SOLDIERS' MAIL

Increased Mail Volume Requires Increased Co-operation

Comparative figures released today by Hon. William P. Mulock, K.C., M.P., Postmaster General, indicate how the flow of Military mails has risen to formidable proportions during the past year, and lend emphasis to the need for the public's full co-operation in proper addressing and packing so that the most expeditious delivery may be effected.

During the calendar year of 1940 some 140,000 pounds of letters (approximately 5,600,000 letters), 596,000 pounds of newspaper, and 3,260,000 pounds of parcels passed through the Base Post Office, Canada, addressed to our soldiers abroad — a total weight of 1,998 tons!

The flood of mail through the Base Post Office for overseas shows a continuous uptrend as figures for the last two weeks in January indicate. For the week ending January 18th, approximately 156,440 letters and 24,559 parcels were despatched; and 307 bags of newspaper, weighing 16,181 pounds. The following week, ending January 25th, approximately 181,520 letters, 21,560 parcels; and 373 bags of newspaper weighing 19,082 pounds, were sent overseas.

The despatch of Military mail from Canada overseas is but part of the duties of the Canadian Postal Corps, which, through its units in the United Kingdom, handles another formidable volume — the letters and post cards mailed through Field Post Offices, postage free, to Canadian addresses, by members of the C.A.S.F. and R.C.A.F. From August to November inclusive, this quantity increased monthly, and totalled over 26 tons.

The Base Post Office too, reports volume increases in the mail it handles for Internment camps, for example, 4,821 letters and 4,752 pounds of parcels were handled during the week ending January 18th, and 6,901 letters, and 7,487 pounds of parcels were handled the week later.

Even when the volume of Military mail was considerably smaller much loss of time was occasioned when Postal personnel were obliged to transfer their efforts from handling normal mail, to seeking to trace the addresses of incorrectly addressed letters or parcels, and to repack and redirect improperly packed parcels which had come apart in transit.

With the growing volume of Military mails, increased co-operation is urged from the public in correct addressing, and preparing of mails and packing of parcels so that avoidable delays may be entirely eliminated.
