DISASTROUS FIRE AT FARM OF W. O. JAMES

A disastrous fire at the farm of W. O. James, Bathurst Street, North York Township, Sunday evening last destroyed his barn and much of the contents causing a loss estimated at over $12,000. In addition to the barn there were twenty-three head of cattle and four horses destroyed.

Mr. James was listening to the radio when the alarm was raised by his sister, Florence, in the house. As she telephoned North York firemen he ran into the main block of buildings with some helpers. In an endeavour to rescue the livestock Mr. James suffered painful burns but we are pleased to report he is progressing favourably.

The fire started near a heater which had been used on Saturday to prepare wax for preserving turnips. There were 3,000 bushels of turnips nearby, most of which were thoroughly roasted. The entire year's crop was destroyed. Spectators ducked to shelter when the flames reached a truck in the main barn and the gasoline tank exploded like a bomb.
