The High School Commencement To Be March 12, 13.

Several Farm Sales To Be Held Early In March

Richmond Hill High School fourteenth annual "Commencement" will be held in the school gymnasium Friday and Saturday evenings March 12th and 13th. This important event in the school year has always proved a popular attraction and according to reports this year's program will be well up to the high standard of former years.

Friday evening there will be the presentation of academic and athletic awards and the feature of the commencement will be the presentation of "Three Corners Moon" by students of the school. The cast includes many talented young actors and actresses and is sure to be interesting and entertaining. As usual a record crowd is expected and all seats in the "gym" will be reserved. Tickets will be on sale in the near future and the plan of the hall for reservations will be at Glenn's Drug Store.

A large number of important auction sales are billed for early in March and several have been held during the past week. While there are not as many sales as in some former years, there are several outstanding auctions which promise to attract widespread interest and a large crowd of buyers.

On Thursday, March 4th the sale of R. F. Klinck, Victoria Square will be held and the list offered includes some splendid livestock and implements. Mr. Klinck is giving up farming, having rented his farm. Wednesday, March 10th is the date of the large sale of William J. Bailie, lot 17, con. 4 Vaughan, just south of Maple. Mr. Bailie sold his farm last fall and is giving up farming. This sale is featured by an offering of eleven horses and a large herd of registered and grade holsteins as well as a lot of good implements, harness, hay, grain, etc. This sale will start at 11 a.m. and two auctioneers, J. C. Saigon and J. H. Prentice will wield the hammer. Monday, March 15th Clarence Graham of Woodbridge who recently bought the farm and chattels of W. E. Orth, lot 20, con. 8 Vaughan will sell the livestock and implements as he has rented the farm. Major Dean of Thornhill who last fall sold his farm to Mr. McCulloch, the new publisher of the Globe and Mail, will hold a sale of horses, cattle, pigs, hens, implements and furniture and J. H. and Ken Prentice will be the auctioneers. J. Wesley Stong's sale will be on the 18th of March and this is one of the largest sales held in the district for some time. It includes a fully accredited and registered herd of cattle as well as other farm stock, and a particularly large lot of implements. On St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, Fred Dew of King will sell his stock and implements and this too will be a very large sale and will include some splendid horses, cattle and implements.

Full particulars of all these sales will appear in The Liberal and all interested in securing stock or implements would do well to follow the above sales as the number of auctions this spring are not likely to be very numerous. There are still a few sales in the offing for which dates have not yet been set, but the number will not be as large as in years past.

So far this year farm sales have been exceptionally well attended and good prices have been realized. In keeping with the present trend of the times the majority of this year's sales the terms have been cash.
