

Disastrous Fire Causes Big Loss at Unionville

The screaming of the fire siren at 11 p.m. on Sunday warned the citizens that the Maynard elevator was on fire and presently perhaps the largest crowd on record were witnessing the largest fire on record in this village. Maynard's elevator and chopping mill and Stiver Bros. coal sheds and C.N.R. cattle yards being totally demolished by the flames. Owing to the efficient service given by the local fire brigade, and also Markham, Stouffville and Richmond Hill brigades, Stiver Bros. elevator and mill and nearby residences were saved. Two streams of water played continuously on the flames until 3.30 in the morning. This water was drawn from two tanks that had been installed by the village council and any doubt as to their efficiency in such a serious time has been forever removed from the minds of doubting citizens. The fire brigades certainly did a grand job and the citizens at the south end of the village especially appreciate and express gratitude for the protection given. Any needful demands to further this efficiency should be un-animously supported by our citizens. Mr. Albert Maynard estimates the loss at $10,000, while eighty tons of coal owned by Stiver Bros. were destroyed. Mr. D. Harrington was the first to notice the outbreak and gave the alarm. The cause of the fire has not yet been ascertained.

The roof of the Bethesda Lutheran church was ignited but was extinguished before any damage was done. Fortunately the heavy wind of the previous evening had ceased, or fire would not have been as easily controlled. Hot coffee and sandwiches and hot biscuits were served the firemen and helpers when the danger was over. Some thoughtful ladies of the village were responsible for this needful courtesy.

Many friends in Unionville sincerely regret the passing of Mrs. Annie Gilles Tandy, whose death occurred on Sunday afternoon at her residence, South Main St. Born in Kingston, Mrs. Tandy was in her 84th year and has resided in Unionville since May, 1933, and although in delicate health, made many friends here. Highly intellectual and a charming personality, friends always found a warm welcome in her home, and she will indeed be greatly missed.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday on the lawn under the trees that she admired so much and was conducted by Rev. Herman, rector of St. Philip's Anglican Church, Unionville. Interment was made in the family plot at Montreal on Wednesday.

Two sons, Harry of Toronto, Briar of Unionville, and one daughter, Mrs. G. Russell-Brown, M.B.E. of London, England, survive.

But no such luck, the weatherman sent rain, postponed the game, etc. However as guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Croft they spent a most enjoyable afternoon and will plan to win the tournament at some later date.

Activities continue on the local Bowling Green. P. J. Dixon, Mrs. F. Pollard and Miss Empringham were the lucky first prize winners in the 10 cent tournament on Monday night, with W. Summerfeldt, Kate Craig and Mrs. Freeman a close second. The Tournament for the Business Men's cup postponed on account of rain will be held on Friday next, and the annual Turkey Tournament is scheduled for the Saturday preceding Thanksgiving. Under the skillful workmanship of P. J. Dixon various improvements have been made on the club house, now, a coat of paint would complete the job.

A corn roast added to the entertainment on Monday evening last.
