ing the front of his grocery store made comfortable for the winter, and an addition to the house will be erected in the spring.

closed two weeks owing to an outbreak of scarlet fever. It is hoped the school will re-open on the 6th of December.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

From our Issue of Dec. 4th, 1924 It was agreed by everybody at the close of Monday night's meeting of the Presbyterian Y.P.S. that it was the best yet. President Jack Innes was handed a programme of each of the competing sides that first of all delighted the large number of visitors, and then perplexed the judges who had to decide on the relative merits of what really constituted two excellent concerts. The decision was favorably received by all parties, the score being 40 to 39 in favor of Jim McLean's team. Mr.
Stein being called on unexpectedly, warmly congratulated the society on the high class entertainment afforded the visitors, and spoke of the benefits to be derived from such an organization. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the judges, Misses Adamson and Stanley, and Mr. Cole.

The Board of Education met in the new High School Monday evening. Members present, Dr. Lang-staff (chairman), J. Atkinson, F.
Atkinson, G. S. Sims, G. Cowie, G.
Duncan, George Gee, W. A. Wright, Rev. E. Kelly and Dr. Wilson. Minutes of previous meetings read and adopted. Miss Adamson's resignation was accepted with regret, and Miss Austin was given Miss Adamson's position on the High School staff at a salary of $1800, duties to commence in January. The chair-

Many municipalities held municienjoy the festive season without the interruptions of nomination and campaign speeches.

Foresight rather than hindsight current safety bulletin labelled "Today and Tomorrow." The bulletin warns motorists to "drive safely today, then you can drive again tomorrow."

Wholesalers, chain stores and other large distributors are co-operating to increase the sale of Canadian apples and relieve the market of surplus supplies made available by the growers' loss of overseas markets.

The man in the queue for the theatre felt some one touching his back. Turning round, he saw a girl about to leave the line.

"I'm going across the road to get some candy," she said.

"Well, that doesn't interest me," said the man.

"I know," was the reply, "but I've put a chalk mark on your back in case I forget my place!"

The area sown to fall wheat in Canada in 1939 was estimated at 813,000 acres by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, an increase of 39,- with 774,000 acres sown in 1938.

the Public School was paid his salary to the end of this year, and Mr.
Walter Scott, of Victoria Square, was given the position, duties to begin at once. A motion was carried to ask Hon. G. S. Henry to Opening on Friday, the members of the Richmond Hill Council, and the reeves of Markham, Vaughan and North York Townships to have seats on the platform. Miss McManus resigned her position on the Public School staff, and the secretary was instructed to advertise for a teacher in her place, applicants to state salary. Dr. Langstaff tendered his resignation as a member of the Board owing to pressure of work along other lines, but as it was the unanimous wish that he remain a member he withdrew his resignation. An order for two chairs and a couch for the female teachers' Rest Room in the High School was given, other business was transacted, and the Board adjourned.

Chick'n Chats

(By E. W. Anstey)

If one has a flock of well-bred pullets, properly housed the next essential step in obtaining a good winter egg production is to supply plenty of good feed and induce the birds to eat as much as possible.

Too much consideration should not be given to the price of the feed, it is the quality of a feed and the ability to produce eggs that really determines the profit over feed cost.
An inferior feed is always more costly in the end.

At this time of the year, if the birds have been laying for some time, the attendant should be constantly on the alert for advance notice of pullet molt. Watch the drooping boards, if you notice considerable neck feathers there, your egg production is in danger of slipping unless corrective measures are taken immediately. An earlier, but less conspicuous sign is a decrease in feed consumption, which is usually followed in a few days by a neck molt. As soon as the birds show signs of loss of appetite, every effort should be made to step up feed consumption; this can be done by feeding a little wet mash at noon, by feeding pellets or heavy grain feeding and the careful use of lights. Where grains are fed in troughs and left before the birds at all times, feed consumption can usually be stimulated by sprinkling some in the litter. It is a good practice to stir up the mash several times a day to attract the birds attention and improve their appetite.

With the approach of real winter weather, it is a good practise to watch the weather reports for any indication of a severe drop in temperature and adjust windows and ventilators accordingly, in order to retain the body heat of the birds and keep out considerable cold.

During real cold snaps, a change of litter or the addition of some fresh straw will create activity among the birds and add greatly to their comfort. Feeding grain at frequent intervals by springling small amounts in the litter, will serve a similar purpose and at the same time increase the feed intake.

The question of whether or not heating a hen house is profitable, is still a controversial subject, but it is generally admitted that money spent for proper insulation pays good dividends where the weather is severe.

Further price declines were noted on the egg market during the past week. With several of the larger stores in Toronto featuring eggs over the week-end the demand was stimulated somewhat and at the present time the market has steadied up and a firmer undertone is in evidence. The poultry market is very druggy and prices have declined from one to two cents per pound on all grades of poultry.
