WEDDINGS

McDONALD-BALDWIN

Laskay United Church was the scene of a pretty spring wedding Saturday, May 18th, when Margaret Ruth Lowthian Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin, of King, became the bride of George Harold Muir McDonald, of Sydenham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. McDonald of Aurora. The Rev. Douglas Davis of King officiated and wedding music was played by Miss Marjorie McMurchy, Miss Margaret McDonald, sister of the groom, sang "Because". The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by two sisters, Miss Anah Baldwin and Miss Beth Baldwin. Best man was George Elliott, Toronto, and ushers were Dr. W. Baldwin and Dugal McDonald. Following a reception at the bride's parents' home the couple left for a trip to the Adirondacks. They will reside at Sydenham.

The site for the Laskay church, where the wedding was performed, was donated many years ago by pioneer members of the Baldwin family.

HISTORIC THORNHILL CEMETERY ONE OF FEW LINKS WITH PAST DYING FROM LACK OF CARE

Forgotten and neglected for many decades is one of York County's oldest cemeteries, serving as a place of burial for some of Thornhill's early pioneer Methodist parishioners.

Inconspicuously located near the William Wright Stables, north of the village of Thornhill, the century-old burial ground lies in a sadly neglected state, its link with the past almost severed by any regard for maintenance and preservation.

Practically all of its tombstones are scattered promiscuously, many are cracked and broken due to seasonal changes and several others are sunken in the ground almost covered with overgrowth. Much patience is required to decipher the inscriptions on the pitted, weather-beaten stones, but each one bears its own individual tale, all reminiscent of the early 1800's, when Thornhill was a prosperous wheat growing and milling centre.

The church, which was once situated in front of the cemetery, was one of the first Wesleyan Methodist churches to be erected in York County. It was established in 1837. Before this religious meetings were held in private homes in the district of York and preachers had to travel many miles over a relatively wide and primitive area on horseback to deliver their sermons and, subsequent to this, the church was built.

A few years later the church was moved to a more suitable location in the village, where it was reconstructed and remodelled extensively to serve as the present Thornhill United Church.

Since that time, the cemetery has no longer been used, being almost forgotten by the older villagers and unknown to the younger people in the district.

Strange as it may seem, the oldest tombstone in the entire cemetery remains in almost perfect condition. Its inscription dates back to 1837 and bears the name "Abigail Marwood," whose death preceded that of her husband, William Marwood, by 10 years.

Possibly many names inscribed on the tombstones can be linked with the War of 1812 and the eventful Mackenzie Rebellion in 1837.

The names Pearson, Hewgill, Marwood, Atkinson and others, found inscribed on the grave stones, are commonly found throughout the immediate district and the County of York, but it is quite possible that many bearing these names are not aware of the location of their ancestors' resting place, which has been forsaken.
