ACTING THE CLOWN

There was something senile, childish, about the circus act Mussolini staged in Rome the other day, in an effort to show the world he's still the he-man he used to be, or thought he was. The man who wanted to be Caesar has degenerated into a little popinjay who goes out of his way to prove he still can strut. After ten minutes of strenuous horsemanship, we're told, the Duce reined in his mount and asked a group of Nazi newspapermen: "Am I sick, weak, tired?" Even they must have been amused, if not disinterested.—(From the Windsor Star.)

MESSENGRERS

With a view to producing camouflaged homing pigeons for army use, if needed, a California man has bred a line of oddly mottled birds. No reference is made to the familiar jest about crossing them with parrots so they can deliver the message verbally.—(From the Frederickton Gleaner.)

SUSPEND OATH FOR ALIEN RECRUITS

Candidates for enlistment in Canada's armed forces who are citizens of a foreign country are not now required to take the Oath of Allegiance provided for in the King's Regulations, if by so doing their citizenship in their own country is forfeited.

EQUIPMENT PRODUCED EN MASS

Serge uniforms are being manufactured in Canada at the rate of almost 3,000 a day, boots at 4,700 a day, and socks at close to 6,700 pairs daily for the army and the air force.

There were only three people left in the bus; an old lady and two men. Suddenly one of the men said "25", and the other immediately burst into laughter. When he had ceased chuckling he called out "121," and the other man now roared with laughter. This went on for some time. No sooner would one call a number than the other would laugh. The old lady, doubting the mentality of her two companions, turned to them and said, "Excuse me, but I don't see anything funny in shouting a number."

"It's all right, madam," one replied, "we are commercial travellers and we know all our jokes by numbers."

The report, drafted by the department's examiner of plans, in accordance with the Factory, Shop and Office Building Act, showed that sixty-two plans were approved during the month, as compared with twenty-seven in July of 1939.

Schomberg softballers, under manager Bob Moody, gained another rung in their climb towards a second successive Ontario Rural championship when they emerged as Peel-York-Simcoe league winners last week. Playing the final game at King on Wednesday of last week, Schomberg defeated the home team to take the series.

BLUE WATER

A British naval expert tells of the peculiar transparency of the Mediterranean waters, so that he was able to trace the cable of a warship from the ship to the anchor on the bottom. This makes it easy to spot submarines, and the fifteen Italian subs which have fallen victims to British forces in the last two weeks suffered accordingly. The blue skies of the Mediterranean similarly afford no shelter for such ambuscades as the Germans find possible in the clouds of the North Sea. The Italian airmen would appreciate a friendly bank of cumulus.—(From the Hamilton Spectator.)

GEORGE W. SHORE

George W. Shore, principal of Woodbridge public school for 24 years, died in a Toronto hospital Sunday, August 4th. He was in his 65th year.

Mr. Shore, who retired from a long teaching career about a year ago, was active in many spheres of community life. A prominent Mason, he was a Past Master of the local Blackwood Lodge, A.F. & A.M., No. 311, and Past District Deputy Grand Master of Toronto District "D". For many years he took an active part in masonic education throughout this district. He was for many years Recording Steward at the United Church, a Bible Class teacher, and Librarian at the village Public Library. During his teaching career he achieved distinction as a trainer of cadets. Under his guidance the local corps won the British Empire Junior Cadet Rifle shooting championship two years in succession. They also carried off other cadet rifle shooting trophies many years running.

Before coming to Woodbridge Mr. Shore taught at Blantyre, Varna, Dashwood and other points. He was born in Albion township near Palgrave, a son of the late Richard Shore, of Bolton, and Katherine Jefferson, of Albion township. Surviving him are his widow, the former Theresa Miller, two sons and three daughters, Kelvin, Bert, Mildred, Thelma and Enid.

The funeral Tuesday afternoon was from the family residence on 8th Ave. to the United Church where the Rev. C. W. Barrett officiated. Grave-side rites at Hillcrest cemetery were conducted by the Masonic order with Gordon McGillivray, Past Master of the Blackwood Lodge, in charge. Active pallbearers, all fellow-Masons, were Messrs. Sam McClure, Ed. W. Brown, G. W. Bagg, Gordon McGillivray, A. B. Cousins, and Roy Barker. Honorary pallbearers were William Blake, Norman Williams, Charles Tamblin, Ralph Darker, H. N. Smith, A. A. Mackenzie, R. T. Wallace and William Hutchison.

Council Appeals To Citizens To Cut Weeds In Front of Property

The need for economy in all branches of public administration so that as much as possible of our resources may be directed for war purposes has been strongly emphasized by our leaders during recent weeks. In keeping with this policy which we heartily endorse Vaughan Township council is appealing to the farmers and property owners throughout the municipality to cut weeds in front of their own homes and farms.

The cutting of these weeds by the municipality costs a considerable amount of money annually, and it is our hope that by the individual property owner assuming this responsibility, the municipal treasury will be saved the expense.

This is a time of National crisis, a time when we must all do our share of National Service, and we must anticipate increasing burdens as taxpayers. We think it is our solemn duty to curtail public expense wherever possible, and weed cutting on roadsides and streets is one item on which we think we can save the taxpayers' money.

Please take this as the appeal of your Township Council, to co-operate in conserving township finances by having the weeds cut in front of your own property.

We thank you in anticipation of your response to this appeal.

R. W. SCOTT, Reeve of Vaughan.

A TELEPHONE in the farm home—is the best protection a farmer can buy for himself, his family, his buildings, his stock and his pets. Because the telephone brings help — quickly — when help is needed most. While you think of it, make arrangements now for a telephone — it costs so little.
