

VICTORIA SQUARE

Well, this is "fly" season with a vengeance and who has not got her share? Certainly fly-tox is coming into its own.

"Election Day" has come and gone and now the electors are awaiting fulfilment of the many splendid promises made. Here's wishing the new ones or the old ones in authority are permitted to carry them out.

The Annual Fowl Supper which was held formerly in October, on account of the epidemic has been advanced to November 10th. In a previous issue it was announced for the 17th but owing to the fact that a neighbouring community had chosen that date too, the date here was changed.

One of our oldest residents in the person of Mrs. Emma Mortson, widow of the late William H. Mortson, passed away in a nursing home in Toronto last Friday. Mrs. Mortson was born in Markham Township about eighty-one years ago and prior to her marriage she lived at the Square and for several years after. For a few years before they moved to the West they lived on Yonge Street. After spending about twenty-three years in the West they again moved down here residing in the house now occupied by their son Jack. Mr. Mortson predeceased his wife seven years ago this month. Left to mourn Mrs. Mortson are her three sons, Russell, at Dollar Wellington, Fairlight, Sask., and Jack of this place, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

Rev. and Mrs. Haig, Mrs. Bennett and children have returned from Bala where they have been spending their vacation.

Mr. Randal Page, his mother and sisters, Misses Alice and Nellie and Mr. Charles took dinner with Mrs. Annie Mortson and family last Sunday.

CAREFULNESS

For want of a nail the shoe was lost; for want of a shoe the horse was lost; and for want of a horse the rider was lost; being overtaken and slain by the enemy, all for want of care about a horseshoe nail.—Benjamin Franklin.

No matter how low man may fall, he can still find a dog and a woman to love him.

MORGAN BAKER

Re-elected as member of the Legislature for York North with a majority of nearly 3000 over Major A. A. Mackenzie.

AN OLD TROUPE

Charles McCrea Doesn't Disillusion Admirers of Acting

At a tea given by Nella Jefferis in honor of the actors in "George and Margaret" this week, Chas. McCrea was mistaken by three guests for the actor who played the role of the father. They all congratulated him on his wonderful work. Being an unprofessional actor, the ex-minister of lands and mines hadn't the heart to disillusion them. He admitted that he was an old trouper and that he hugely enjoyed doing the character in the play—which as yet he had not even seen.

FORBEARANCE

It is a noble and great thing to cover the blemishes, and to excuse the failings of a friend; to draw a curtain before his stains; and to display his perfections; to bury his weaknesses in silence, but to proclaim his virtues from the house-top.—South.

Old-Time Plowman Vies with Modern At International in Fergus Next Week

Toronto, Oct. 5th—Plowmen, young and old, throughout the whole Province and in nearby states have been oiling up their plows and brushing up on their plowing skill for the International Plowing Match, being held this year at Fergus, for four days next week beginning Tuesday, October 12.

Brush-up short courses under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture have been in progress in many points in Ontario, where staff men are available for last-minute instructions and pointers to contestants in the plowing matches.

"Every type of plowing, from oxen through to all forms of the modern tractor will be featured," announced J. A. Carroll, secretary of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, at International's headquarters. "We have secured a yoke of long-horned, five-year old oxen, weighing about 3,225 pounds, that will draw an 85-year old plow under the guidance of 83-year old Lemual VanSickle, who lives at Jerseyville, near Brantford.

"We call the oxen 'Buck and Ben', legendary name for nearly all the old-time oxen. 'Gee and haw', familiarly known to all, originally derived, I believe, from the time when oxen were in commoner use than they are today and horses were more of a novelty. Visitors to the match will notice that oxen are not overdressed with harness—all they need is the old-fashioned yoke on their necks and a draft chain leading back to the plow. No reins are used, the oxen depending entirely on the spoken word for their guidance. We hope to have several yoke of oxen demonstrating throughout the meet because we have found that this is one of the many popular features in the show."

Entries for the plowing competitions have already been received from points in Michigan, and it is expected that contingents of spectators and contestants will, as in other years, come from many other of the States adjacent to the international border. The central location of the match at Fergus this year, it was noted, makes it accessible from a large part of Ontario and many points in the United States.

Technical talks on the care of horses, with particular reference to feet, will be given by Dr. C. D. McGilvray, principal of the Ontario Veterinary College; and practical demonstrations of horse-shoeing will be made by J. McLeod, chief blacksmith at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Demand for space in the "tented city" has far exceeded the expectations of the association. More exhibitors than ever before have asked for accommodation and in spite of the fact that preparations were made for a large area, it has been found necessary to provide a still larger one to take care of requests for more and bigger exhibition space. Well over half a mile of frontage will be used in presenting this year, the finest and largest demonstration of farm and home equipment ever presented in Canada, it was stated.

With their Thanksgiving dinner tucked away and the provincial elections settled, it is expected that Ontario and United States citizens will descend on Fergus from all directions in numbers well over 100,000 to see the 24th annual International Plowing Match, with its variety of attractions for plowmen, farmers and farm women.
