Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary in the Hepburn Government celebrated his 50th birthday on April 1st. Mr. Nixon first entered the Legislature in 1919 and immediately became provincial secretary in the Drury government. He has been a member of the house continuously since 1919.

NASHVILLE

A very enjoyable time was spent Thursday evening of last week when well over 100 guests met at the home of Mrs. James Bernath, Nashville to do honor in the form of a shower to one of our much esteemed brides-to-be, Miss Jean Brownlee. After the guests were assembled Miss Jean Bernath escorted the honored guest to a chair in the centre of the room prettily decorated in pink and white overhung by a decorated parasol. Alvin McCluskie acted as master of ceremonies and ably conducted a program of readings, speeches and solos. Miss Alice Agar then read an address.

The presents were then presented to Jean and with the help of several girl friends the many beautiful gifts were unwrapped and admired by all. Jean then in her pleasing manner thanked one and all for the lovely gifts and kindly interest that had been shown her.

The groom-to-be, Mr. Bruce Lambie, was present and expressed his appreciation and thanks in a few well chosen words.

Lunch was then served and all dispersed leaving their best wishes with the honored guests.

Plan Harvest Help For Ontario Farmers

Service club members and industrial workers will be asked for "day a week" in haying and harvest rush—plan sponsored by C.S.T.A.

The Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists, Ontario Branch, has received full approval of the Ontario Department of Labor in a scheme whereby city, town and village help would be available to farmers during the rush of seeding, haying and harvest. This scheme will in the next week or so be placed before Service Clubs in the province as well as employers of labor not engaged in filling war-time contracts.

The C.S.T.A. points out that Ontario farms must produce as never before to make good on Canadian food commitments to Britain. It would be nothing short of food sabotage if crops were to be left to spoil in the fields owing to a lack of farm labor.

Many farmers are on the verge of curtailing production this year because they fear that owing to labor shortage they will be unable to harvest their usual crop acreage without heavy spoilage. The C.S.T.A. feels that if these farmers knew there was more than a fair chance of harvest help being available in their nearest town they would make a special effort at seeding time, and that is why the C.S.T.A. members are going "all out" to organize help for the farmer before the need arises.

Members will address Service Clubs and place before them the fact that while farm work is not spectacular, crop production is an ever increasingly important cog in the British war machine and that this cog must not cease to function through lack of man power.

The C.S.T.A. would have a Service Club committee, or any other responsible committee of men, register and organize into community groups any business, professional or industrial workers who have had experience in farm work and who would volunteer one day's service per week and a proportion of their holidays, to work on the farm at seeding, haying or harvest time in case of need.

These volunteers would be organized in groups of four or five where possible, so that all could go out together in one car to work. It is hoped to organize these groups so that each would go out on a different day per week and so spread the work.

Wages would be paid by the farmer according to the worth of the man, and local wage scale.

It is proposed to issue registration cards to business men and factory workers willing to help. These cards would be sent to Alex. MacLaren, Dept. of Labor, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, who in turn would have them indexed and sent to Agricultural Representatives in that particular volunteer's county.

Requests for help would be sent by the farmer to the Agricultural Representative who would turn over the request to the small community committee having the names of all men available and the day of the week convenient for them to work.

The C.S.T.A. is confident that urban dwellers will aid the farmer when they are impressed with the bald fact that "we can't fight if we can't eat", and that through co-operation and organization Ontario's crops this year can and will be harvested without loss.

ASSESSMENT HIGHER IN SIX PEEL AREAS

Toronto Township Leads Equalization Revision With Boost of $639,332

Peel county equalization committee brought in its annual report recently with equalization figures for the 1942 assessment. The total equalized assessment for the county for the coming year is $20,905,441. Toronto township showed an increase in assessment of $639,332, and Port Credit's assessment was $85,016 higher. A decrease for the past year was noted for Albion and Caledon townships and the village of Bolton.

The report of the equalization committee rated new assessments as being: Albion, $1,452,853; Caledon, $2,023,974; Chinguacousy, $3,791,322; Toronto, $7,595,906; Toronto Gore, $821,441; Brampton, $3,533,073; Bolton, $232,456; Port Credit, $1,199,204; Streetsville, $255,212.

According to the report, three municipalities showing a decrease, Albion and Caledon townships, and the village of Bolton, kept the 1941 equalization standard. Substantial increases were made in the equalized assessment of other municipalities: Chinguacousy, an increase of $5,890; Toronto township an increase of $639,332; Brampton, an increase of $43,010; Port Credit, an increase of $85,016; Toronto Gore, an increase of $5,840; Streetsville, an increase of $4,730.

Don't Delay Needs
Seed Grain Needs

Farmers urged to contact Agricultural Representatives or Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto.

Farmers should not delay purchasing their seed grain requirements for this Spring, advises John D. MacLeod, Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto. Mr. MacLeod states that the purchase of over 3,000,000 bush of Western feed grain by Ontario farmers as a result of the government's free freight policy from Fort William, a number of farmers have their own Ontario-produced grain that could be used for seed providing it was cleaned and tested for germination.

Discussing seed selection, Mr. MacLeod says it must be bright, plump, uniform and free of weed seeds, small shrunken and diseased kernels and seeds of other varieties of field crops. He states a seven year test at the O.A.C. indicated large plump oats gave an increase of 15 per cent over small plump seed and 33 per cent over shrunken seed. Barley showed an increase of 7 per cent when large plump seed was used over small plump seed and 30 per cent compared with shrunken seed.

Small seed does not supply sufficient nourishment to the plant and results in shallow roots which are handicapped in dry weather. Plants from these small kernels in many instances are the product of diseased plants and may not have enough vitality to appear above the soil surface.

Mr. MacLeod points out that while the farmer has no control over the weather, he does have control over the seed he plants. There is an ample supply of good seed in Ontario this year for 1941 requirements. Those needing seed should contact their Agricultural Representative or write to the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto, for information regarding sources of supply.

The editor of a New York magazine ordered a story of a specified length. When it arrived it was found to be a thousand words too long. As the magazine was late going to press, the story had to be condensed to fit the allotted space. The last few paragraphs were cut down to a single sentence, as follows:

"The cruelly treated young girl recovered her sense, her clothes, her freedom, her virtue, and finally her baby from the river."

It is the man who has done nothing who is sure nothing can be done.
