Asks City Workers Aid Farm Harvest

Hon. P. M. Dewan requests Boards of Trade, Service Clubs, town and city councils organize volunteer man power for farms during harvest rush.

There is every indication that Ontario farmers will urgently require organized help from cities, towns and villages at harvest time if wartime foods are to be kept constantly moving to the United Kingdom, states Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, in voicing a plea to all urban centres for an official organization of man power during the rush of hay, grain and corn harvests to aid hard-pressed and over-worked farmers.

County farm surveys, said the Minister, show that farmers feel they must crop every possible acre to keep Canada and Britain provided with wholesome war foods. During the next few weeks farmers will be working long hours at high pressure to get seed into the ground. Harvesting this crop is a national problem which it is probable can be met only by adequate help from cities and towns.

Mr. Dewan pointed out that a number of urban centres had already formed organizations to aid farmers with their crops. He requests that Boards of Trade, Service Clubs, town and city councils could take the lead and co-operate to form similar organizations in all centres. Volunteers can then register with their local organization for harvest work on farms of friends or relatives, or go out in carloads of four or five to nearby farms. Local organizations already formed are co-operating with the Farm Service Force, Agricultural Representatives and Employment Agencies, Mr. Dewan declared.

No one could predict harvest weather. Heavy rains would add much difficulty. Properly harvested crops mean just as much to urban dwellers as to farmers; for unharvested crops would mean a food shortage. The best form of efficiency, said Mr. Dewan, is the spontaneous co-operation of a free people.

Miss Vera Hunter gave an account of her impressions of the countryside about Rydal Bank where she spent some time recently at her sister Flora's. Situated in the Sault Ste. Marie district, her talk was descriptive and interesting and part of a Young People's program at Laskay United Church last week.

Rev. E. W. G. Worrall gave a brief synopsis of medical missions work in China before All Saints W.A. of King last week.

Forty attended King Women's Institute held at Mrs. Mervin Wilson's last week. Very interesting letters were read from Bill Colls, overseas boys, in receipt of recent W.I. boxes. Mrs. Stone displayed the type of wool skirt required for Bomb Victim sewing. A lux demonstration has been planned for the May meeting. A W.I. euchre in the Hall was planned for April 22nd. Mrs. R. Walker presided during the election of officers as follows: President, Mrs. Colin Stewart (re-elected); 1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. Jas. Patton (re-elected); 2nd Vice-Pres., Mrs. R. Walker; Sec.-Treas., Miss Elizabeth McClure (re-elected); District Representative, Mrs. Walter Rolling; Directors, Mrs. Wells McDonald, Mrs. R. Bice, Mrs. S. W. Bill Brown of Schomberg won the lucky draw for the Registered Jersey Calf; Fergus McTaggart of Nobleton the silver casserole, and Chas. Mavety of Circle M Ranch the breakfast set of dishes.

Miss Hilda Patton gave a very fine paper on "Community" before Laskay W.I. last week.

Probably no more congenial and beloved personality has recently passed from our midst, than Mr. Joseph O'Brien, whose death occurred on Saturday, April 18th at York County Hospital, after a brief illness there. Having spent his life in this vicinity, and a member of an old and honoured family, his 32 years were filled with lasting friendships and the quality of kindness. He was the friend of old and young. As his years drew on his friends and associations in the locality were the richer and the happier for he was quick in sympathy and keen to appreciate the best in others. These rare characters pass our way, watchmen of man's faith in man.

The Cohen sale on April 15th brought good returns. The farm land is rented and Mr. and Mrs. Cohen are remaining in the house for a time. Mr. Cohen is still engaged in the poultry business.

Miss A. Skinner of Schomberg is conducting first aid lectures to the "Busy Bees Class". Miss Skinner has wide experience, a former Superintendent of hospitals, and as principal and teacher of a nurses' training school. Mrs. Gourlay is also qualified to help in the work.

Miss Doris Payne convened a missionary program before King Y.P.U. on Monday night with lantern views of Dr. Grenfall of Labrador.

Laskay Euchre will be held on April 24th.

Provide Ample Feed For Summer Months

Annual pasture of oats and sudan grass or sudan grass alone will keep cows in high production, states M. C. McPhail.

One of the critical periods in milk production in Ontario is during mid-summer months. Provision for ample feed at this time is as important as good winter feed and high producing cows, states M. C. McPhail, principal of Kemptville Agricultural School. Many farmers work hard during the summer to provide winter feed and at the same time, they allow their cows to travel over poor pasture. The loss suffered from insufficient or poor pasture may easily wipe out all profit from the year's work.

The answer to this state of affairs is annual or supplementary pastures. Three of the best are Sudan Grass; Peas and Oats, and Sweet Clover, Mr. McPhail states.

He states that a 2 1/2 acre oat stubble field at Kemptville School farm last year was divided in two; half being sown to 2 bushels oats and 25 pounds of Sudan Grass per acre. The other half was sown to Sudan Grass alone—35 pounds per acre. Both plots sown June 7th received 20 tons barnyard manure per acre early in May. Both plots were pastured steadily from July 7 to September 10 by 12 head of mature dairy cows on heavy production. During August it was necessary to turn the entire herd of 28 milking cows into the plot for two weeks to prevent the Sudan Grass from getting too high.

Both plots were eaten readily, with the plot of oats and Sudan Grass providing more pasture in July. However the plot of Sudan Grass alone, gave a higher yield during August and early September.

Mr. McPhail suggests that dairy-men planning to use Sudan Grass should remember it is a native of the Orient and should not be sown until the soil is well warmed. It also requires a well-prepared seed bed with a fine tilth on top.
