Plan Your Christmas Dinner Around Roast Fowl

Turkey, goose, duck or chicken—make your choice to suit your taste and pocketbook. Whichever you choose, you'll be certain to create a successful meal if these recipes are followed.

ROAST CHICKEN

Clean chicken, washing in warm water in which 1 teaspoon of soda has been dissolved. Stuff with the following dressing.

- 3 cups stale bread crumbs
- 2 tbsp. poultry seasoning
- 1 tsp. celery salt
- 2 tsp. sage
- 1 egg slightly beaten
- 2 tsp. curry powder
- Salt and pepper

Moisten bread crumbs with water until damp. Stir in beaten egg, poultry seasoning, sage, celery salt. Salt and pepper to taste. Sew openings in fowl. Place in a covered roaster and roast in a moderate oven until tender. The giblets should be cooked in a separate pan, chopped and added with the liquor in which they were cooked to the drippings in the roasting pan to make gravy.

ROAST TURKEY

Wash bird thoroughly. Then rub skin with softened butter and dredge with flour. Stuff with any desired dressing and skewer, sewing up the openings. Place in a hot oven at first, leaving the pan uncovered until the bird is slightly browned. When this is done, cover the pan, lower the heat and baste occasionally with melted butter and hot water. Turn the turkey at least twice during roasting so that it will be evenly browned.

CELERY, OLIVE AND BRAZIL NUT STUFFING

1 1/2 cups chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped olives drained
5 cups soft bread crumbs
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
1 tbsp. grated onion
1/4 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. pepper
6 tbsp. melted shortening
3/4 cup chopped Brazil nuts
1 cup hot water or stock
Mix all the ingredients and blend thoroughly. Dry inside of turkey and stuff. This amount is sufficient for a 10-pound bird.

APPLE STUFFING FOR ROAST GOOSE

1 medium size onion
6 tbsp. butter
1 cup chopped celery
3 cups stale bread crumbs
4 cups chopped apple
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
Chop onion and brown in butter. Add celery, bread crumbs, chopped apple and parsley. Season with salt and pepper. Half a cup of raisins may be added.

TESTS FOR GOOD POULTRY

The bird should have a plump, wide body; full rounded breast, short thick legs, soft smooth skin. Be sure it is clean, has few pinfeathers and is free from bruises or discolorations. In choosing a chicken for roasting 3/4 to 1 pound should be provided for each person—a chicken should weigh at least 3 1/2 pounds—more is better—for roasting. In choosing turkey an 8 to 10-pound bird will serve from 6 to 8 persons. A 10 to 12-pound turkey should serve from 8 to 10 persons.

In choosing a duck, the average size will serve 6 persons. In choosing goose, allow 9 pounds to serve 8 persons.

POTATO STUFFING FOR CHICKEN

2 cups hot mashed potatoes
2 cups cracker crumbs
1/2 cup melted butter
1/3 cup melted sausage fat
1/2 cup chopped cooked giblets
Salt and pepper and poultry seasoning should be added to the above. Moisten with hot water until of the right consistency.

Chick'n Chats

(By E. W. Anstey)

Sometimes a flock of pullets that appear to be in good condition and free from worms and other parasites, fail to produce the number of eggs that one would expect from birds of that particular age and breeding. They may appear quite normal, active and healthy, with nice bright combs, and yet they fail to lay. Such birds are very often afflicted with duodenal coccidiosis or muco-enteritis or both. The only symptoms suggesting intestinal disturbances of this kind may be some abnormal droppings, they may be foamy or less watery and mustard colored.

Flocks of this kind usually respond to the judicious use of lights. When lights are already in use, the length of the lighted period should be increased. Of course if all-night lights are in use, this cannot be done.

The customary milk flush for coccidiosis and the administering of one of the various enteritis powders that are available, is a very good procedure if production is below 20%. The milk flush should be given for a period of from 5 to 10 days, depending on the response. During the course of treatment the birds may assume a somewhat ruffled appearance, but they soon return to normal after completing the treatment. Getting the birds to consume larger quantities of feed will help materially in getting them back into good production. Once they have started to lay well, they will usually carry through the winter fairly good, although occasionally a flock will fall from one molt and one "pause" to another. In that event it may be worth while to repeat the treatment, depending of course upon the condition of the flock.

Keep in mind that it's the little things that matter. Lack of sufficient hopper space usually results in some of the birds being underfed, this means a loss in production. Poorly constructed hoppers standing in the dark will also tend to cut down on the feed consumption. Inadequate watering facilities, frozen or very cold water may also effect winter production.

Grade A large eggs rose 1 cent to producers and retailers during the past week; medium and pullets however are moving very slow and the price of these two grades have declined 1 cent per dozen.

Country dealers are quoted on graded eggs, delivered at Toronto, cases free:

Grade A large 30c.
Grade A medium 25c.
Grade A pullets 24c.

Selling price to the retail stores:
Grade A large 33c.
Grade A medium 29c.
Grade A pullets 27c.

Ontario Is Pleased With Bacon Scheme

British agreement satisfactory taking into consideration present prices of grain, says Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ontario Minister of Agriculture.

"Ontario is pleased with the definite agreement with Great Britain regarding hog marketing. Nine dollars a hundredweight is a satisfactory price to-day, taking grain prices at the moment into consideration," said Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ont. Minister of Agriculture, in commenting on the scheme whereby Canada is to supply Great Britain with 4,480,000 pounds of bacon and ham weekly until October 31, 1940, with Britain paying a fixed price of $20.18 an English hundred weight of 112 lbs. This would amount to about 9 cents a pound live weight for hogs, it was stated.

Mr. Dewan said Ontario can produce just as much bacon by maintaining quality as by disregarding standards. It doesn't cost any more to produce a good article than an inferior article.

"Our good breeding foundation should be conserved," he said. "Young, high-class commercial gilts should not be sent to market but purchased in the neighborhood. In other words, the local supply of breeding stock should be taken up at home."

In memory of the dogs, cats and other pets that are buried or cremated on its grounds each week, a pet cemetery in Los Angeles publishes obituaries of these animals in a Sunday newspaper. Written and signed by the bereaved owner, the notices often include such expressions as "Bubbles—I could not have loved you more."

KLEINBURG Y.P.U. OFFICERS

The Kleinburg Y.P.U. held their regular meeting in the basement of the church on Monday evening. The president, Mr. N. Watson, was in the chair. Mr. Bailey presented the nominating committee's report which was adopted and the officers for the following year are as follows: President, Mr. W. Benstead; Vice-President, Jim Stevens; Secretary, Alex Shaw; Asst. Secretary, Masel Shaw; Treasurer, Keith Wardlaw; Pianist, Margaret Watson; Asst. Pianist, Alma Kerr; Devotional Convener, Merle Hamby; Assistant, Mrs. G. Taylor; Missionary Convener, Mrs. W. Benstead; Assistant, Annie Corless; Citizenship Convener, Miss Middlebrook; Assistant, Miss Olive Devins; Literary and Social Convener, Miss H. Campbell; Assistant, Harold Wardlaw; Press Reporter, Newton Watson.

Miss H. Campbell the Devotional Convener then took charge of the meeting. The topic of her program was "A Call to Service." A hymn opened the program after which the Scripture lesson was read by Bruce Hewitt and was followed by a prayer by Olive Devins. A poem "My Father's World" was read by Doris Bell, "In the Garden" was sung by Jim Stevens, Harold Wardlaw, Keith Wardlaw and Alex Shaw. Miss Campbell then read the story entitled "From a Gypsy Tent to the Pulpit." Miss Middlebrook read a poem "Little Sister of the Prophet" and an Author's Game followed. A hymn brought the meeting to a close.
