MAPLE

The weekly meeting of the Y.P.U. was held in the S.S. Room of the United Church on Monday evening with 31 present. Mrs. Armstrong, Missionary Convener, was in charge of the program. After the devotional period Mrs. Armstrong read a missionary story, vocal duet by Edwin and Douglas Crooks, missionary reading by Mrs. Merritt and a talk on missionary work by Rev. McCrimmon. Meeting closed with a hymn and the benediction.

Maple United Church Choir took charge of the singing at the morning service at Markham United Church Anniversary on Sunday last and were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Alexander.

Don't forget the Chicken Supper and sale of Christmas Gifts and useful articles at St. Stephen's Church Parish Hall Saturday, December 3rd at 5.30 p.m.

At the Presbyterian Young People's Union meeting on Monday evening, members of the congregation were guests and moving pictures were shown by Campbell Snider on his trip through the States and Western Canada. Mrs. S. Jones sang a solo.

The November meeting of the Hope W.A. was held in the Sunday School Room on November 10. Group 5, Mrs. K. Thomas, Mrs. N. Hoiles, Mrs. Sanford and Mrs. Reynolds, were in charge of the meeting. A very interesting address on Temperance was given by Rev. McCrimmon. A quilt was quilted after which a delicious supper was served by the group. Table collection $7.75.

Mrs. George Reaman of Richmond Hill and Dr. Elmore Reaman of Toronto visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Mathewson.

Do your Christmas shopping early.

VICTORIA SQUARE

Well, who says the weatherman is not harding out surprises these days? But, anyway, it is certainly more reasonable so we must not complain.

Last Wednesday night was certainly a "Red Letter Night" in Victoria Square when the annual Food Supper was given in the church, and what a crowd! Over six hundred tickets were sold and those purchasing them expressed extreme satisfaction with the supper they were served. An interesting and entertaining program was put on by Toronto talent. Certainly it was a full evening in every sense of the word.

Wedding bells are again ringing in the Square. Best wishes to the ones for whom they are ringing.

John and Ike Williamson spent the week-end at their home here and with their friend, Joe Cherry.

Miss McMahon of Toronto is spending a few days in her cottage here.

Mrs. L. Williamson of Simcoe Point, Pickering, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dennis.

Misses Bertie Forster, Stella and Leda Szilega and Bobby Haydon were guests of little Miss Helen Boynton on Saturday last, it being the occasion of her seventh birthday. Congratulations, Helen!

We are pleased to learn that Master Leonard Frisby who celebrated his fourth birthday on Tuesday, the fifteenth, is making rapid recovery now. Congratulations to you, Leonard!

We are glad to hear, too, that baby David McClure is able to be home from the hospital. But yet, David requires the greatest care and we hope he soon makes a complete recovery.

RICHMOND HILL OBSERVED ANNUAL REMEMBRANCE DAY WITH IMPRESSIVE SERVICES BROADCAST BY STATION CBL.

Congratulations Pour In On Richmond Hill's Service—
Impressive Address by Honourable Albert Matthews,
Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario

Richmond Hill's annual Remembrance Day Service was heard throughout Canada Sunday afternoon through the facilities of the Canadian Radio Commission station CBL and this week many congratulations have been received from Toronto and outside points on the impressiveness of the service. A crowd estimated at three thousand gathered at the Memorial for the service which was unanimously declared by those in attendance to be one of the finest ever held in York County.

Reeve J. A. Greene presided and occupying places of honor at the memorial were His Honor Albert Matthews, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and Mrs. Matthews, Col. W. P. Mulock, K.C., M.P., President of the York County Veterans Association and Mrs. Mulock, Sir William Mulock, Morgan Baker, M.P.P., Councillor P. C. Hill, Councillor Christian Nelson, Reeve R. W. Scott and Deputy Reeve Boynton Weldrick of Vaughan, Reeve James Rennie of Markham Township, Reeve Bert Knowles of Aurora, Col. G. Hedley Basher A.D.C. to the Lieutenant-Governor and others.

The guard of honor for the Lieutenant-Governor was supplied by a company of the Queen's York Rangers (1st American Regiment) and the Queen's Rangers band played during the inspection of the guard by His Honor.

A parade which numbered over seven hundred arrived at the Memorial at 2.50 and the service started promptly at three p.m. Everything in the entire program went along without a hitch and those responsible for the arrangements deserve much credit for the efficient manner in which the entire service was conducted. Although cool the weather was fair and the great crowd stayed from the start to the conclusion of the program.

Appropriate remarks by Reeve J. A. Greene opened the program. Speaking to the visible and invisible audience the Reeve said that the passing of twenty years has not dimmed and will not dim the significance of Remembrance Day for the British people. In common with people everywhere throughout the Empire today we stand with bowed heads at the cenotaph and pay tribute to the sacrifice of those who gave their lives in the Great War. Referring to the recent war threat he said "the critical time through which the world is passing has but made more evident to us the meaning of the sacrifices made by those who forever lie in Flanders fields. Our memory of them is forever green. We do, remember them."

The opening hymn was "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and led by Miss Doreen Johnson and accompanied by the North Toronto Silver Band the hymn numbers were outstanding features of the program. The singing of Richmond Hill's talented young artist brought words of praise from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir William Mulock, and from hundreds who attended the services or listened to the program over the air. Rev. W. F. Wrixon of St. Mary's Anglican Church led in prayer.

Wreaths were laid on the Memorial by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Vaughan and Richmond Hill Veterans, Village of Richmond Hill, the Province of Ontario, Richmond Hill Women's Institute, Richmond Hill L.O.L., and several Veterans organizations.

The sounding of the Last Post by the Newmarket Bugle Band in unique and impressive manner was another of the highlights of the service.

His Honor the Honourable Albert Matthews addressed the great gathering and the message of the representative of His Majesty the King in this province was listened to with rapt attention by the great audience and was carried over the air to the great invisible audience. The message of His Honor was as follows:

The Lieutenant-Governor counts it a very great privilege to be at Richmond Hill this afternoon to join with both the visible and invisible audience in this significant service and, with others to place his wreath at the foot of the Soldiers Memorial.

We gladly follow the example of our beloved Sovereign, who on Friday last at the Cenotaph at Whitehall, paid his tribute to the Empire's dead. It is a deeply significant thought that everywhere throughout the Empire—the people have followed His Majesty's example, and have assembled themselves at these memorials in City, Town and Village to pay proud and loving tribute to those who have passed out of our sight. Also to demonstrate in no uncertain way our loyalty to the Throne and person of His Gracious Majesty, and to those democratic ideals, which His Majesty represents—so nobly before a critical world.

Surely we can realize that in this world-wide demonstration—the seeds of a greater empire have been abundantly sown by the rich red wine of our beloved dead.

Also I am sure these demonstrations of loyalty will greatly comfort and strengthen His Majesty—in his heavy burden of Kingship.

Twenty years ago, at eleven o'clock in the morning, the Cease Fire sounded on the battle fronts of Empire. The so-called "War to end War" was over.

It is fitting that our Service of Remembrance this afternoon be characterized by brevity of speech and depth of feeling. There are experiences we would relegate to our inner consciousness and seek to understand, the while we made no outward indication of their presence.

Those whose memories we would commemorate, twenty years after a war which failed to fulfil the promise for which they gave their lives, immediately stir in us such words of tribute as Sacrifice, Valour, Honour, and Loyalty. All these, and more, they demonstrated as they went out from hundreds of communities such as this, across the broad reaches of the Dominion. We must not listen to that vagrant, alien voice which intrudes uncomfortably on our train of thought to cynically aver that their hopes were vain and their gift of life and limb a mockery. Whatever judgment history may deign to make, we know why they served their turn and did not "grudge the throe."

Paraphrasing a sentence from a recent novel, we can say "They fought for what in their own time was charged with the deepest meaning and the greatest hope; they died, each of these men, because they had given meaning to their lives." They stood for something. What would have been the value of their lives in their own sight, if they had not been willing to make a supreme sacrifice? For us, that sacrifice has become legendary—written deeply into our national consciousness and ennobling our Canadian heritage.

Our glorious dead, together with those who remain whether maimed or whole—stood for what was dearer to them than life itself—honor and loyalty to King and Country. Let us very frankly make our position clear, each one of us—not only in his own conscience but to all about him—what we of today really stand for—in life's unending battle. Can we measure up to the high standard set by our brave men of twenty years ago?

It is for us, the living, to take stock of our personal responsibilities concerning the way of life in which their faith was rooted. Today, that way of life is threatened on all sides by disruptive forces eager to assert a creed which is the negation of things we have come to recognize as essential to the unfettered development of a free people.

Therein lies our trust to those who were not able to return and build that better world of which they dreamed. May you and I dedicate anew our allegiance to the principles which will yet make of us a great nation, worthy to carry on the tradition they sought to perpetuate. In conclusion, let us hear Alfred Noyes as he speaks of his lost comrades, and his appeal to the living: "There's but one gift that all our dead desire,

One gift that men can give, and that's a dream,
Unless we, too, can burn with that same fire
Of sacrifice; die to the things that seem;
Die to the little hatreds; die to greed;
Die to the old ignoble selves we knew;
Die to the base contempt of sect and creed,
And rise again, like these, with souls as true.

Nay, (since these died before their task was finished),
Attempt new heights, bring even their dreams to birth,
Build us that better world, O, not diminished
By one true splendour that they planned on earth.
And that's not done by sword, or tongue, or pen;
There's but one way. God make us better men."

The scripture reading was given by Rev. C. W. Follett of Richmond Hill United Church and this was followed by the hymn "Abide With Me." Sir William Mulock, Canada's Grand Old Man who soon will celebrate his ninety-fifth birthday delivered an inspiring message to the people. "Stand by the Mother Country as one man, if you wish to protect civilization," he said. "Little did we think 20 years ago, when the Armistice was signed, that barbarism would threaten the world again. And I mean barbarism." Sir William declared. He stated that conditions such as those existing in Germany to-day were revolting. He flayed the Germans for their mistreatment of the Jews within their country.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. D. Cunningham of Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church after which Miss Betty Smith on behalf of the Village of Richmond Hill presented Mrs. Matthews, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

The National Anthem brought the service to a close, after which the parade reformed and the salute was taken by Hon. Mr. Matthews and party on Yonge Street at Richmond Street. The parade in charge of Major A. Condie of the York County Veterans and James Butler, president of the Vaughan and Richmond Hill veterans included: Guard of Honor, Queen's Rangers (1st American Regiment); Originals

W.W. Trench P.S.I. Honored By Teachers Of East York District

Presented With Grandfather Clock And Unique Expression of Esteem

Mr. W. W. A. Trench of Richmond Hill, Public School Inspector of Division 5 York County and who recently was transferred to the York Township district was singularly honored by the teachers of his former inspectorate last Thursday evening. At a meeting of the teachers' Association of District 5 held at Danforth Park School Mr. Trench was presented with a grandfather clock and a unique and beautifully bound address. The address took the form of a book containing a page from each school in the inspectorate bearing the signatures of all the teachers, and giving glowing testimony to the esteem and respect in which the retiring inspector was held by the members of the teaching staff. Mr. Trench who has served for the past seventeen years is now the senior inspector of the County and commenced his new duties in York Township division in September. In accepting the gift and expressing his thanks Inspector Trench recalled the many changes which had taken place in the East York district during the past seventeen years.

Club, Toronto; Sappers Association, Toronto; Provincial Hydro Legion, Toronto; Branch 66, Canadian Legion, Willowdale; North York Township Veterans; Newmarket Veterans Association; York County Veterans Central Executive; York County Veterans Association branches, Vaughan and Richmond Hill, Aurora, Woodbridge, Schomberg, Unionville, Markham, Stouffville, Sutton, Gwillimbury, Whitchurch, Mount Albert, Georgina, King, Maple, Nobleton unattached Veterans, and Boy Scouts and Girl Guides.

The parade was dismissed at the High School grounds and light refreshments were served to the veterans and members of the bands taking part.

The entire service from beginning to end was a red-letter event in the history of Richmond Hill. It was an impressive tribute to the honored dead and Richmond Hill citizens have every reason to feel proud of the 1938 Remembrance Day service. To Reeve J. A. Greene, the members of council, the Veterans organizations co-operating, the bands and all who assisted in making the day noteworthy The Liberal extends congratulations.
