

PROFESSIONAL MAN ENDORSES WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS

Weekly and community newspapers are winning an increasingly important position in our national life, J. H. Mullin, Toronto chiropractor said last night in an address delivered there.

Urging his hearers to pay close attention to their local newspapers, Mr. Mullin said that recently an article in a weekly newspaper mentioned certain matters of health which, he believes, should be common knowledge. Response to the article was astounding. Numbers of requests for literature were addressed to the Mullin Chiropractic Clinic. Some asked further information on the specific matters mentioned in the article, while numbers of others asked for health information in widely separated fields such as heart deficiency, asthma, hay fever, kidney ailments, and common seasonal complaints.

"The astonishing number of replies, shows that the weekly newspaper of today is closely read by its subscribers who, besides reading it for news, look to it for up-to-date and impartial information in matters affecting health.

"In this respect", Mr. Mullin concluded, "it is clear that editors of weekly newspapers deserve approbation and public recognition. They contribute a great public service to the communities they serve."

Ground Inquest Held Tuesday

A coroner's jury at Vandorf Tuesday night found that John William Ground came to his death on June 22 at Wilcox Lake by "suffocation as a result of spasm of the larynx by immersion self inflicted."

Dr. E. R. Frankish, medico-legal adviser to the attorney-general's department exploded the popular theory that a person drowned has water in his lungs.

"In about one third of my examinations and autopsies," said Dr. Frankish, "I have found that there is little or no water in the lungs. A fluid sucked into the bronchial tubes causes almost immediate suffocation. The irritant causes a spasm of the larynx as in this case. When a person is rescued the rescuer should insert his two forefingers into the glottis or pharynx which are at the base of the mouth. If the fingers cannot be inserted the person is almost assuredly dead. If on the other hand the fingers can be inserted the victim has a chance of being resuscitated. The condition of larangynal spasm is found also in victims that are executed by hanging or electrocution," Dr. Frankish explained.

W. J. Ground, son of the deceased told how he saw his father at 11 o'clock the preceding evening. He first learned of the disappearance he said the next morning when his mother phoned him.

Dr. C. Warren explained that the deceased visited him twice in June about a lump in his side. He advised him to have an operation to which Mr. Ground said, "I've never had an operation and never will."

Sgt. of Detectives Syd. Barraclough testified that they had traced Mr. Ground from Toronto to Richmond Hill on the radial car. "From Richmond Hill to Wilcox Lake he possibly got a ride in a car or truck," Sgt. Barraclough said.

Fred Long of the Bedford Park Floral Co. said that he was riding to work on the 6.20 radial car on the morning of June 22 and he saw Mr. Ground on the same car. "I spoke to him but he seemed preoccupied," said Mr. Long. "He got off at the radial station and asked when the Aurora bus passed through Richmond Hill. The conductor of the radial car told him it was at 8 o'clock."

SOFTBALL NOTES

Richmond Hill Drop Two

Playing their third game in as many nights Richmond Hill lost a close game to Newmarket on Thursday evening of last week by a score of 4-3. It was a pitcher's battle from start to finish with Niles of the Redmen taking the verdict over Ted Bennett. It was anybody's game until the last man was out in the last inning as Richmond Hill had two men on base and were not able to get a hit.

On Tuesday night the boys journeyed to King City and defeated the last place team by a one-sided score of 8-0.

On Wednesday night a postponed game between Richmond Hill and Sutton was played in Sutton and the local boys came home on the short end of a 4-3 score. Richmond Hill's inability to get hits with men on base was the main reason for defeat.

Tonight the Aurora boys play here and the B-A boys are out to redeem themselves. Turn out and lend them your vocal support.

Roads Commission Appeals for Common Sense from Motorists

Elimination of highway accidents can best be brought about by the education of motorists, in the opinion of members of Toronto and York Roads commission. Members of the commission approved installation of several improved traffic aids yesterday but insisted that the reduction of accidents depended primarily on "common sense" driving.

Installation of traffic-actuated lights at Lansing Road and Yonge highway was approved by the commission. The new modern light will cost $2,500 and will replace the present lights which were described as "erratic". The commission also approved erection of reflector-type signs at Lansing side road and Bayview Ave. and on individual posts at the Agincourt cutoff.

"It seems to be a matter of public education that is required," declared Dave Spence, M.P., chairman of the commission. "The public should know that we are trying new safety measures all the time and that these are erected for a purpose," he added.

Make Employees Members

Sixteen employees of the Good Roads system were made members of the Ontario Safety league to improve their knowledge of traffic conditions and preventive measures by order of the commission. Harvey Rose, county engineer, explained that most of them spent much time on the highways and membership in the league would help them in their work.

Supporting members of the commission in their contention that motorists should be more attentive to signs, Mr. Rose revealed that 50 per cent of the black and white checkerboard signs on dead-end roads had to be repaired yearly. The signs are 10 feet square, large enough to be seen, he thought. "But yet they do not heed them until it is too late," Mr. Rose said.

A more graphic portrayal of the perils of careless driving through the use of billboards was urged by R. R. Leslie, city member of the commission. He referred to the signs in the U.S. where a sketch of a bad accident was shown together with a large-size figure of a traffic officer pointing his finger accusingly at everyone who drove by. J. Ray Price mentioned a state where crosses were erected at points every time there was a fatality. He saw 12 crosses at one spot, he said.

Trucks to Have 16 Lights

All large freight trucks must carry 16 lights after Sept. 1, by order of the department of highways, Mr. Leslie, owner of a cartage business, informed the commission. The trucks must have six lights at the back and three red and three green lights on tractors, he said.

Mr. Leslie pointed out that improved machinery used by the commission now enabled them to paint the centre white strip on 20 miles of highway per day compared to five miles a day formerly. "We will soon have all our roads painted which should be of considerable help," he said.

Cattle crossing signs are almost completely ignored by drivers, Mr. Rose declared. "One of these days someone is going to hit a cow and their car may be overturned."

"We cannot put lights at every intersection because of the cost," declared Mr. Spence. "We recommended lights at Don Mills Rd., where the multiple fatality occurred some time ago but they were not approved by the department until last week. York county is not worse than other sections of the province for accidents and it must be remembered that it comprises 30 per cent of the population and includes Toronto," Mr. Spence said.

HALTS NEAR-SIGHTEDNESS

It has been discovered that myopia, or progressive near-sightedness, which has inflicted blindness or thick-lensed glasses on thousands, may be checked by the use of adrenalin.

The treatment is simple. It involves only the use of adrenalin eye drops over a period of months, and it may be done at home.

TOO MUCH SPEED

Again there are complaints regarding people who drive too quickly through the village. Cars as well as trucks, when trying to get up speed to ascend hills leading north and south from the village, reportedly flash up and down the street as fast as 40 and 50 miles an hour. It is being suggested that an example may have to be made of a few to have the travelling public show regard for the local speed limit.
