HEAT REGULATOR
 "The Proof of the Pudding is in the Eating."
 Read these honest-to-goodness testimonials. See what users say about our Heat Regulator. That's the information you want to know — what the USER thinks. These are but a few of the many recommendations on file from satisfied owners.
 "I feel that if people only realized the great convenience of a Thermostatic Regulator and the very moderate cost of the one sold by your company you would have more orders than you could take care of."
 S. R. R., Hamilton Ontario.
 "I am well pleased... We now get even temperature night and day without any worry about looking after drafts... I am quite sure it has meant a considerable saving in fuel... It is certainly a cheap investment."
 G. S. W., Oshawa, Ont.
 "My wife was insisting that I get a blower, which I did. But we had to take it out and installed your Regulator in its place. In my opinion it is a better contrivance than the blower."
 N. O. H., Peterborough, Ontario.
 You will be astonished at its low cost.. It maintains an even temperature day and night.
 Guaranteed? They certainly are — for 3 years.

VELLORE
 Major "Lex" McKenzie Tells of Trip to Vimy
 The Vellore Junior Farmers held their regular meeting in the Hall on Wednesday evening. The special event of the evening was Major McKenzie's talk on his trip to Vimy Ridge and other places they visited while there. He illustrated his address by a number of snapshots, which included pictures of the cemeteries where the soldiers were buried, also a jar containing some earth taken from around the trenches and a London magazine. He also told how they enjoyed attending a garden party on the spacious lawn of Buckingham Palace at which the King was present and addressed them from the balcony of the Palace. Other features of the evening were piano selections played by Earl Patterson and guitar music played by George Carley and Aidris Price. After the "Vellore Pep" was read by Murray Irwin, lunch was served and the meeting closed by singing God save the King.
 A number of the boys from the district attended the Provincial Plowing Match held at Cornwall including a much enjoyed tour of Montreal, Ottawa, North Bay and last but not least they called at Callendar to see the quintuplets and arrived home feeling fortunate to have escaped any accident after seeing several. Mrs. Currie of Virginia, Tenn. was the guest speaker and outlined her trip of the Vimy Pilgrimage this summer. It was a most coveted privilege as only veterans or friends of veterans of the great war were allowed this trip. In the most pleasing manner she described her visit to England, Ireland and Scotland and especially to the Buckingham Palace garden party where King Edward VIII entertained the members of the Canadian Vimy Pilgrimage.
 Mrs. J. Constable conducted a fruit contest and was won by Mrs. Currie.
 The hostesses, Misses Deborah Davidson, Clara Phillips, Mrs. J. J. Humphreys, Mrs. J. A. McNeil, Mrs. J. Constable and Mrs. E. Kyle provided the luncheon and a social hour was spent.
