WAYWARD YOUTH

Meaford Express: Complaints have reached this office regarding the prevalence of petty thieving about town by juveniles. This is not to be wondered at when one sees the youngsters of tender age roaming our streets at night when they should be in bed. A couple of nights ago we passed some twelve or fifteen boys, around 8 to 11 years of age, at nearly 10 o'clock, running hither and yon and swearing as if it was nobody's business. This is the kind of behavior that leads to mischief, and if the parents in town will not put a stop to the practice, the Chief of Police should do so. This goes for the girls, too, as many of them want checking up on our streets for their own good.

DANGEROUS, ANYWAY

The air raid warden stopped a man who was walking along Piccadilly smoking an after-dinner cigar. "Put out that cigar," he said. "But it's not showing any light," objected the smoker. "I know," replied the warden. "It's the smell I'm worrying about. I'm frightened some of the boys will give the gas alarm."

WORK OF THE YEARS

Mrs. Brown—How children's tastes do change.
 Mrs. White—Yes, when my two were small, Johnny just loved soldiers and Mary was crazy for brightly painted dolls. Now Mary is crazy about soldiers and John runs after every painted doll he sees.

WILL IT?

If all this discussion about holding municipal elections, or not holding them, during the war, results in an increase of 20 to 30 per cent in the number who go to the polls on New Year's Day, the controversy will not have been in vain. In any and in all events, there is an obligation January 1 to elect a strong, efficient personnel to the city council.—(From the St. Catharines Standard.)

U.S. POSITION

The American people do not want to go to war. But if they are shortly to see Holland and Belgium annihilated they will realize—as they have not yet understood—that the world is now facing the incarnation of ruthlessness and violence, and that America cannot remain indifferent to the outcome of such a struggle.—(From the New York Herald-Tribune.)
