His Majesty the King Appeals for United Action

The Following is The Full Text of The Address Delivered by His Majesty King George VI To His People in All Parts of The Empire Following Britain's Declaration of War

Following the announcement that Britain was at war His Majesty the King addressed the following message to the people of the Empire:

"In this grave hour, perhaps the most fateful in our history, I send to every household of my peoples, both at home and overseas, this message, spoken with the same depth of feeling for each one of you as if I were able to cross your threshold and speak to you myself.

"For the second time in the lives of most of us, we are at war.

"Over and over again, we have tried to find a peaceful way out of the difference between ourselves and those who are now our enemies, but it has been in vain.

"We have been forced into a conflict, for we are called, with our allies, to meet the challenge of a principle which, if it were to prevail, would be fatal to any civilized order in the world.

It is a principle which permits a state in the selfish pursuit of power to disregard its treaties and its solemn pledges, which sanctions the use of force or threat of force against the sovereignty and independence of other states.

"Such a principle, stripped of all disguise, is surely the mere primitive doctrine that might is right. And if this principle were established through the world, the freedom of our own country and of the whole British Commonwealth of Nations would be in danger.

"But far more than this, the peoples of the world would be kept in the bondage of fear, and all hopes of settled peace and of security, of justice and liberty, among nations, would be ended.

"This is the ultimate issue which confronts us. For the sake of all that we ourselves hold dear, and of the world order and peace, it is unthinkable that we should refuse to meet the challenge.

"It is to this high purpose that I now call my people at home and my peoples across the seas who will make our cause their own.

"I ask them to stand calm and firm and united in this time of trial.

"The task will be hard. There may be dark days ahead and war can no longer be confined to the battlefield, but we can only do the right as we see the right, and reverently commit our cause to God. If one and all we keep resolutely faithful to it, ready for whatever service or sacrifice it may demand, then with God's help we shall prevail.

"May He bless and keep us all."

Mrs. Sayers Is Survivor of the Athenia Disaster

"Saved, Uninjured, Galway, Everything lost, Don't Worry.—Grace Sayers". Thus read a cable received by Mr. William Sayers, Centre Street Tuesday afternoon to end thirty-six hours of dread and anxiety following the radio flash Sunday night that the Athenia had been torpedoed by a German submarine. Mrs. Sayers was one of the passengers on the ill-fated ship having boarded the vessel at Liverpool after a vacation spent with friends and relatives in the British Isles. Appreciating the seriousness of the international situation she endeavoured to sail for home the middle of August but boats were all filled to capacity and her home booking was for September 2nd aboard the Aurania. This was changed by government orders to the Athenia sailing from a different port. No further information other than the cable has been received and it is impossible for the family to ascertain when Mrs. Sayers may be able to make the home journey, but the news that she survived the terrible disaster was sufficient to lift the heavy cloud of uncertainty which shrouded the entire community following the announcement of the sinking of the liner. Wednesday night Mr. Sayers received a letter from his wife, written of course before she sailed telling of her plans and expectations soon to be re-united with her family.

Mr. Andy Anderson, well known war veteran and resident of Rumble Avenue, Richmond Hill was another of those hit by the first major atrocity of the war. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. Anderson, 401 Crawford Street, Toronto were passengers on the Athenia and word received Wednesday also listed them among the survivors.
