

WEEKLY NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIONVILLE DISTRICT

A vivid word picture of a pleasant summer abroad when many countries were visited, was portrayed by Miss Marion Hood to the girls' Junior Marion Hood to the girls' Junior A delightful steamer trip, meeting many charming people aboard, was a good beginning for this delightful adventure, then motoring through the south of England, noted for its charming scenery, visiting historic places, the Mineral Springs at Bath, then Stratford on Avon, with its charming Ann Hathway cottage and the home of Shakespeare. A pause in Liverpool, which derived its name from the flocks of liver birds that frequent the place. A visit to Glasgow, and the ship building yards on the Clyde river, Burns cottage, the guide of which was a true worshipper of Burns, quoting his poetry at every turn. Then Edinburgh, the Scottish war memorial, and of course, London, with scores of places of great interest.

The trip through Holland, where, if rumors be true, there are eight million people, three million bicycles and two million cows; the interesting houses with narrow stair cases, acres and acres of growing bulbs, a veritable fairy land, a quaint hospitable people, with a welcome for all visitors. Amsterdam with its seventy canals and two hundred and eighty bridges. Brussels, famous for lace-making, Cals the Tower on the Rhine. The love for flowers was evidenced throughout Germany with every house adorned with window flower boxes. The favorite variety planted was Petunias. One German custom, we would do well to follow, is the planting of a tree for every tree cut down.

A two and a half hour motor drive over the Alps into Switzerland, the road making seventy-two turns, left delightful memories; the League of Nations building at Geneva, a visit to Italy; to Venice, which reposes fairy-like on 110 islands, a thrilling ride in a gondola, a visit to the famous Cathedral, with its uniquely fashioned Mosaic windows, a glimpse of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor holidaying at Venice, France and Belgium. The thrill visiting the Canadian war memorial at Vimy, back to London and home again. The girls were deeply appreciative of this highly educational, and interesting talk and expressed thanks to Miss Hood.

The roll call for this meeting was responded to by naming your favorite flower or plant and why? Della Dimma won the lucky draw.

A debate on the question "Resolved that a tractor is a profitable and practicable investment on 100 acres" paved the way for lively discussion in open forum at the boys' meeting with Bill Champion as "Speaker of the House". Jim Darling and Murray Macklin upheld the affirmative with Elliott Harrington and Russell Little on the negative. The judges were Wm. Clark, Rev. Jamieson and Don E. Kennedy. The negative side was given favorable decision.

The first prize of $10.00 given in the Starling and Woodchuck contest to the school holding highest number of points was won by S.S. 18, Box Grove, Jessie Davidson, teacher; the 2nd prize, $5.00, to S.S. 19, Bena MacPherson, teacher; 3rd prize, $3.00 to S.S. 8, Myrtle Hammel, teacher; 4th prize to S.S. 20, Ester Reesor, teacher. This contest was sponsored by the Boys' Club and great interest was manifested by the pupils of various schools. At the joint meeting the "Newcaster", edited by Edna Irwin and Elliott Harrington was read by Don Kennedy. Betty Clark, along with chosen assistant, will gather the news in December. Refreshments and dancing followed, and the usual good social time concluded the evening.

Election of officers is announced for the December meeting. Be sure to be on time.

"Twas myriads of queer little people that paid visits to our citizens on Saturday evening last, and commendation is in order for the mannerly way these queer visitors conducted themselves, not a whisper of anything otherwise, good hours kept, and no property damage noted. Who wouldn't enjoy a Hallowe'en like that?"
