

WEEKLY NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIONVILLE DISTRICT

TINY TOKENS

The memory of a kindly word For long gone by, The fragrance of a faded flower Sent lovingly, The gleaming of a sudden smile Or sudden tear The warmer pressure of the hand, The tone of cheer; The hush that means "I cannot speak, But I have heard." The note that only bears a verse From God's own Word— Such tiny things we scarcely count As ministry; The givers deeming they have shown Scant sympathy; But when the heart is overwrought, Oh, who can tell The power of such tiny things To make it well.

—Frances Ridley Havergal.

A substantial profit was added to the church funds and the event is rated as one of the season's best.

The momentum caused in starting the car sent it over the embankment before the brakes could be applied. Mr. Pellatt fortunately escaped with minor injuries.

Verse for the Kiddies If you go a-piecnicking and throw your scraps about, You'll never see the little folk go running in and out, And if you leave your orange peel all littered on the grass, You'll never go to the fairyland or see the fairies pass.

For empty tins and tangled strings And paper bags and broken combs, Will really wreck the pixie homes And frighten all the tiny gnomes.

Menaces on the Road

When a horse has seen his best days, he is put in the back field or he is destroyed. If he is in bad shape and he is driven off the premises and the inspector for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals catches the driver, there is trouble, much trouble. On the highways at the present time there are a large number of automobiles that have seen their best days and some of them should be taken off. But there is apparently nothing in the highway act to have these early models removed because some of them are still functioning in perfect condition. There are some, however, that spit and bark their way along on tires that would be mighty dangerous if some of these cars could get up any great degree of speed. There is apparently quite a probability here for the Department of Highways and its efficient patrol force to deal with. When is a car in such a bad state of repair that it should be called a menace to traffic and should be ordered off the highways?—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

EVERYTHING BUT "HONEST TOIL"

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, M.P., for Melville, Sask., expressed in parliament the identical views of the old pioneers of Ontario who converted the forests of this province into smiling fields of waving grain, when he said: "The speakers on the budget had discussed everything but honest toil. People talked about more leisure, shorter working days, and the comforts of modern civilization. No land ever became great by sitting down and counting the hours till 'sundown.' It's real refreshing to hear a politician like that in the 20th century.—Chesley Enterprise.

WEDDING

STIRLING-MYERS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stirling with their lovely garden was the setting of a very pretty wedding on Saturday last, when Miss May Myers, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myers of Toronto was united in marriage to Mr. David Stirling, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stirling. The ceremony which took place under an arch of evergreens banked with flowers and a lovely bell of white and pink with the rockery and fountain as a background was performed by Rev. William Batty of Barrie. The bride given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a gown made on grecian lines of white Chiffon over white satin, with a large picture hat to match. Mrs. Bernard Sanderson of Toronto was matron of honor and wore pale blue Chiffon over satin with a small blue hat to match. Mr. Bernard Sanderson was best man.

The reception was held in the house with the immediate families present and about twenty personal friends from Toronto and the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Stirling left shortly after the reception for a motor trip through the Southern States, the bride travelling in a white flannel suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Toronto.

SPORTS

Richmond Hill O.P.W. defeated Sharon 4-3 Monday 4-3 Mon. night. O.P.W. are playing good ball right now and nearly met their match in the Sharon team.

Sharon are one of the classiest outfits to show here for a long time. Their outfield were exceptionally good.

Bennett for O.P.W. had 10 strike outs, his famous slow ball making the Sharon boys break their backs trying to hit it.

Watch the sign board for future games of this O.P.W. team as you will always get a run for your money.

Although the Richmond Hill teams are out of Lacrosse it would be a nice gesture if they would get together and play an exhibition game against some good junior team as a benefit game for Bill Buchanan who was hurt at Bradford.

I am sure the fans would turn out in good numbers for this game. Roden A. C. Defeat Orillia Juniors

In one of the best games of Lacrosse seen this year Roden A. C. defeated Orillia Jrs. 13-12.

The game was fast and the passing plays of both teams were spectacular.

Charlie Phillips of Roden A. C. was the stand out star of both teams having scored or had assists in most of Roden goals.

Roden A. C. are now tied with Orillia for the first place and if the teams play home and home games the rink should be packed.

THE KING UNVEILS VIMY MEMORIAL

His Majesty's Speech at Canadian Memorial Ceremony

Vimy Ridge, France, July 26th.—Text of the King's speech at the unveiling of the Canadian war memorial, the first part of which he delivered in French, follows:

I am very grateful to you, Mr. President, for having made the journey to Vimy to join with us on the occasion of today's ceremony.

The presence of the President of the Republic will touch profoundly the Canadian people. For my part I congratulate myself that you have given me the opportunity to express from the bottom of my heart to the French nation my thanks and all gratitude of the people of Canada for the honor you have done to those whose sacrifice is inscribed on this monument and for the welcome you have accorded to their parents and friends who have crossed the ocean to be present at this inauguration.

His Majesty then continued in English:

In the capital city of Canada at the heart of the Dominion there is a memorial chamber set apart as a perpetual reminder of the service and losses of Canada in the Great War.

Nine years ago I had the privilege of dedicating an altar within it, where will lie forever a Book of Remembrance recording the names of more than 60,000 Canadians who gave their lives for the cause which Canada made her own. Above the door is graven: "All's well, for over there among his peers a happy warrior sleeps." These words reveal the inner meaning of what we do today. They tell us that, beautiful and impressive as is the Ottawa memorial, the Canadian people would not feel it was complete. It was "over there" that Canadian armies fought and died. It is "over there" that their final monument must stand.

Today, 3,000 miles from the shores of Canada, we are assembled around that monument—yet not on alien soil. One of our English poets, Rupert Brooke, whose ashes lie in an Ionian Island, wrote that where he lay would be "forever England"—that England for which he died. He spoke a parable; but here today that parable is living truth. The realization of it will, I know, bring comfort to many thousands of Canadian men and women. For this glorious monument crowning the hill of Vimy is now and for all time part of Canada. Though the mortal remains of Canada's sons lie far from home, yet here where we now stand in ancient Artois their immortal memory is hallowed upon soil that is as surely Canada's as any acre within her nine Provinces.

By a gesture which all can understand, but soldiers especially, the laws of France have decreed that here Canada shall stand forever.

We raise this memorial to Canadian warriors. It is an inspired expression in stone chiselled by a skillful hand of Canada's salute to her fallen sons. It marks the scene of feats of arms which history will long remember and Canada can never forget. And the ground it covers is the gift of France to Canada.

All the world over there are battlefields the names of which are written indelibly on the pages of our troubled human story. It is one of the consolations which time brings that the deeds of valor done on those battlefields long survive the quarrels which drove the opposing hosts to conflict. Vimy will be one such name. Already the scars of war have well-nigh vanished from the fair landscape beneath us. Around us here today there is peace and rebuilding of hope. And so also in dedicating this memorial to our fallen comrades our thoughts turn rather to the splendor of their sacrifice and to the consecration of our love for them than to the cannonade which beat upon this ridge a score of years ago.

In that spirit, in a spirit of thankfulness for their example, of reverence for their devotion and of pride in their comradeship, I unveil this memorial to Canada's dead.

All revolutionaries are young. After 45, a good beefsteak seems more important than glory.

New Locomotives Poems in Steel

Canada's newest railway locomotives are poems in steel, graceful, light-weight, semi-streamlined, machines capable of 110 miles an hour. Radical departures in construction have been made in the Canadian Pacific Railway's five new "3000" engines, the first of which was taken over on Monday, July 27, at a brilliant ceremony which was broadcast on a nation-wide radio net-work through the facilities of the company's Communications Department, and which included addresses by Sir Edward Beatty, G.B.E., K.C., LL.D., chairman and president, Canadian Pacific Railway; His Worship Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal; William C. Dickerman, president of the Montreal Locomotive Company, where the new locomotive was built; and J. N. Burke, Canadian Pacific veteran. The new Jubilee Locomotives, so named because they will go into operation in the jubilee year of the company's transcontinental passenger service, will pull a completely new type of train, lighter than the ordinary, semi-streamlined, and comfortable. The new coaches are under construction.
