VICTORIA SQUARE NEWSY NOTES

James A McCague Joins Donovan Publications

Following his graduation from the Ontario Agricultural College this year, James A. McCague has become a member of the staff of Donovan Publications.

Jim is a brother of J. J. E. McCague; he has had considerable experience with foxes and Holstein-Friesian cattle on his brother's Alliston ranch and assisting in handling Jack's show strings.

Jim McCague will be closely identified with Canadian Silver Fox and Fur and will visit many fox and mink ranches.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thompson of Thornhill and Mrs. Louie Hendrick of Temperanceville had tea with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sanderson on Monday evening.

Mr. Roger Britnell had tea with Mrs. Allen and Mr. Weeks on Sunday evening.

Word has been received from Mr. Ross Middleton. He is still in England and wishes to be remembered to all his friends in Victoria Square and surrounding communities.

Mr. Frank Collins, a nephew of Mr. Brumwell's, left on Sunday after spending his last leave with friends in Highland Creek for overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Jarvis spent the week-end in Bala, Muskoka with relatives, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Sr. in charge of the farm. It's too bad a few more hadn't retired dad to give them a break in the busy season. What a treat it would be.

Don't forget the J.W.I. and J.F.A. are invited to Edean Nurseries on Tuesday evening, August 6. Those wishing to go are asked to meet at the corner in good time. For further information get in touch with Mrs. Jarvis or Earl Empringham.

Mr. Harry White is home again and is able to be up and around but has to be careful. We are all pleased to hear that he is improving as well as he is.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. T. Glover is bedfast. Taking suddenly ill on Saturday evening, she has been in bed ever since. Her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Boynton has come from Toronto to help Miss Olive look after her mother. We hope she will soon be better and around again.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Caseley, Alvin and children motored to Bradford to visit Mrs. Morris, afterwards journeying to Camp Borden to see Mr. Morris who is serving his country there at present.

The many friends of Mrs. Favelle were pleased on Sunday to see her out again. It is always nice to see the former residents return to Victoria Square for a few holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson of Toronto had tea with Mrs. Frank Nichols on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Colvey and son Lloyd of Kitchener spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. F. Feigel, returning home on Monday with their daughter Betty who had been spending a couple of weeks of her holidays with the Feigel family.

Usually forgetfulness causes one extra worry, work or trouble, but on Monday evening forgetfulness was a streak of good luck for Mr. Fred Feigel, who had sharpened a pair of mower knives for Mr. Gordon Reid, 5th line, and was supposed to leave them outside where Mr. Reid could get them in the evening. However Fred forgot to put them outside when closing. As a result later in the evening Gordon called him on the telephone; at once Fred came to the shop and on opening the blacksmith shop door was met with a cloud of smoke. On investigation they found a hole burnt through the floor which was just beginning to blaze. They were able to put it out, but another half hour and Victoria Square would have had another close call. No one knows exactly how it started, but are all glad it was noticed as soon as it was, and put out.

Owing to the fact the J.W.I. are going away on Tuesday evening our regular meeting night, the executive have decided to have the regular program on the evening following (Wednesday). At first it was thought best to leave it over till next week, but on phoning Dr. J. Langstaff, he informed us that he would be away on his holidays and so on Wednesday evening, August 7th the J.W.I. will meet to follow the following program: Motto taken by Mrs. Rumney; roll call, name one condition which you regard as indi-

Man in the Moon To be Attraction at Street Dance

Lions Preparing for Record Crowd at Street Carnival August 14

The Lions will admit no limitations when it comes to securing attractions for the annual Carnival and Street Dance in aid of Community Welfare and War Work to be held August 14th. In addition to the many features already advertised J. A. Greene, chairman of the activities committee of the local club announced today that arrangements have been completed to bring "the man in the moon" down for the entertainment of Carnival visitors. He revealed just how this was to be accomplished by explaining that through the courtesy of Lion Dr. R. K. Young of the Dunlap Observatory a large telescope will be located on Yonge Street and for a small consideration Carnival visitors may take a close-up look at the moon.

The various committees in charge of the Carnival are working hard in preparation for the big night, and present indications are that Richmond Hill will entertain a record crowd on the evening of August 14. There has been widespread approval of the announcement that Rus. Creighton and his Canadian Mountaineers will be back again to supply music for modern and olde tyme dancing. Rus is bringing a group of talented stage and radio stars who will entertain in a series of specialty numbers.

There will be new games on the midway in addition to the ever-popular "Bingo and other favorites. Lucky number admission tickets are now on sale and there has been a ready response from citizens everywhere in the district who are anxious to lend a helping hand to the Lions in the splendid work they are carrying on in this community. $100 in War Savings Certificates will be given away free on the night of the dance to holders of lucky number tickets.

cations of good health; demonstration by Miss Annie Avison; talk on health by Dr. James Langstaff. Come and bring your friends, it is sure to be interesting and educational.

Mr. and Mrs. Meryl Morris of Bradford have been spending a few days at the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Caseley. This is Meryl's last leave from Camp Borden, where he is going is not known, but I'm sure the friends in the communities wish these young chaps a safe and happy return to their families and friends.

Junior Farmers Ambulance Dance

At one of the largest directors' meetings in the history of the York County Junior Farmers held in the office of the Agricultural Representative at Newmarket on Monday night, it was decided unanimously to accept the very generous offer of Mr. George Davie, of Musselman's Lake, to donate the Cedar Beach pavilion and orchestra for a mammoth dance for the Junior Farmers' Ambulance Fund, on Monday, August 19th.

The Junior Farmers and Junior Farm Women of Ontario are raising funds to purchase a standard, fully equipped, four-bed ambulance and instead of each club in York County putting on separate functions to raise funds, all groups are co-operating to put over one of their biggest undertakings but they say they can do it and we have no doubt they will.

To give everybody a chance to share in the satisfaction of helping in this splendid project, the tickets are being sold at 35c. and each club has undertaken to sell their allotment. We feel that every farmer's son in York County and many of their friends as well, will support the local Junior Farmers in this drive, knowing that absolutely all receipts will be donated to the Ambulance Fund.

The lads and lassies are opening the sale of tickets on Friday night of this week over the entire County and Agricultural Rep. W. M. Cockburn of Newmarket, has offered to assist by having tickets available at his office where those not near a local club may secure tickets. He suggests you send in a dollar and he will return your tickets and change in stamps, including a War Savings stamp.

It's Plenty Cool In Iceland Writes Local Soldier Boy

Boys With Royal Regiment Sleep Under Ten Blankets These Nights

Richmond Hill district is well represented in the Canadian contingent on duty in Iceland, and letters from the boys indicate that they are all well and happy in their new surroundings. Among the local boys now in Iceland are: Bill and George Adams, Charlie Hill, George Patterson, Bill Trussell and Ernie Good. In a recent letter home Ernie Good describes conditions there as follows:

"It is cold up here where we are. We wear winter underwear, a sweater, a tunic, a greatcoat, a leather jacket and a pullover hat. When going to bed, we have 10 blankets over us besides our greatcoats, and we sleep in our socks, and I am not kidding you.

"We are up in the mountains, and they are high. The houses are few and far between. There is a little town here, about three miles away, but there is nothing there anyway.

"We are near a hot spring here, and is it hot! We wash our clothes in it. It is soft like rain water and full of sulphur. These springs are 600 feet deep. A few hundred feet away is a cold water spring, and it is very cold.

"The people heat their houses with these hot springs and cook their dinners in them, so they are all right.

"You should have seen the town where we landed. The houses were nestled in the mountains. They are all painted white and red, and it looks like a dream or something you read about in a book.

"When it rains here, it really rains night and day. There is daylight day and night, but we manage to sleep somehow.

"It sure is hard to understand the language, but I know some of it like 'girl' or 'boy', 'yes', 'no', 'thank', and a few things like that. They are nice people, Danish I hear. I know five or six of the boys here. I have been in their houses, and they are all neat and clean. They believe in lots of children."
