General News & Views

Thanksgiving Day gave this part of Ontario its first taste of winter weather. Ice, snow and a very cold wind combined to make the holiday savor of winter more than glorious autumn.

All trade statistics and business returns indicate that prosperity which has been lurking round the corner for so long is fast becoming a reality. Trade, employment, manufacturing production, life insurance and farm prices all show improvement.

Sudbury's assessor gives the present population of that city as 24,440—an increase of 2000 during the past year. This is one of the spots in Canada where there is no depression.

The annual plowing match of the North York Plowmen's Association will take place on Oct. 21 on the farm of Robert Millar Estate, north of Ringwood, it was made known recently. Nbrman Steckley, Stouffville, is the Secretary in charge of entries.

Aurora council will provide extra police protection for children having to cross Yonge Street at school time and on Sunday for Sunday School.

The annual King and Vaughan Plowing Match will be held at Concord, Friday, October 30th.

A farmer has recently died in England leaving a million and a quarter dollars, all of which he made out of farming. He did it because he adopted improved methods. The story says that, after farming in the traditional way and losing $3,000, abolished livestock from his farming system, substituting ammonia and phosphates as fertilizers. Baylis, of King's Lynn, Norfolk, the farmer in question, made money while many of his neighbors went bankrupt. Before his death he was farming 12,000 acres. The only livestock on the farm were work horses.

Quebec is going to try out some economic ideas of its own, Premier Duplessis intimates. The cabinet, he said, is to devote further consideration to a system of "change" between Quebec province and foreign countries with a view to drawing agreements under which Quebec would deliver to these countries a certain portion of its produce and receive merchandise in return.

"Devaluation of the franc and of the other currencies of the European gold bloc has long been recognized in financial circles as inevitable and necessary to world stabilization of currencies and recovery of international trade," Sir Thomas White, vice-president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and Canada's war-time minister of finance, said in an interview in Toronto.

"It should have occurred long ago, but political conditions in France were such that it could not be effected earlier," he said. This devaluation is an intermediate step towards returning to the gold basis for world currencies—not the old basis, but a reduced one.

A villager of Upper Egypt claims to have just celebrated his 131st birthday, and to have sixty children. His name is Selim el Hendawi, and he lives in El Haghe, a village near Aswan. Selim has been married many times, and his children's families constitute the major part of the village.

WAY BACK IN LIBERAL FILES

FORTY YEARS AGO

From our Issue of October 15th, 1896
There were two fires in Newmarket last week. On Sunday morning about 3 o'clock smoke was seen coming from a large store in the Millard block, occupied by Montgomery & Brodie, and although it was not burned down it was badly damaged, and the loss on stock was about $7000. About half past one o'clock on Wednesday morning the large tannery owned and run by Marsh & Brown was burned to the ground. Loss about $5000; insured for $3000. The first named proprietor is our old friend, Mr. Sidney A. Marsh, formerly of this place.

Mr. T. H. Trench was judge on carriages at Woburn Fair held last Friday.

A special meeting of the W.M.S. Auxiliary took place on Friday, October 2nd, for the purpose of packing the things for shipment. A large box containing seven beautiful quilts, a large quantity of good and useful articles of clothing, also a variety of papers, magazines—the old library of the Sabbath School—and a large old Bible, was directed to Little Current, to be distributed by the Rev. Wesley Dean. A barrel containing four quilts and much useful clothing, papers, etc., was also sent to Sudbury to the Rev. J. Gibson. Mr. John Sanderson kindly attended to mailing and directing of the same which were shipped on Saturday.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From our Issue of October 11th, 1906
Lilacs in full bloom, and as fragrant as in the month of May, were picked a few days ago at the rear of the Standard Bank. Lilacs in October are certainly a novelty.

Mr. A. J. Hume has moved into the front part of the Fire Proof store which has been neatly fitted up for a tailoring establishment. The store is divided by a partition running east and west, the south part being the work shop, and the north part the show-room.

Some time ago Mr. H. C. Bailey of Maple offered a prize of a gold watch to the one guessing the nearest to the weight of a bar of soap. The contest closed on October 1st, when the bar was weighed and found to be 91 lbs. 4 oz. The prize was awarded to Mrs. C. Crook, whose guess was 91 lbs. 3½ oz.

Some time ago a motion was made by a hotel-keeper to quash the local option by-law in Pickering, twelve different reasons being stated for such an order. The by-law passed with a majority of 205 out of a total vote of 1,280. The Divisional Court on Saturday set aside the order. Local option is therefore still in force in Pickering Township and Village.

True Story!: A young man who was given the air by a girl decided to get even if it was his last earthly deed. So he requested the young lady to go driving which she accepted with a good deal of smug self-satisfaction. Just as she was about to get in the car, the young man handed her a hammer and a packet of nails and the information that she could drive as she pleased.

In a few hours a man can tell all he knows; after that he's interesting... It used to be that a woman got a job because she could not get a husband; but now the husband is easy to get if she has the job.
