JEFFERSON SCHOOL OPENING POSTPONED

Owing to the recent epidemic of Infantile Paralysis Jefferson School will not open until September 7th.

SCHOOL OPENING POSTPONED IN EFFORT TO CHECK THE SPREAD OF DREAD INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Five Cases in This District—Playgrounds and Sunday Schools Closed—Parents Asked to Co-Operate by Keeping Children Away From Crowds

First Death on Wednesday When Harold Wideman is Victim

No new cases of the dread Infantile Paralysis were reported today and there are at present 5 cases in the Richmond Hill district. The first death occurred Wednesday when Harold L. Wideman, twenty-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolph Wideman of the second concession of Markham passed away after an illness of about six days.

Reeve J. A. Greene called a special meeting of the Board of Health Monday morning when immediate steps were taken to cope with the threatened epidemic. The opening of the schools has been postponed at least until September 7th, the playgrounds have been closed and Sunday Schools have been asked to cancel sessions for at least two weeks. A general appeal also is made to all parents to keep a strict watch for all symptoms of the disease and to immediately consult the family physician on the appearance of any signs of sickness. Parents also are asked to keep children away from crowded places.

In this issue the Board of Health publishes information and suggestions which if closely followed should prove helpful in combating the dread disease.

Nineteen new cases were reported in Toronto Wednesday bringing the total in the city up to 175.

The number of cases in Ontario to-day totalled more than 300. Toronto and district appeared hardest hit. In Western Ontario the number of persons suffering from the disease was near the seventy-five mark. Fifty-four cases were in the London area. Isolated cases were reported from Eastern Ontario, while a case in Sault Ste. Marie yesterday brought the number in Northern Ontario to three. About twenty-five persons were under treatment in the Niagara Peninsula.

W. P. Mulock Host to Thousands At Annual Picnic on Saturday

LARGE CROWD ENJOYS FINE PROGRAM

"I sincerely hope you enjoy yourselves as much to-day, as I enjoy having you here as my guests," said Col. W. P. Mulock, M.P. in extending a cordial welcome to the thousands of North York constituents who gathered at the Woodbridge Fair grounds last Saturday for the annual Mulock picnic. Now an established annual event in North York the Mulock picnic this year was the most successful in history. It was largely attended and everyone had a wonderful time as guests of the popular North York member. There was a varied and colorful program of softball, football, horseshoe pitching, races, contests, midway attractions, bands, speeches, with special treats for the kiddies.

J. H. Naughton, president of the North York Liberal Association presided as chairman for the speech-making part of the program and the first speaker was Morgan Baker, member for North York in the provincial legislature. Mr. Baker expressed regret that Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King was unable to attend but commended him for upholding the honored tradition of Canadian Prime Ministers of not mixing in provincial elections. He paid tribute to the splendid work done by Mackenzie King and his government in bringing back prosperity to Canada. Reviewing the record of the Hepburn government he said it was a record of service to the people of Ontario unequalled by any other administration in the history of Ontario. Mr. Hepburn's balanced budget had made possible tax reduction for the great mass of the people of the province and his administration of Hydro had saved this great public ownership project for the people of Ontario.

George McPhee, Member of Parliament for Yorkton, Saskatchewan, paid glowing tribute to the service rendered in the Parliament of Canada by North York's representative, Bill Mulock, and in an inspiring address urged the electors to uphold the finest and best in British traditions. The King government he said was leading the people once again into the happier days of prosperity with its policies of good will and more extensive trade with the nations of the world.

The main speaker of the day was Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of National Transport and member of the House of Commons for Port Arthur. Mr. Howe has won himself a nationwide reputation for his successful handling of this important portfolio and in a business-like manner he gave the large audience a review of federal affairs.

The only way to improve the radio situation in Canada, the Minister said, was to place the control of radio in the hands of an experienced man who knew radio, radio programs and the public's reaction.

"There has been a very decided improvement since we placed Gladstone Murray in charge," he added.

"It is two years since the King Administration took office, with a promise to bring back prosperous days to Canada," Mr. Howe said, "and no one will quarrel with my assertion that we have travelled considerably on our way to prosperity. Every Minister had taken time and trouble to bring it back," he continued.

Sees C.N.R. Improvement

"My chief problem is the Canadian National Railways," he related. "It has been my duty to recommend a number of changes, which I believe have worked out satisfactorily. When we came into power the C. N. R. was in a state approaching trusteeship in bankruptcy.

"Mr. King placed at its head a man who knew railroading through and through. To aid him he appointed a Board of Directors whose spirit reached through every department of the system."

"The debt of the C.N.R. was almost at inconceivable figures when the Liberals took office," continued Mr. Howe. "The figures represented no investment whatever. Interest on the debt was more than the deficit itself.

"What is more, we discovered that the capital stock, which never represented an investment, was charged as a debt. We wrote off more than five million dollars' worth of debt, and as a result the railway is now able to earn interest on its investment when conditions return to normal," declared Mr. Howe.

Dealing with foreign markets, the Minister told his audience that as a result of the trade agreements negotiated with the United States, the straightening out of the difficulties with Japan, and the negotiating of treaties with other foreign powers, Canada now had markets of almost unbelievable limits.

"The effect of this was almost immediate," declared the Minister. "It was reflected in the rising traffic for the railways and the better prices for consumers." He declared that the work of finding foreign markets was still in its infancy. "Next year we will be able to show even better results in the marketing of our surplus products," he stated.

The Minister touched briefly on the rehabilitation of the C.N.R. both in its financial make-up and the rolling stock. He said that 10,000 had been taken from the unemployment camps and given work repairing the roadbeds, while a further 15,000 were able to return to work, through the orders given to the car shops for new stock.

CAIRN MARKS HISTORIC YONGE STREET

An attractive cairn has been erected by the Canadian Historic Sites Commission at the Summit Golf Club on Yonge Street. The cairn is to mark historic Yonge Street and bears a bronze plaque with the wording: "Yonge Street, planned by Lieut.-Governor Simcoe in 1793 as a military road and commercial highway between Lake Ontario and Lake Huron to promote the settlement of this province. Laid out and constructed by the Queen's Rangers under his orders in 1794-6 and named in honor of Sir George Yonge, Secretary of war at that time."
