HEADFORD

The Young People's Union met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith on Monday evening with a good attendance. The programme was in charge of the Citizenship Convenor, Miss Margaret Lilley. The scripture reading and comments were given by Elmer Leek. Miss Gwen Smith favoured us with a solo. A poem "The Touch of the Master's Hand" was given by Allan Wellman. The topic for the evening was "Fascism and Nazism", given by Ruth Bice after which all enjoyed a social time with games and refreshments.

There will be no Young People's Union next week but instead everybody is urged to attend the Young People's Rally in Bloor Street United Church on Monday evening, January 30th.

The Macdonald Sunshine Mission Band will meet on Sunday, January 29 at 2.30 in the Sunday School room. Any new members will be welcomed. Everybody welcome.

TESTON

There was no meeting of the Y.P. U. on Sunday evening owing to the stormy weather.

The W.A. met at the home of Mrs. E. Carson Wednesday afternoon, January 18th, with an attendance of 24. Among the important items of business was the election of a President to fill the office of Mrs. Harry Ireland who gave up owing to the fact she found it impossible to accept. Mrs. Wm. Windas was elected. The usual program was then given. Saturday evening, January 21st, a meeting of the Sunday School Executive was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pratt when plans for the year were discussed. The Superintendent, Mrs. E. Bowen, presided.

Friends were pleased to hear that Mrs. Roy Wilson is improving satisfactorily at Private Patients Pavilion, Western Hospital since her operation last week and wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, Toronto, Mrs. Roy Wilson's parents, are staying with Mr. Wilson while she is in the hospital.

Rev. D. Davis was a guest for dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Clarkson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bowen visited with Alex. and Mrs. MacDonald on Sunday.

Miss Lorna Henderson was a guest of the Robsons on Sunday.

Mr. John Gray attended the funeral of the late Tilford Gunn at Nashville on Friday afternoon. Mr. James McCluskey attended the funeral service at the McDougal Funeral Home at Pinewood and St. Clair.

Golden Wedding

Monday evening, January 16, was the occasion of a very pleasant surprise for Mr. and Mrs. James Ranesbottom, Teston, when twenty-three relatives and friends from Toronto came up to celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of their wedding day. Included among the guests was their son, Mr. James Ranesbottom of Copper Cliff, and daughter Mrs. S. E. Henderson, Toronto. A very pleasant evening was spent and Mr. and Mrs. Ranesbottom were presented with a purse of gold, two table lamps and a basket of daffodils. Their many friends in the district extend congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Ranesbottom on this occasion.

Sudden Passing of Tilford Gunn

Tuesday evening brought the sad news to friends here of the passing of Mr. Tilford Gunn, formerly of Teston and later of Toronto where he resided after Gunn Bros. gave up farming in the district. The late Mr. Gunn was one of the jolliest members of the party at the Golden Wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. James Ranesbottom on Monday evening, but feeling ill on Tuesday he went to his sister's home where he collapsed. Medical aid was called in and later in the afternoon he seemed to be sleeping but on going to his room it was discovered that death had claimed him. He is survived by a brother in the west, Bert in Toronto, and Otto at Nobleton, and a sister Mrs. Gladys Ranesbottom of Toronto. The funeral was held from McDougal's Funeral Home on Friday afternoon of last week, to Nashville cemetery. Deceased was in his 46th year.

Mrs. George Taggart received a letter from her aunt, Mrs. Charles Hollingshead, 296 Roxton Road, Toronto, and at the age of eighty years Mrs. Hollingshead is cutting a tooth. This is most unusual and it may be that more will appear.

CAR INSURANCE

(Peterborough Examiner)

It is hard enough to understand why a driver is allowed to take a car on the road without any insurance. He can damage the car of another driver and then say he has no insurance and no money. And trying to collect from such an individual is likely to result in even greater loss.

VICTORIA SQUARE

Well, old King Winter has certainly come into his own these last few days. The snow plough has been very much in evidence keeping the highway open. The condition of the roads has seriously affected the attendance of the agriculture and Home Economics classes but it is hoped that the worst is over. The banquet on Friday night will bring all to a grand finish. A Missionary from China will be the guest speaker. A pleasant and profitable time is anticipated.

The Women's Association gave a very successful supper on Monday evening last under the leadership of Mrs. Meek and her group. At the conclusion of the supper a congregational meeting was held and reports from the various departments of the church were read. These reports were very satisfactory. Mr. L. L. Nichols was elected to take the place of the late Mr. Haig on the Board of Session.

Mr. J. R. Thompson of Parkhill is visiting friends here. Mr. Thompson lived in this community some years ago.

Mrs. David Watson, Miss Myrtle Watson and Mrs. Robt. Hynes of Stouffville were Wednesday guests at the home of Mrs. Ratcliff.

Miss C. Heise of Uxbridge is spending a few weeks with her friend, Mrs. W. F. Nichols.

Mrs. Boadway and Mrs. Coulson of Unionville and their cousin, Mrs. Alexander, of Ailsa Craig were Tuesday guests of Mrs. W. F. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gooderham of Lansing were recent visitors here. Mr. Gooderham called on an old neighbour, Mr. Thos. Glover.

Late Rev. Wm. Haig

A large gathering of relatives and friends assembled at the late home of Rev. Wm. Haig on Monday morning to pay their last respects. Mr. Haig had been ill for several weeks and for some time it was apparent to the ones who waited upon him that his days were numbered. Last Friday morning the call came and he peacefully passed away.

Mr. Haig was born on December 31, 1861 in Baltimore, Ontario. He received his public and high school education in Cobourg and then entered Knox College in Toronto from where he graduated in 1891. In 1892 he married Miss Helen Ross of Grafton who died in 1909. Then he married Miss Margaret Goforth in 1913 who survives him, also one daughter Mrs. Harold Burwash, Agincourt, by his first marriage; 3 brothers and 1 sister, Rev. Alex Haig and Mr. Donald Haig of Agincourt, Mr. David Haig and Mrs. Mann of Baltimore; also two granddaughters, Helen and Ruth, mourn his loss.

During his ministry he preached in charges at Hyde Park, Milbank, Columbus, Bond Head, Victoria Square.

The pallbearers were six nephews of his own choosing, namely, Gordon Haig, Donald Haig, David Haig, James Johnson, Frank Bennett and Walter Goforth. The ministers in charge of the service were Rev. C. W. Follett of Richmond Hill, representing the Toronto Presbytery, Rev. Macdonald, Mr. Haig's minister, Rev. Mr. Tuer of Agincourt, Rev. Dr. Andrew Ross of Kingston and Rev. Brubaker of Gormley.

Mr. Haig will be greatly missed in this community. In all church activities he was very much interested and always took a very active part while his health permitted it. He was a devoted and thoughtful pastor at both services. Choice music tended to Mrs. Haig, his daughter and other relatives. Interment took place in Baltimore.

CAPITOL THEATRE

THEY HAD TO FIND VIENNESE FOREST FOR A BACKGROUND

So Studio Creates Innovation of Giving Trees a "Screen Test"

Actors have faced screen tests for many years, but when technicians started out to make screen tests of all the scenic forests in Northern California, it marked the first time in screen history that trees and rocks have been tested for a role.

A technical crew covered California to find the "Vienna Woods" for "The Great Waltz," coming Monday to the Capitol Theatre.

In the picture, the forest figures in one of the most important episodes in which Fernand Gravet, as Johann Strauss, discovers his love for Miliza Korjus and, at the same time, is inspired by the birds, the brook, the wind in the trees and the beauties of nature, to compose "Tales from the Vienna Woods."

Beauty spots along the Redwood Highway, in Napa and Sonoma counties and about Clear Lake and the Russian River, were covered in the screen tests. Julien Duvivier directed the picture in which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is reproducing Strauss music on an elaborate scale. Luise Rainer, Gravet and Miss Korjus have the principal roles.

You can tell whether you are being perfectly neutral in any matter. If you are, both sides cuss you.

Toronto children will take part in two demonstrations of welcome to the King and Queen on their visit here in May. It was announced by the special committee to arrange for the royal visit that as well as the rally scheduled for Riverdale Park another will be held in the grounds of the Canadian National Exhibition.

In 10 days a map will be released showing the route the royal party will travel through Toronto. It was also announced the official luncheon will be held in Hart House after the King and Queen have visited the Parliament buildings. Maximum seating accommodation in the banquet hall there is 600 people as compared to 1,700 had it been decided to hold the luncheon in a hotel.

It was announced the royal visit to Christie Street hospital had been definitely decided upon.

The royal train will not arrive at the Union station but at North Yonge Street C.P.R. station, where it will remain until moved out to the Exhibition grounds prior to their majesties' departure.

WRONG ADVICE

Friend: "You say you are out of employment?"
Tramp: "Yes."
Friend: "You have nobody to blame but yourself; you should throw yourself into work."
Tramp: "You frighten me; I'm a grave-digger."

Maybe it isn't smart to brag about your town's big population. Prospective enemy bombers might make a note of it.
