a month's illness. Mrs. Diesman was formerly Frances Louise Wells of King and was in her 84th year.

The funeral at Teston United Church at 2.30 Monday afternoon was attended by a host of sorrowing relatives and friends. Rev. D. Davis, the pastor, preached the funeral sermon and was assisted by Rev. Halbert of Newtonbrook and Rev. Dr. Caldwell, former pastor. Interment followed to King Cemetery. Mrs. Diesman is survived by her husband who is in his 86th year, three daughters, Mrs. Ed. Bowen, Teston, Mrs. D. Murray, Port Hope, and Miss Hattie at home. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family and especially to her aged partner in the hour of his bereavement.

The important thing, as Grantland Rice says, is timing. Criticizing a popular hero is useless unless you wait a few years till everybody is ready to help.

THINGS WORTH-WHILE COST MONEY

Worth-while things cost money. This means that retailers must part with money in order to get customers. Customers require to be bought just as one's merchandise has to be bought.

Customers are not likely to be obtained apart from seeking them. They must be pursued, and they must be asked to do business with the retailer who wants their custom.

You would think that all this is as plain as is the nose on one's face. But stop! Answer this question: What have you, a retailer, done in the past month—to go no farther back—to seek and get new customers? How many non-customers of your store have received invitations from you to do business with you? How many persons have received communications from you, requesting their custom? How many persons have you informed, in their homes, about your business, your merchandise, your policies? How much money have you spent this past month on the purchase of customers?

Just waiting for customers is the acme of folly. Just relying on the conviction that the public ought to do business with you is folly. Just soothing yourself with the reflections that you are honest, that you give the public a square deal, that your store has a good location, that you price merchandise fairly—these are passive things.

It is action which counts in getting the things we want. An infant cries. This is its way of making its mother or nurse know that it wants something. Is it fair to a business to be doing nothing in a planned way to get new customers for it?
