RICHMOND HILL SCIENTIFIC EXPLORERS RETURN FROM WEST

Returning from a ten thousand mile trip through Saskatchewan in search of scientific material, Farley Mowat, Frank Banfield, Harris Hord and Murray Robb arrived here this week with more than 400 specimens of birds and mammals. The party has two new bird records for the province of Saskatchewan, and has brought back several live specimens of mammals. The more than four hundred stuffed specimens are now at the Royal Ontario museum. One bullock's oriole commonly found in the far west and a family of American three toed woodpeckers which were found in the coniferous forest are numbered among the rare specimens.

In the mammal class the expedition captured and stuffed a prairie dog found in Canada only in Saskatchewan. "Prairie dogs are plentiful in Val Marie," stated Farley Mowat. "The valley is reached by driving over barren prairies where there is no living vegetable life other than sage bush. In the Frenchman River valley the prairie dogs burrow holes in the ground which drop at times ten feet into the earth. At the top of the dens there is a small mound sometimes three feet high."

Specimens of the hoary bat and the silver haired bat were also brought back by the expedition. The collection also included about twenty species of mice.

The party camped at Fort Carlton where the first scientific work in the province of Saskatchewan was done by the Sir John Franklin Richardson expedition in 1810. This group gathered and described material on the fauna life in Saskatchewan, and the Richmond Hill expedition worked on their material in gathering their specimens. As far as records show this expedition has been the first one to work extensively in this area since 1810.

At Emma Lake in Northern Saskatchewan members of the party met and talked with the widow of Grey Owl, Anna Harjo, noted Indian naturalist. Her daughter, Silver Dawn is being privately tutored at Prince Albert.

The party returned by way of Yellowstone National Park after a three month absence. They reported a plentiful supply of game birds this year in Saskatchewan. "Every slough is filled with water which in turn is filled with ducks," stated Farley Mowat. "I have never seen so many ducks out west before. The game birds also include many prairie chicken and grouse. It promises to be a good year for sportsmen."

The whole four hundred specimens were taken from over two hundred and fifty-three species of birds sighted. Questioned on the results of the expedition Farley Mowat stated that the trip had been very satisfactory from every point of view. In fact it is understood that this will be the first of a series of trips to the West being made with a view to publishing a faunal list of the province of Saskatchewan.

Community Mourns The Sudden Passing Of Robert N. Endean

The community was shocked by the sudden death Sunday morning of Robert N. Endean, a prominent and popular citizen of Richmond Hill for the past twenty-six years. Associated with other members of his family in the well known firm of Endean Nurseries he was widely recognized as an authority in his own business and enjoyed the esteem and respect of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He was about his business as usual on Saturday and his sudden passing Sunday morning about eleven o'clock cast a gloom over the entire community. In his 49th year he was in the prime of life and his sudden death cut short a life successful in the world of business, deeply devoted to his family and freely given in the service of many social and community undertakings.

The son of Mrs. Alice Endean and the late Mr. Harry Endean he was born in North Toronto and moved to Richmond Hill twenty-six years ago. Devoting himself and his talents to the nursery business he saw it grow from a comparatively small start to the large business which it is today. Although he had heavy business responsibilities he always had time for public service and took a keen interest in all matters of public interest. In 1924 he served as a member of the Richmond Hill Municipal Council and at the time of his death was a member of the Richmond Hill School Board. During his tenure of office on public bodies his work and counsel were always highly appreciated by his associates.

He was a member of long standing of the Masonic Order, and was Worshipful Master of Richmond Lodge in 1936. He was a great lover of the fraternity and was highly esteemed by members of the craft here and throughout the district. The funeral was held from the family residence Tuesday afternoon and the very large gathering was evidence of the esteem and affection of many friends and associates who mourn his passing and extend sincerest sympathy to members of the family in their great sorrow and bereavement. The service at the home was conducted by Rev. C. W. Follett of Richmond Hill United Church assisted by Rev. J. W. McIntosh, a former pastor.

Interment followed in Richmond Hill cemetery the pall bearers being six employees of the firm, Gordon Stephenson, Aubrey Nicol, Leonard Rice, Claude V. Wright, Geo. Stiles and Albert Rice. The casket was laid to rest in a bower of floral tributes whose gorgeous bloom bespoke the sympathy of relatives, friends and business associates.

Left to mourn the passing of a devoted husband is his wife formerly Myrtle Comisky, one son Robert, one daughter Margaret (Peggy), his mother, Mrs. Alice Endean, two sisters, Miss Etta Endean of Richmond Hill and Mrs. Murray Smith of Toronto, and one brother Harry, of Toronto.
