

George Court Is Seriously Hurt By Gasoline Explosion

Mistook Gasoline for Coal Oil—Fine Shorthorn Bull Brings Handsome Price at Auction Sale—Retiring United Church Organist Honored — Newsy Notes From Unionville District

The entire village and surrounding community were shocked on Friday to learn that Mr. George Court had suffered a serious accident, which resulted from mistaking a gasoline can for a coal oil can when lighting a fire in the stove. Mr. Court was removed by ambulance at once to the General Hospital and little hope is held for his recovery. Mrs. Court and family have the sincere sympathy of their many acquaintances.

The Y.P.S. of Central United Church spent a delightful evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Appleton on Monday evening last. A social event was the gist of the announcement and everybody enjoyed themselves. During the evening lovely kitchen clocks were presented by Rev. A. E. Owen on behalf of the Young People to Miss Ruby Hightower and Miss Fern Kennedy, brides of the month. Congratulations and best wishes for all good things in life accompanied the gifts.

Richmond Hill Institute members were guests of the Unionville Institute on Thursday afternoon. A report of the meeting came too late for this week's issue and will follow next week.

Members of Unionville Bowling Club have distinguished themselves again. P. J. Dixon and Miss Janet French were high winners in the Doubles Tournament with 3 wins. Fred Carruthers and Miss Luella Holden of Stouffville came second with 3 wins; Mr. and Mrs. Beckett, Claremont, 2 wins, and Vernon Trunk and Miss E. Empringham, Unionville, 1 win.

This week's activity includes the annual Thanksgiving event, with Fowl for the prizes. This event has proved most popular and a large attendance is anticipated. The Tournament will be held on Saturday, October 8th. Announcement is made of the Tournament for the Business Men's Cup, that was scheduled for Wednesday last, but owing to unfavorable weather conditions was postponed until October 15th. Kindly take note of change of date.

Two important Shorthorn Cattle sales were held this week. The first in order was held on Klaynor Farm, property of W. J. Russell on Monday last, when Klaynor Bean Ideal brought an outstanding sale price of $1950. J. Douglas and Sons were

Mr. Russell's co-partners in this sale and the remaining forty-seven animals were indeed a credit to these internationally well known herds.

Wednesday afternoon at Glenburn Farms, owned by Col. F. H. Deacon, thirty-eight cattle from the herds of John Gardhouse and Sons, T. A. Russell, BraeLodge Farms, and Col. F. H. Deacon went under the auctioneer's hammer. The splendid attendance in spite of unfavorable weather conditions evidenced the interest shown, and buyers from Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, N. Dakota, Illinois, Iowa and throughout the Dominion confirmed the fact. Both sales were catered to by the ladies of the Public Library Board, Unionville, and many words of praise regarding the meal served were heard frequently.

Honor was paid Mrs. E. E. Braithwaite, retiring organist of Central United Church last Tuesday evening when the choir met at the home of Mrs. W. J. Perkin. Mrs. Braithwaite has efficiently served as organist for the past ten years and Rev. A. E. Owen in expressing gratitude on behalf of the choir and the congregation presented her with a handsome Morocco hand bag. Bert Dyke was master of ceremonies and the event was a most delightful affair.

Harvest Home Festival will be observed in St. Phillip's Anglican Church on Sunday next. Inspirational addresses and appropriate special music promise splendid services to which all are cordially invited.

Mrs. Geo. Robinson and Mrs. John Tully of Markham were guests of Mrs. G. R. Whaley last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hall, Miss Libby Gibson and Miss Mary Gibson of Toronto were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gibson on Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson returning with them and spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. E. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rae are leaving on Friday to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred MacKay of Port Colbourne were guests of Dr. C. R. MacKay last week.

Mrs. R. J. Duffield is visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Grace Harrington spent the week-end at her home here.

The Officers will be installed at the Young People's Service to be conducted by the Rev. W. F. Wrixon on Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

IN MEMORIAM

SOMMERVILLE—In loving memory of Catherine Margaret Somerville, who entered into rest on October 7, 1937, beloved mother of Mina G. Somerville and sister of M. W. Boa of Montreal and N. M. Davison of Unionville.

The empty room filled still with your sweet presence,

The empty room where once you lived and loved and suffered

Yet, suffering filled our lives with gladness,

Who, basking in the sunlight of your smile,

Guessed not the depths of anguish Whence your soul had garnered treasure

To lavish upon us.

How empty seems your room!

Tho' permeated with a subtle perfume

Distilled like rarest altar

From the crushed petal of a rose,

And in the silence of this empty chamber

We think we hear the rustle of an angel's wing.
