WEEKLY NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIONVILLE DISTRICT

Saturday, May 1st has been set | band, and delighted the gathering aside by the local branch of the Women's Institute as Tag Day for Unionville in the interest of the Canadian National Institute of the Blind. Three members have been appointed as Taggers and it is desired that all contribute to this worthwhile appeal. This is a most worthy cause and deserves our support.

The March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. G. Murphy, Main Street, thirty-five ladies being in attendance, including members and several visitors. Mrs. G. R. Whaley presided. The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. William Milliken, K.C., who was introduced by Mrs. W. Milliken Smith, who referred to him as one of our boys as he was originally from this part of the country. Some very interesting and educational facts about such matters as naturalization, divorce, alimony, and the writing of wills were included in the talk, and the ladies were deeply grateful to Mr. Milliken for this address. A short discussion followed and a vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. E. E. Braithwaite to Mr. Milliken.

Pleasing vocal selections by Miss Erma Court with Mrs. W. J. Russell as accompanist were included in this delightful afternoon's entertainment, success. A social hour followed the program when afternoon tea was served from small tables gaily decorated with spring flowers. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs G. Murphy, Mrs. J. R. Hood, Mrs. T. Croft and Mrs. H. H. Powers.

Treasure Hunts are popular activities with the local Boy Scout Troop as another such event is recorded following last Friday night. Scout ed for. Masters Hill and Ormston were in charge and the Marshmallow roast at the Campfire in the Flats made a finish to the evening's sport. Peanuts were the treasures th - time and the boys look forward to many more such enjoyable evenings. Stuart Campbell was announced prize winner with most points to his credit. Shortage of matches to start the fire promised for a few moments to be an April Fool joke but that difficulty was soon overcome.

The Easter Thankoffering meeting of Central United W.M.S. Auxiliary is being held on Thursday afternoon. Several neighboring Auxiliaries will be guests. We promise a report of the meeting next week.

The April meeting of Brown's Corners W.M.S. Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Craig on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. R. L. Stiver in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Norman Reid gave the Scripture reading during the devotional period and Mrs. Craig had charge of the Study Book period. This Auxiliary accepted the invitation of Central United day. W.M.S. to attend the Easter Thankoffering meeting.

The monthly Mission Band meeting of Brown's Corners church was held last Thursday afternoon. Slides on mission work were shown and a good meeting is reported. Miss Mary Rodick i leader of the group.

"That Horticulture is the ornamental side of Agriculture and necessary to complete the picture of ideal Farm Homes" was the introduction to a splendid address given by Mr. John phy F. Clark, Horticultural Society representative to a large audience of interested young farm folk at the meeting of the Junior Farmers Organizations held in the Township Hall on Monday evening. The indulgence in beautifying the farm surroundings was made alluring, Mr. Clark stating that it was not difficult and that with a little effort and minimum of expenditure in five years unattractive surroundings may be transformed into beauty that will stand as a monument that time cannot destroy.

FEAR OF NEXT DEPRESSION RETARDS PROGRESS

Editor, The Liberal Dear Sir:-

I was pleased to read Mr. McNair's letter in last week's Liberal. As Prof. Drummond pointed out, each citizen must contribute his thought Grown men and women do not so and reason to the solution of our problems if we are to achieve solution without recourse to the time honored method of revolution.

appreciation of the part farmers and farming have played in history, not only during the recent hectic years, but at all times. I submit however that the gradual elevation of standards of living which is the goal of human society, has been dependent much more upon industry than upon Agriculture. In fact the development of Agriculture itself has depended upon industrial development, which has produced and is still producing the power and the machines which make modern Agriculture possible. Is it not then putting the cart before the horse to say, that the solution of the economic ills of the nation must start with the solution of the ills of the farm-

It seems to me wrong to speak of any class as a most important class of consumers. Every man, woman and child on a farm or in a city or town is a consumer to the procure the commodities he or she desires to consume. Now the rising standard of living referred to above is the result of the consumption or tion of the mere necessities of life | cigarettes. would not provide employment for more than a fraction of our people at any time. At present however a very large number of our people are limited to the consumption of the barest necessities for existence because they are denied the opportunity (through employment) to produce anything at all themselves. It needs little imagination to see on every hand work needing to be done, in ing and repairing, level crossings matings $11.00 per 100. our financial institutions there is available sufficient credit to finance all this work. And yet because there is no way provided for the direction of this credit into the channels of activity, where it is most needed, men and money remain idle and the countries' real assets steadily deter-

Under our present system money can only be issued in channels where its use will bring reasonably quick profits, but the channels where acpoint of the welfare of the country and its citizens are exactly those where there is least prospect of quick profit. If the State would issue all money and direct its issue into the production of the type of goods or wealth of most value to the better as decent homes for the millions now those now living in good homes, both tion was held at the home of the mystery to me. I am going to make in city and on the farm, this gap hill officiated at the Organ, Mr. A. bride's parents at 42 Wright St. The this letter short if not sweet and say between money and jobs would be quickly bridged. We would very quickly eliminate the burden of relief, and the farmer would have an adequate and 'profitable market for his products without any recourse to the artificial and dangerous stimulant of subsidization.

We are now witnessing the astonishing spectacle of Governments, both Dominion and Provincial, spending thousands of dollars to persuade their people to use the capital they are making available for the building and repairing of homes, and yes people are not accepting the money. easily forget the homes that have been lost during the last few years, and in the same press carrying the advertisements and propaganda re-I join with Mr. McNair in highest garding the building loans of the Governments are lurid headliness warning the people to beware and prepare for the next depression which is scheduled to arrive as sure as tomorrow's sun, according to our economic guides. Remove this fear of the results of the next economic collapse, by removing the power or perhaps I should say the necessity of recalling and destroying great quantities of money at certain periods because of the haphazard method of issue through 10 competing institutions without any effective central control, and you would not need to use propaganda to get people to build more and better homes or to keep them in repair. This object can be achieved by a scientific and orderly issue and recall of all money in Canada under central control of the Dominion Government. Why do we not all urge upon our governments consideration of this line of action? Why do we so persistently refuse to face the facts about money?
