

WEEKLY NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIONVILLE DISTRICT

Impressive services in Thanksgiving for the abundant Harvest were held in St. Philip's Anglican church last Sunday. Many varieties of fruits, flowers and vegetables combined to make an artistic and appropriate setting for the celebration, which was largely attended. The fine feeling of fellowship and co-operation amongst the local churches was indicated by the cancellation of the Central United Church evening service, enabling the minister and congregation to attend this Harvest Festival.

Holy Communion was celebrated at the morning service with Rev. Herman in charge, while Rev. G. B. Armstrong officiated in the evening. Special music, with Miss Ila Weighill, A.T.C.M., presiding at the organ, included the anthems "Make a Joyful Noise unto the Lord" and "Ye shall dwell in the Land" with Miss Erma Court as soloist; also the solos, "Open the gates of the Temple" by Mrs. R. B. Rae and "Give Thanks and Sing" by Mrs. A. K. Harrington. These services are always appreciated by Unionville and vicinity, the splendid attendance and interest shown, convincing truth of their popularity.

The annual Thank-Offering meeting of the W.M.S. Auxiliary of Central United Church is announced for Thursday, Oct. 14, to be held in the church. Auxiliaries at this meeting and a cordial invitation is given to all women in the community to attend.

THE RUNE OF HOSPITALITY
I saw a stranger yestereen;
I put food in the eating place,
Drink in the drinking place,
Music in the listening place,
And in the sacred name of the Triune
He blessed myself and my house,
My cattle and my dear ones,
And the lark said in her song,
Often - often - often
Goes the Christ in the Stranger's
guise,
Often - often - often
Goes the Christ in the Stranger's
guise.

RULES OF THE STORK

When it is known that the stork is going to visit a house the expectant parents always wonder just what he is going to leave them. He seems to them a very whimsical old bird for they never know whether to expect a baby boy or girl, or whether it will be healthy and strong. Sometimes he surprises them with two babies, or even three or more. But when we consider it all from the stork's own point of view we see that he works according to quite definite rules; the trouble is that in doing so much work he pays very little attention to the wishes of individual families.

Year in and year out he brings more boy babies than girls, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In Canada it is about 105 or 106 boys for every 100 girls. He has to do this to keep the balance even, for the infant boys are not as strong as the girls, and four of them will die for every three of the girls.

The stork has quite a fixed rule, too, about the number of times he brings more than one baby. Year after year he refuses to make 100 trips without bringing two babies on one of them. About once in 80 or 85 times it is. And in the long run, for every 100 times he takes twins he one takes triplets. On rare occasions he carries four or more. Perhaps if we watched him long enough, we would find that he brings more than three about once for every 100 times that he brings three. He has done it twice in Canada in ten years, while he has brought triplets 283 times, and 28,400 pairs of twins. To carry out this rule he would bring more than three only once in about one million trips.—Exchange.
