War and Retail Problems

The complex problems faced by retailers throughout Canada have been rendered increasingly difficult since September, 1939.

The already complex pricing function has been rendered increasingly difficult since September, 1939, the article continues.

up of Canada's Wartime Price and Industry Board. The setting up of this competently manned Board was as popular a move as could have been made by the Government.

The price situation of September, 1939, certainly did not suggest a downward price revision, and some speculating in merchandise resulted.

Retail prices did not rise as fast as wholesale prices; the average department store had enough stock on hand in September to carry through four months' business.

When prices are going down, the consumer wants the same quality at lower prices, though this is not completely true when prices are rising.

May Hold Seed Grain For Several Years

Experiments show no serious injury to germinating power, states J. D. MacLeod, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture.

The answer to the question regarding the germinating power of seed which has been held over on the farm for two years or more may be found in the following experiment conducted at Ottawa and at experiment stations in United States, England and Denmark.

Wheat and barley retained their vitality almost unimpaired for five years after harvest. Oats showed little loss of vitality until after the ninth year.

The vitality of timothy seed in dry storage was well-retained until after the fourth year while red clover, alsike and white clover showed little reduction in germinating power during the first three years.

Grain and seed from the previous year's crops may be of better quality and is frequently held over with a view to receiving better prices and as assurance that good seed will be available for seeding purposes.

Canada Spends Million Dollars a Day on War

At $1 a Day Would Take Since 800 B.C. to Save That Sum

Canada is spending something like a million dollars a day for war purposes and Britain is spending over $25,000,000 a day.

Those items of news are spread over the world and most just take them for granted.

Yet, just how much is a million dollars?

If you had started to save a dollar a day out of your wages some 800 years before the Christian era opened, you would have just about the sum of money that Canada is spending each day on the war.

Or if you had put $2 a day in the savings bank every day from a little after the year that the Roman Empire blew up you would have the million.

So a million dollars is a stupendous sum of money and how it is to be spent is an important question.

Print New Handbook Dairy Cattle Feeding

Valuable war-time information for every dairy farmer issued by Ont. Feed Board through Ont. Dept. of Agriculture.

The Ontario Feed Board, through the Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, has issued a 20 page handbook on "The Feeding and Management of Dairy Cattle", that can be obtained free of charge by Ontario farmers from the Agricultural Representative in his county or by writing direct to the Statistics and Publications Branch, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto.

It would also be advisable to ask for the large convenient placard on Dairy Cattle Rations, which can be hung in a convenient spot in the barn near the feed bin.

It is pointed out by the Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ont. Minister of Agriculture, that agricultural war-time efforts in Ontario are not confined to increased swine production, but include cheese and powdered milk.

The handbook on "Feeding and Management of Dairy Cattle" is just off the press and contains valuable war-time feeding information for the farmer on every one of its pages.

Write for your copy now.

Announcement has been made that the Newmarket branch of the Province of Ontario Savings Bank will be closed on March 30th.
