Legislature on Tuesday the annual budget which has been hailed throughout the province as the outstanding administrative achievement of any government in Canada in recent years. The Premier making his third budget address since assuming office in 1934 told in plain, straightforward words the story of strict adherence to an economy and "pay-as-you-go" | policy and announced for the first time in many years a balanced budget, ! and a surplus of $7,347,720.00. In addition he reported a reduction of $33,000,000 in the gross debt of the province and substantial tax reductions. The Amusement Tax, an unpopular nuisance tax, will be abolished June 1st, there will be a reduction of twenty-five per cent in commercial vehicle licenses and there is assurance of consideration of reduction in price of ordinary car markers before the end of this year, an increase of ten per cent in the grants to township roads, and a provincial subsidy equal to one mill on the assessment to every municipality in Ontario, which means one mill reduction in municipal taxation to every taxpayer in the province. Is it any wonder Old Man Ontario is happy and calls it the "Sunshine Budget"? In concluding his remarkable budget address Premier Hepburn said: "It is my considered opinion that this Government has not reached the pinnacle of its achievement; rather is it in its early stages, and I am persuaded that by continuing to follow sound policies and to give honest Government we shall carry the people of this country on to the great destiny that is the heritage of the sturdy offspring of our noble forefathers. I hope that we can reinculcate in our minds and hearts their hope, faith, courage, and vision, and accordingly, Mr. Speaker, may I urge that we turn our faces, not toward the shadows, but toward the sun and view in that direction a brighter and happier day for this great land."
