Miss Toronto To Be Guest at the Lions' Carnival

Beauty Contest Winner To Be Here Wednesday, August 9—Markham Band To Give Concert on Street Starting at 7 p.m.

"Miss Toronto" of 1939, the Queen City beauty contest winner has been invited to attend the annual Lions Club carnival and street dance at Richmond Hill Wednesday, August 9. More charming even than her photos Miss Toronto, (Mrs. J. G. Morris) expressed her interest in the work of the Lions Club and intimated that she would be pleased to attend and glad of the opportunity of helping along such a good cause in any way within her power. While plans are not yet complete it is likely there will be a presentation to the beauty Queen by the Lions Club and the municipality. Mrs. Morris plans to attend the whole evening's entertainment and help in the games and climax the program by drawing the tickets for the lucky number prizes.

"Miss Toronto's" patronage of the Lions Club carnival adds much interest to the event which is already attracting widespread attention and which this year promises to shatter all previous attendance records.

Another new feature of the carnival announced this week by Lion Lloyd A. Hill, chairman of the committee in charge is that the Markham brass band of thirty pieces will give a band concert on the street commencing at 7 o'clock. The band will play until the dancing starts at 9 p.m. to music supplied by Russ Creighton and his famous orchestra.

The midway which will be operated by Lions club members has many new games and attractions with beautiful prizes for those whose lucky star shines that night.

Two hundred dollars will be given away to holders of lucky number admission tickets which are now being sold by members and friends of the Lions club.

All the money raised is used entirely for community service work and as the club makes few appeals to the public we hope that this big event will receive the generous support which it deserves. Everyone can help in the fine work the Lions club is carrying on by buying tickets and by boosting the carnival and selling tickets to their friends.

Books of tickets may be secured from Lion R. Paris or at The Liberal Office and the Lions make this appeal to friends throughout the district to assist in selling the tickets. Help along the Lions by selling a book of tickets.

COUNCIL DEBATES EXPENDITURE FOR SEWER SYSTEM ESTIMATES

Reeve Urges That Survey Be Made So Town Might Participate In Government Works Plan — Councillor Little Opposes Proposal

Richmond Hill council members in special session last Thursday laid over until a future meeting definite decision concerning the proposal to have an engineer's report on the extent and cost of a sewage system for the town. Reeve J. A. Greene urged that the council go ahead and have the survey made but he was strenuously opposed by Councillor Alex Little and mildly opposed by councillor Nelson. Councillor Hill favored the survey but thought there should be a full attendance of council members to decide the matter.

For some time council members have been discussing a sewer system as an improvement needed in Richmond Hill and an expenditure which will have to be faced sometime in the future. Reeve Greene has over a long period urged members to keep the sewer project in mind in making other changes to the streets and to make long distance plans for the improvement. The matter was brought to a head recently by the announced policy of the Dominion government to give aid to municipalities for public works as an aid to employment. The Reeve has been in touch with the Dominion authorities and has assurance that the Federal government will pay fifty per cent of the labor costs if the work is done for unemployment relief and on condition the province will subscribe a similar amount. Before the government aid can be secured Reeve Greene explained to the members of council at a special meeting held last Thursday evening it is necessary that definite figures be submitted showing the extent and estimated cost. To secure this information it is necessary to employ a qualified engineer and the cost of such an estimate would be $350.

The Reeve urged that the survey be made. If we have those figures we can approach the whole question of sewers intelligently, he said, and we can make application for the government aid. If we have the plans of the sewage system, the estimated cost, and the definite assurance of the extent of government assistance in aid of employment we then can submit the question to the ratepayers who will decide by a vote whether or not we should go ahead.

Councillor Alex Little said he didn't feel there was any hurry for sewers in Richmond Hill.

Reeve Greene pointed out that the present government policy of assisting in the carrying on of public works presented an opportunity not only to get the needed improvement but it would solve the local unemployment problem for some time. He said septic tanks throughout the municipality were giving a lot of trouble, were costly to the householders and moreover he felt there would be an incentive to builders if the town had sewers.

Councillor Little—It will raise your taxes, and I think low taxes are just as much an incentive to building as sewers.

Councillor Nelson—There's no doubt it would raise the taxes.

Reeve Greene pointed out that it need not necessarily create too heavy a tax burden. There will be a two and a half mill saving on debentures next year he said and in 1942 there will be 8 mills knocked off our debenture rates. There possibly would be a 2 and a half mill increase until 1942. He pointed out that even if the project is not gone ahead with now the survey to be made by an engineer would always be useful. It could be used whenever we did go ahead and in the meantime it would be a guide in our other civic work.

Councillor Little said he was not much in favor of government grants for municipal works. "It's just taking money out of one pocket and putting it in the other," he said.

"But when other municipalities are taking advantage of the plan we might as well share in it as help pay it for other towns and cities," said the Reeve.

"I'm not much in favor of it. These opportunities will come again," said

Councillor Little.

Councillor Nelson expressed the opinion that it would take a long time to do the job using only local labor.

Reeve Greene pointed out that if it did there would be no unemployment worries and the council would not always be in hot water trying to find work for the men. "And don't forget," he said, "if all our men are working on some such project as this it is reflected in the prosperity of our town."

Councillor Nelson agreed with the Reeve that even if the project was not undertaken now the survey would always be useful. "We must think about the water supply though," he said. "There might be a possibility our supply would not be sufficient if we had sewers."

Councillor P. C. Hill who arrived late at the meeting said that if we ever are going to have sewers we have to make a start "and we certainly need them," he said.

"I'd rather see the taxes lowered," said councillor Little.

Councillor Hill suggested that he thought such an important item should be dealt with when all members of council are present. Councillor Mills was absent from the meeting being out of town at his summer home.

On motion of councillors Little and Nelson the matter was laid over until a future meeting.

Radials Show a Profit in June

Passenger Revenue Up and Profit for Month Increased by $448.00

Passenger revenue in June on the North Yonge Radials took a decided upward leap to put a shock into those who in recent months have been predicting the end of the car line. For June the line showed an operating profit of $792.31 compared with a profit of $254.46 for the same month last year. A gratifying feature of the monthly report received today by Reeve J. A. Greene is that passenger revenue for the month was $6,088.17, an increase of almost $300 over June 1938. Operating expenses for the month were approximately $125 less than in the corresponding month a year ago.
