Houses Scarce The Reeve Urges Building Boom

"There are no empty houses in Richmond Hill at the present time and there have been many people who would like to have come here to live but could not secure suitable residences," said Reeve J. A. Greene at a special meeting of the council held Tuesday evening. The Reeve urged that members of council, contractors, local citizens and all interested should get together to try to promote building activity in the village. The houses, he said, would meet the need for residences and would provide work for our unemployed.

Present at the meeting on the invitation of the reeve were several local contractors who discussed with the council the present housing shortage. The Reeve will confer this week with Premier Hepburn re the provincial government's housing plans.

Discussing the local water situation the members of council spent considerable time studying recommendations re plans to supplement the present supply. Reports to council indicate that there would be little difficulty in securing an ample supply from wells.

It was decided to proceed at once with the installation of a new heating system at the waterworks pump house and work has already started on a fence around the intake basin to prevent contamination.

Street Dance Next Wednesday

A record crowd is expected at Richmond Hill's annual Street Dance next Wednesday evening, August 26. Rus Creighton and his Hay Balers have been engaged to provide the music for the evening and this in itself will be a real treat. Services at the United Church Sunday evening will be in charge of the Sunday School. Mr. A. R. Hassard of Toronto will be the guest speaker and there will be special music by members of the Sunday School.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoons of Salada Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1 1/2 cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir well until sugar is dissolved; fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water; otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chipped ice.
