

WEEKLY NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIONVILLE DISTRICT

An intensive program with the president Kenneth Deacon in charge provided a splendid evening's entertainment for those in attendance at the October meeting of the Junior Farmers Clubs held in the Township Hall. The presentation of trophies and other prizes won at the Markham Fair was the important feature and showed the keen competition throughout the exhibit. A. J. H. Eckhardt of Toronto and G. G. Maynard of the Bank of Commerce were on hand to present the trophies and give a word of encouragement and commendation to the prize winners.

Maurice Hamill carried off major honors claiming three coveted awards, The T. Eaton Trophy, The A. J. H. Eckhardt Silver Tea Service and The Bank of Commerce Cup. Geo. McCowan won the Birks, Ellis, Ryrie Trophy for the best bushel of Barley; Hartley Sellars, the Stiver Bros. Trophy for the best bushel of Alsike; Jack Couperthwaite, the Reesor Marmill Trophy for the best bushel of grain in the show and Russell Little, the A. J. H. Eckhardt Silver Dresser Set, having the third highest number of marks. Alex Davison was also a big winner, receiving $8.50 in prizes and being a previous winner several times was not eligible for trophies.

The guest speaker, Dr. Staples of O.A.C., dealt with horses and left some valuable suggestions with the boys regarding the choice and care of this ever faithful farm animal.

At the joint meeting the club paper was read by Art Grange and the usual good time was enjoyed dancing in the Markham Fair building. The lucky draws of the evening went to Chester Summerville and George Warne and Mildred Pooler.

Contrary to custom the girls disclosed their birthday date during the roll call at the meeting of the club. Prize presentations were also in order at this meeting and were made to the lucky winners by Mrs. W. Bowes who had acted as Judge of the Girls Exhibit. During the evening Bookends were given Mrs. Bowes as an expression of appreciation from the girls. Miss Helen Little had the distinction of winning the A. J. H. Eckhardt Silver dessert set, having the highest number of points, with Ruby Reesor and Jean Thompson, a tie for the T. Eaton Trophy.

The girls have been fortunate in having many interesting travel talks and not the least entertaining was the imaginary visit to California led by Miss Margaret Young, who spent last winter in that ideal vacation country. Miss Young also showed a collection of pictures, shells and several specimens of Mexican pottery.

Members of St. Andrew's United Church W.M.S. of Markham were guests of Central United Auxiliary on Thursday afternoon last when the special Thank-Offering meeting was held and Mrs. Trickey, President of Toronto East Presbyterial was the guest speaker. Introducing the Study Book, "Men and Women of the Far Horizons," an expression of thankfulness for genius of leaders in the W.M.S. work was shown, also the need of twenty more candidates to replace workers in the field. Are we doing our part in God's great work? An interesting discussion followed the address. During the devotional period Mrs. N. Ogden gave a very helpful Bible lesson, "For me to live is Christ." A pleasing musical selection entitled "Lift up thine eyes to the mountain," was given by a trio of Markham ladies. A special offering of sixty-nine dollars was received and will be devoted to Missionary projects. Sixty ladies remained for refreshments and a social time following the program.

The president, Mrs. Crawford, was in charge of the meeting.

Quantities of seasonal flowers appropriately decorated the Chancel and there was a record attendance at both morning and evening services. A choral communion service was conducted by Rev. Herman in the morning, Rev. G. Snell of the Church of Saint Michael and All Angels, Toronto, bringing a highly inspirational message. Rev. Snell officiated at the evening service and special musical selections by the local choir with Mrs. A. K. Harrington as choir leader and Miss Ila Weighill, A.T.C.M., as organist, included the anthems "Praise the Lord" and "The Lord God Planted a Garden." A visit from the Scout Master of the 143rd Troop, Toronto, and previous scout member Arnold Court speeded up the enthusiasm at the meeting of the local troop held in the school on Friday evening last. Scout Master Hill reported coins, curio, pressed flowers, etc. received from Toll Brothers for distribution and the boys are all agog to know who will be the lucky ones.
