Owing to many misunderstandings regarding dates for salvage collection the committee at its last meeting decided to collect salvage on the day (Monday) previous to each collection of garbage.

The dates for the collection of salvage for the balance of the season will be July 13 and 27, August 10 and 24, September 7 and 21, October 12 and 26, November 9 and December 7.

MAPLE

A delightful little party was held last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay, in which they invited members of the choir of Maple United Church to partake of their splendid hospitality. It marked the year end for the choir. After an hour of regular practice under the leader Mrs. Merritt, a fine programme of music and story was given under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ramsay. This was followed by a delicious repast provided by the hostess, which included strawberry shortcake such as only the Ramsays can make.

During refreshments Mrs. Merritt was presented with tokens of the esteem and love of the choir. Mrs. Merritt has a rare combination of devotion, charm and talent, and the Maple United Church is singularly blessed in having her as leader of the choir. Prizes for the highest attendance at services and practice during the year were given to Norman Lund whose attendance was 100 per cent, and Margaret Ramsay whose attendance was almost equal to his. As a matter of fact, the wonderful attendance of the members of the choir at all of the services and practices is perhaps the best indication of the type of leadership which Mrs. Merritt is giving. High praise was also meted out to Miss Minnie Line, the organist, who is also rendering devoted and accomplished service to the church and choir.

The evening ended with a very hearty vote of thanks to the Ramsay family for their delightful hospitality.

Many a man has found to his sorrow that his zest for easy money resulted in a hard life.

VICTORIA SQUARE

A good number of friends from here attended the Headford anniversary services on Sunday when the "Melodic Quartette" of Toronto brought wonderful messages in song. The Rev. Smart also of Toronto gave a very inspiring address on the "Seven Pillars" of the church, of which he stressed the breaking of the Sabbath as one pillar we in Canada don't want to let fall. This pillar looked as if it had fallen in Victoria Square on Sunday. Rev. McKay spoke of it in his sermon in the afternoon and said he knew inefficient sermons could be one cause for more not attending our services. Come on now don't let the minister be discouraged in his work. We never had a more sincere minister in our pulpit for years than Mr. McKay and it must be disheartening to stand up to preach to only one man in the one side of the church. So next Sunday see that our pillar is strengthened. Rev. Smart said don't leave it to "they or them" for after all "they and them" means you.

Mrs. Ratcliffe had Sunday tea with Mr. and Mrs. Boynton and Vera.

Pupils and friends numbering about 80 met at school section No. 4 to bid farewell to Miss Hazel Bacon, the teacher for the past four years. Many words of appreciation were expressed regarding her work and a lovely gift of china presented, and three little girls in the beginners' class presented a bouquet of roses. There was a short program concluding with refreshments.

Little Nancy Hill is spending a few days with her grandmother Mrs. Evans in Woodbridge.

The J.W.I. will meet on Tuesday evening in the First Aid room when Dr. McKay will speak on communicable diseases. The motto of the evening will be taken by Miss Marion Smith.

The J.F.A. will meet the same evening at 7 o'clock sharp and are visiting the Shur Gain farms at Weston returning to the hall later for a joint meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Huggins are the proud parents of another baby boy.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Constable have a baby girl, a little sister for Kenneth.

Quite a number turned out to the ball game on Saturday night when the junior team was victorious over the former baseball players. By former players we mean Peggy Avison, Myrtle Wellman, Vera Nichols, Thelma (Hart) Hill, Lorne Mortson, Harold Wellman, George Wellman, Ross Middleton, Floyd Perkins. There is another game planned for in about three weeks. After the game a charivari took place at Mr. John Empringham's when their son presented the group with $10. This was not spent but will be announced later to what use it is to be put.

On Thursday night Mr. Garnet Francey treated those at the store (about 20) in place of a charivari on account of his uncle's poor health. It was thought the noise might be too much for him.

We wish both of these couples a long and happy wedded life.

It was different in the old days. When you saw something peculiar looking on a woman's head the chances were it wasn't a hat.
