Other Editors' Opinions

SMOKERS SHOULD BE CAREFUL

(Picton Gazette)

With cigarette butts so carelessly tossed from motor cars, it is surprising there are not more grass fires than there are. These days when grass along roadsides is extremely dry, the threat of fire from this cause is great and smokers should use caution when throwing away lighted cigarette butts.

GOING HIGH-BROW

(Port Hope Evening Guide)

The gentlemen of the appealing thumb, familiar of the highway side-lines, are apparently developing a slight change in technique, an ingratiating change at that. Their old flourish of gesture with a note of the contentory in a great deal of it, is evidently no longer all-sufficient, and presumably it no longer registers as frequently as of yesterday with motorists of the kindly heart. That impression was suggested by two youths standing at the roadside at Port Hope the other day, one of them holding up a large square card-board on which was written the petition, "Please."

RUNNING A NEWSPAPER

(Leamington Post and News)

Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel only different. When a man goes into a hotel and finds something on the table which does not suit him, he does not raise hedges with the landlord and tell him to stop his old hotel. Well hardly. He sets that dish to one side and wades into the many dishes that suit him. It is different with some newspaper readers. They find an article occasionally that does not suit them exactly, and without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers, make a grandstand play and tell the editor how the paper should be run and what should be put into it, but thank goodness these people are becoming fewer every year. If some individuals we know were put in charge for just one week we can imagine what it would look like. A good policy to follow is this: "Every man for his own business."

WHAT WOMEN BUY!

(Midland Free Press)

Did you know that... girls from 15 to 17 are the best buyers of eyelash conditioners?... that women in the 52-54 age group buy the most hand cream, vanishing and foundation cream?... that more women use soap, nail polish, cold cream, lipstick and face powder than tooth-brushes?... that three out of four women use perfume, but less than one out of two uses combs, and only two out of five have powder puffs?... all this according to the nationwide cosmetic research reports just issued.

CITY FOLK NOW ENVOIOUS OF THEIR COUNTRY COUSINS

(Bowmanville Statesman)

Life on the farm is no longer one of isolation and deprivation. Modern facilities such as hydro, water pressure systems, paved highways and motor cars have brought the most distant rural homesteads into close touch with everyday life. Then there are the telephone, the radio, the lending libraries and rural mail routes which have added to the comfort and convenience of life on the farm, and there is little in the way of city advantages that cannot be found in rural districts. A few years ago a trip from the farm to the city or town was an event, a journey that took hours, sometimes days. Today our country cousins can hop into the family car and reach the bright lights of their favorite town or city in an hour or so.

Farming well done is a profession in itself and young men trained in our agricultural colleges are infinitely more independent than hundreds of town-bred boys who cannot find a niche in which to express themselves. Farm folk are no longer the unsophisticated "rubies" who used to provide material for the comic strips. They are educated, up-to-date, well informed and capable. Rural life needs the best type for its development and the clever boys and girls no longer have to forsake homesteads in order to find congenial companionship and employment in more crowded centres.

Distant pastures always look greenest but when all is said and done, the farm community can offer much that cannot be found in city life. In fact, many who have spent most their entire lives in urban settings are now turning to the land in order to escape a few of life's complexities amid surroundings that are more natural, more simple, and infinitely more worth while.

RAISING 'LUNGE' SUCCESSFUL

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

The Ontario Department of Fisheries boasts that it has been successful in rearing maskinonge in its hatchery at Peterboro. One thousand three to five inch 'lunge' will be liberated in Eastern Ontario.

DIRTY DOUBLE-CROSSER

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

The Duke of Paduka, on your radio, gets off some pretty smart stuff. He says he met an Englishman who made two crossings of the Atlantic without taking a bath, and he called him a dirty double-crosser.

JUST AS QUEER LOOKING

(Fergus News-Record)

It is worth while to take an hour occasionally and watch the crowds walking on the streets of a city. It brings the reassuring feeling that many hundreds of other people are just as queer looking as ourselves.

A FASCINATING GAME

(Smiths Falls Record-News)

Politics is still a fascinating game for Mr. Average Man. It must be when an odd 1,000 Smiths Falls and district people passed up opportunities to be cool and comfortable and instead braved intense heat to hear Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion deliver an address here recently.

CANOE DANGEROUS

(Stirling News-Argus)

"Shifting in canoe costs two lives," a heading which appeared in a Monday newspaper in connection with a drowning accident in the northern part of the province, brings to mind the danger that is ever present when poor swimmers venture out on deep waters in a canoe. No one who is not an expert swimmer has any right to enter a canoe.

INFORMATION

(New York Post)

From John Gunther's "Inside Asia" you learn that Japanese Prime Minister's salary is $2,592 a year; a belch following a meal in Nippon is a compliment; an average of 29,000 persons are picked off the streets of Shanghai each year, dead of starvation, yet in the same city one may dine at a restaurant where a dinner costs $600; that American cigarettes sell at a lower price in India than in the United States.

RECIPE FOR SMART BUYING

(Picton Gazette)

Take a good look at the family cupboard to see what you need. Mix with substantial amount of reading of the grocery advertisements in your local newspaper. Add a piece of paper and a lead pencil, so you can make up your shopping list. Stir this up with your family budget until it jells. Add a lot of common sense to this mixture and go to your local grocery store where you get quality merchandise at reasonable prices. It pays to read the ads in The Picton Gazette.

WITHOLDING NEWS

(Carleton Place Canadian)

The Quinte Sun, published at Trenton, reports that a property sale in that town has been made by the town. The authorities asked the editor not to give the details which he had in his possession, and yet the full information was being freely discussed by the man on the street. The press is frequently asked to withhold publication of certain news and this promise once given, is never violated. A newspaper's very existence depends on the publication of "news" as early after the event takes place as possible.
