I. D. Ramer & Son Quaker Feeds Dealer

The Quaker Oats Company announce I. D. Ramer & Son exclusive dealer in Richmond Hill and surrounding district, for the famous Quaker Livestock Feeds, and Quaker Ful-O-Pep Poultry Feeds.

Of interest to all who raise livestock and poultry, is the remarkable progress made during the past few years in discovering and improving feeds and feeding methods. On the huge experimental farms of the Quaker Oats Company, and in the highly scientific Quaker laboratories, the care and feeding of livestock and poultry has been immensely improved. New feeds, new methods, new breeds, and new practical knowledge have all vastly increased the possible economy and profit in livestock raising and have helped to advance poultry-raising from a sideline to a major farm industry.

Typical of the results of experiments in poultry care and feeding conducted on Quaker's huge poultry farm, is the discovery that a definite plan of feeding balanced feeds, under a strict rationing system, can greatly increase the laying power, lengthen the profitable laying life, and improve the marketing quality of hens. At the same time, this scientific feeding actually decreases feed bills.

The Quaker Oats Company call their well-known feeding plan the "Ful-O-Pep" Plan, after the famous feeds of that name. This Ful-O-Pep feeding plan has already been proven exceptionally profitable both by experiment and scientific research, and by the practical use of tens of thousands of poultrymen who have had success with it. And Quaker livestock feeds are the result of similar scientific research and experiment.

Because the Quaker Oats Company is the largest of all cereal millers in the British Empire, it is able to include even the most costly ingredients in Quaker Livestock and Ful-O-Pep Poultry Feeds, and still offer these feeds at a cost that represents outstanding economy.

I. D. Ramer & Son will carry a full line of Quaker feeds including all Quaker feeds for horses, cows, calves, pigs, sheep, foxes and poultry. As a special feature of their introductory sale, every customer will be given free, on request a copy of the new 64 page book "The Profitable Care and Feeding of Poultry and Livestock". And at all times Mr. Ramer will be glad to obtain for his customers expert advice and information on the latest Quaker methods of livestock and poultry care.

A physician, attended by a number of medical students, was making the round of his ward, and stopped beside a bed whereon lay a man with a very prominent chest.

The physician, having elicited from the sick man the fact that he was in the habit of playing a wind instrument, went on:

"Yes, yes; all the puffing and straining is most dangerous to the lungs, most dangerous."

"What wind instrument used you to play," he asked, addressing the patient. To the huge delight of the students, the patient replied: "The concertina, sir."
